MOVE TO DEFER THOSE IN OLDER GROUP OF DRAFT

Only Younger Men Wanted by Army.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 12.—President Roosevelt today asked congress for authority to defer the military training of draftees in the older age groups, probably most of those between 25 and 35 years old.

Gen. L. B. Hershey.

Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, deputy director of the selective service system, wrote to House Speaker Sam Rayburn, submitting the draft of a proposed bill to amend the selective training and service act to authorize the deferment of men by age group or groups.

Causes Training Problems.

Congress is expected to act speedily upon the proposal. Much dissatisfaction has been expressed by the army with the present draft system which makes no distinction, so far as age alone is concerned, between the man of 21 and the man of 35. The former is infinitely more valuable as a prospective soldier, and it is proposed to take only those from 21 to 25.

"Our experience discloses," Gen. Hershey wrote Rayburn, "that a comparatively small percentage of men are being inducted from the higher age groups and that many of our problems arise in connection therewith.

"I am informed that men in the younger brackets are best qualified for the training and service contemplated under the act. Also, in view of the provisions for retaining the trainees in the reserves for a period of 10 years, it is desirable that the age of those trained be kept as low as the national interest will permit, so that the reserve forces will be composed of men whose effectiveness will remain at a high level thruout that period."

Let F. D. R. Prescribe Rules.

The proposed bill, Gen. Hershey explained, would permit the President to prescribe rules and regulations for the deferment of men whose age is such that they should be deferred in the national interest.

"Men who are liable for training and service under the act and who are deferred under such rules and regulations," he said, "would be classified into a deferred class that would continue to be liable and available for training and service if circumstances necessitated the termination of the deferment."

The house military affairs committee today reported favorably a bill providing for the nullification, during the fiscal year beginning July 1, of "all provisions of existing law limiting the strength of any branch of the army."

Control Size of Army.

Inasmuch as congressional appropriations committees now have practical control of the size of the army thru holding the purse strings of the government, sponsors of the legislation denied emphatically that the bill indicated early increases in the size of the military forces. They insisted that the legislation was necessary so that the army would not be hampered in its organization work by a limitation on the size of any branch.

Representative Dewey Short [R., Mo.], high ranking minority member of the committee, had a different viewpoint.

This Means Lid Is Off.

"This means that the lid is off," he said. "Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of the staff of the army, once testified before our committee that 600,000 men, adequately equipped, could repel any attempt at invasion.

"We're going to have an army of 1,500,000 men by July and this legislation appears to me to remove any limitation that might exist on a further increase.

"Eventually we are going to have 5 million or 10 million men, it appears, a force large enough to send to foreign shores in a bloody effort to enforce British rule and our own over all the countries of the world."

Mr. Roosevelt Postpones His Heralded Talk

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 12. — The speech of world importance which President Roosevelt was to have made next Wednesday night was postponed today until May 27.

The action was suddenly taken ostensibly because the President, who has been ill of an intestinal disorder, does not feel equal to a personal appearance at the Pan-American reception where he was to have delivered the address.

Faces Divided Nation.

The indications are, however, that the President, facing a seriously divided country on the convoy question, found himself on too hot a spot for public utterance at this time. Some persons in Washington wondered if the President hadn't received advance news of the landing of Rudolf Hess in Scotland and if this hadn't influenced the postponement.

A few hours before the announcement of the postponement White House Secretary Stephen T. Early stated that the President had had normal temperature since Saturday and was "in grand shape." A little while later, however, Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies of Australia, keeping an appointment with the President, found him still in bed.

A "Fireside Chat."

The postponed speech will be made at the White House at an informal reception to the diplomats representing the American republics in Washington. It will take the form of a radio "fireside chat." That it is regarded by the President as a pronouncement that will be of the utmost importance not only to the American people, but the remainder of the world is indicated by the White House announcement that the speech will be broadcast by short wave radio to all countries.

The two weeks' postponement will afford a further period for the clarification of the war situation in Europe, particularly the battle of the Atlantic, and of the attitude of the American people and of congress on the convoy question.

The sudden cancellation, coming on the heels of former President Herbert Hoover's powerful radio speech last night against convoys or other action that might plunge the country into the war, caused much speculation on the possibility that the appearance of Hoover as a leader of the antiwar party was a factor in Mr. Roosevelt's decision to mark time.

The news of the postponement was heard on Capitol Hill with chagrin by the interventionists and satisfaction by the anti-interventionists.

SOLDIER AND MARINE HELD IN CLASH WITH WHITE HOUSE PICKETS

Washington, D. C., May 12 (AP).—A clash between what police said was soldiers and marines off duty and a group picketing the White House occurred tonight.

Police who were called to Pennsylvania avenue in front of the White House brought one soldier and marine back to headquarters and said a picket had been sent to a hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

Placards carried by the pickets identified the demonstration as that of the American Peace Mobilization.

The organization was conducting a "perpetual peace vigil." The marchers carried placards which read, "Save democracy for peace."

Police Lieutenant George Walrodt said seven or eight soldiers and marines tried to break up the picket line. One of the marchers was struck in the face by a belt buckle.

A charge of assault was filed against Private Perry M. Creasy, stationed at Fort Myer, Va., and a marine private was summoned as a witness for a hearing tomorrow.

HITLER TO TAKE OVER HESS' JOB IN NAZI PARTY

New York, May 12 [Special].—The German transocean news service reported in a wireless dispatch recorded here tonight that the official party bureau of Rudolf Hess would be taken over by Reichsfuehrer Hitler personally. A Nazi party communique signed by Herr Hitler said:

"The former official bureau of the deputy fuehrer will be in the future known as the 'chancellory of the party.' The chancellory was taken over by me personally. The chief of this bureau in the future will be, as heretofore, party member and Reichsleiter Martin Bormann."

Lionel Atwill Mentioned at Morals Trial

Los Angeles, Cal., May 12 [Special].—The name of Lionel Atwill, stage and screen actor, was mentioned today in connection with a Hollywood scandal.

Atwill's name was brought out in court during the trial of Virginia Lopez, a 30 year old Cuban dress designer. She is accused of having aided Eddie Larue, a movie colony figure and currently an army draftee at Fort Ord, to seduce her roommate, Sylvia Hamalaine, 16, of Hibbing, Minn., who came to Hollywood with aspirations to be an actress.

Expecting a Baby.

Miss Hamalaine, an expectant mother, was a prosecution witness before Superior Judge Thomas Ambrose. Under questioning by Donald McKay, counsel for Miss Lopez, she said she had been embarrassed no end when seduced by Larue in the presence of Miss Lopez.

"And were you embarrassed when you cavorted in the nude at the home of Lionel Atwill last December in front of six people—three of whom you never had seen before?" asked McKay.

District Attorney Silas E. Roll objected.

"The Atwill party is now before the grand jury," he said, "and should not be dragged into this case."

Judge Ambrose sustained the objection.

Eye on Reporters.

"I am not saying this evidence is not material," said the judge, "but I am saying that it is not wise to admit it in the broad sense of justice. You see, these newspaper people here are taking this down."

Larue pleaded guilty last Friday to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. His probation hearing was taken off the calendar today pending completion of his service in the army.

Under further questioning by McKay today, Miss Hamalaine admitted she had been intimate with at least four men and is uncertain who is the father of her unborn child. The Lopez trial will be continued tomorrow.

NO. 3 NAZI QUITS GERMANY, DEFYING HITLER; LANDS BY CHUTE; HURTS ANKLE

Advance 4 Theories for Strange Flight; Hint Desertion.

Washington, D. C., May 12 [Special].—The epic mystery of Rudolf Hess' airplane flight to Great Britain fascinated all Washington tonight, and evoked a number of theories—some bizarre—from individuals who had known him in Germany. The principal theories are:

1. Hess fled in fear of his life at the hands of the Gestapo, German secret police, headed by Heinrich Himmler.

2. He fled because of certain ideological differences with Adolf Hitler. Hess, according to one source, belonged to a conservative German element which opposed the Germanizing of lands which are not German.

3. He may have deliberately deserted to the British, perhaps to help them in their struggle against his homeland.

4. His flight may be an historic ruse to confuse England, giving the impression of discord in high Nazi ranks, and thus causing England to relax her war efforts.

Believe He Has Clear Mind.

Whatever the motive, Hitler's No. 2 heir apparently acted with a clear mind, according to those here who knew him, and one of whom saw him less than three months ago. Hess definitely was not and is not now insane unless a high Nazi who disagrees with his Feuhrer is insane, they said.

Neither the British nor the German embassies would comment on the Hess sensation, but it was obvious that the British embassy looked upon it as a major psychological victory of the war.

The theory that the German feared for his own safety appealed most to unofficial Washington. For years he had been one of Hitler's stalwart pillars. He fought at Hitler's side during the rise of Naziism, and he accompanied Hitler on every tour and campaign.

"Hess would stand near Hitler, somewhat in front, and fasten his levantine eyes—brown and gray eyes, big and mystical—upon Hitler as tho directing him," recalled an American recently returned from Berlin.

Hess Suffers Decline.

Thru those early years Hess was Hitler's alter ego, but from 1934 on he suffered what Germans in the know considered a normal decline. With Hitler growing bigger and the Nazi party more massive, additional leaders were required. This did not mean, however, that Hess lost personal favor with his chief, but merely that he had to content himself with being just one of the upper marshals of the reich.

In 1934 a more or less new figure—Ernest Wilhelm Bohle, who is now 38 years old—appeared on the political scene. He was appointed a director in the foreign office "to organize a uniform service to take care of Germans abroad."

This especial task, in a general way, had belonged to Hess. As deputy party leader—and since the war the actual political party leader—he had watched over the organization of Ger-

FRENCH VICE PREMIER CONFERS WITH HITLER AND VON RIBBENTROP

BERLIN, May 13, Tuesday (AP).—Adolf Hitler has received the French vice premier, Admiral Jean Darlan, in the presence of Germany's foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, it was officially announced today. A communique that announced the meeting did not say where or when it took place.

[French sources said Chief of State Petain was reported to have fully approved a deal Darlan was making with the Germans for the integration of Europe. Observers declared an announcement of French concessions was likely. The Germans want permission for troops to cross unoccupied France, Mediterranean naval bases, and leeway in French North Africa.]

SCOT PLOWMAN WITH PITCHFORK FINDS 'INVADER'

GLASGOW, Scotland, May 13, Tuesday (AP).—A Scottish plowman told today how he armed himself with a pitchfork to challenge a German parachuting to earth on his farm but that the 'chutist—Rudolf Hess—offered no resistance and was in good humor. He gossiped for an hour before the authorities took him away.

Totally unaware of the political stature of his visitor, David McLean found Hess lying in the field, his ankle broken, and assisted him to his cottage. Two British soldiers who turned up on routine duty, thinking they had caught an ordinary German airman, chaffed Hess about his bad luck in bailing out.

Plane Burst Into Flames.

This was McLean's story:

"I was in the house and every one else was in bed and I heard a plane roaring overhead. I ran out to the back of the farm. I heard a crash and saw the plane burst into flames about 200 yards away.

"I was amazed and a bit frightened when I saw the parachute coming slowly downward. I could see a man swinging from the harness. I concluded it was a German airman bailing out and ran back to my house for help. They were all asleep. I looked around for a weapon but found nothing except a hay fork.

"Fearing I might lose the airman I hurried 'round by myself again back of the house and in the field I saw a man lying down with his parachute nearby.

Declines Cup of Tea.

"He smiled and I helped him to his feet. He thanked me but I could see he'd injured his foot some way. I helped him into the house. By this time my mother and sister were out of bed and made tea. He declined the tea and smiled when we told him we were very fond of it. He asked for a glass of water.

"We sent word to the authorities and in the meantime he chatted freely to us and showed us pictures of his little boy, of whom he spoke very proudly.

"He told us he had left Germany about four hours before and had landed because nightfall was approaching. I could see from the way he spoke that he was a man of culture. His English, altho it had a foreign accent, was very clear and he understood every word we said to him.

Refuses to Discuss Journey.

"He was a very striking looking man wearing a magnificent flying suit. His watch and identity bracelet were of gold.

"He wouldn't discuss his journey. He was most gentlemanly in his attitude to my mother and sister and thanked us for what we had done for him. He was most anxious about the parachute, which he said he'd like to keep because it saved his life. He wouldn't tell us who he was, and we thought he was just another German airman.

"When the officials came he greeted them with a smile and assured them he was unarmed and stood up and allowed them to search him. Then he was taken away."

Later McLean was shown a picture of Hess and said: "That's the man. We have no doubt about it."

Intended to Land Plane.

LONDON, May 13, Tuesday (AP).—The Daily Express today quoted Rudolf Hess as saying after landing in Scotland: "I had intended landing the plane but I could not find a suitable landing ground so I stalled the machine over the open country and jumped out."

DETROIT MAYOR DEFENDS TAX ON BRITISH ORDERS

Detroit, Mich., May 12 (AP).—Mayor Edward J. Jeffries defended today a city assessment of $5,522,540 against British war materials being manufactured here, declaring that "King George is no different from anybody else as far as paying personal property taxes in Detroit."

The mayor's statement followed a request from Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner that the Detroit board of assessors exempt the British purchasing commission from taxation on its machinery, equipment, and buildings.

Berlin Says Leader Is a Victim of Hallucinations.

LONDON, May 13, Tuesday (AP).—Rudolf Hess, No. 3 Nazi and one of the oldest and closest confidantes of Adolf Hitler, has landed by parachute in Scotland under circumstances suggesting the most profoundly important desertion in all history.

The British government announced from the home of Prime Minister Winston Churchill at No. 10 Downing street that Hitler's deputy leader was in a Glasgow hospital under treatment for a broken ankle suffered in floating down from a German Messerschmitt fighter plane near there.

Carries Own Photos.

While the British statement did not specifically say that he had deserted, it made three observations of seeming inescapable significance:

1. That Hess had brought along photographs taken at various years in his life to establish his identity if it were questioned.

2. That he had arrived in a plane which could not possibly have had enough gasoline for a return to Germany—and thus, inferentially, that his trip was clearly not a one man offensive but a one-way flight.

3. That the Messerschmitt's guns were empty.

[Moreover, the British radio in a broadcast heard in the United States referred to Hess as "the only idealist" in the German high command.]

An Amazing Flight.

This most extraordinary flight of this or any other war was disclosed in London a few hours after the Germans in Berlin had announced that Hess—Hitler's political heir but once removed—was missing; that he presumably had taken a forbidden plane flight and had cracked up; that he appeared to have been suffering "hallucinations," and had "left behind a confused letter."

The implication was that he was mentally unbalanced and had been deranged for some time; for it was stated that Hitler personally had directed that he not be permitted to use any plane.

[Early today German informants in Berlin insisted that they knew nothing beyond the reich's original announcement of Hess' disappearance.]

Possesses War Secrets.

Hess from the beginning of National Socialism had stood at Hitler's right hand and in the reich's councils of wars he had held an inner place—the possessor of the deepest of military secrets and one of the most influential of all Nazis.

At the war's outset Hitler publicly gave him an extraordinary accolade by announcing that should he himself fall, Reichsmarshal Herman Wilhelm Goering should be considered the new Fuehrer and the dour and earnest Hess Goering's heir apparent.

The story of Hess' strange and lonesome flight to Scotland, as told in the government's announcement, showed that he first crossed the Scottish coast on last Saturday night (and that was the date given by the Germans for his disappearance).

He flew on in the direction of Glasgow and later—just when was not disclosed—his Messerschmitt crashed. He bailed out. Taken to the Glasgow hospital, he first identified himself as "Horn," but later gave his correct name.

His photographs were examined, the government said, "by several people who knew him personally." All these agreed that they were in fact pictures of Hess. To check still further, an official of the British foreign office "closely acquainted with him before the war" was sent by plane to Glasgow to see the patient.

The announcement made the identification positive by referring to him as "Rudolf Hess, the deputy Fuehrer of Germany and party leader of the National Socialist party."

Subsequently, the ministry of information declared that he had been identified as Hess beyond "all possible doubt."

ORDERS ARREST OF AIDS

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 13, Tuesday.—Rudolf Hess, deputy leader of the Nazi party and Adolf Hitler's second choice as his political heir, today was reported missing. The Nazi party asserted that he presumably was lost on an airplane flight. He is presumed to have met his death in an airplane crash, the Nazi party announced.

The Nazi party simply announced that "Party Member Hess" left the air field at Augsburg, Bavaria, last Saturday at 6 p. m. at the controls of his own plane and had failed to return. There was no report that the wreckage of Hess' plane had been found.

Victim of "Hallucinations."

A letter left behind by the reichsminister before he took off on his flight disclosed that Hess was a "victim of hallucinations" and had displayed "traces of mental disorder."

Hitler was reported to have ordered the arrest of Hess' adjutants who permitted the flight.

A communique pointed out that Hitler had expressly forbidden his deputy to continue flying because of an illness said to have been steadily growing more serious year by year. In spite of this command from his leader and old party friend, Hess secretly obtained possession of a plane and flew it without permission.

After Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Hess was Hitler's choice for succession to reichsfuehrer in the event of Hitler's death.

Nazi Party's Announcement.

Here is the Nazi party's announcement of Hess' misfortune:

"Party Comrade Hess, who because of his failing health for years has been strictly forbidden by the Fuehrer to be active in aviation, was able, contrary to these instructions, to acquire an airplane again recently.

"On Saturday, May 10, at about 6 p. m., Party Member Hess started on a flight at Augsburg from which he has not returned to this day.

Letter Is Cited.

"A letter left behind unfortunately shows in its confusion the traces of mental disorder which led to fears that Party Fellow Member Hess was a victim of hallucinations.

"The Fuehrer immediately ordered the arrest of adjutants of Party Comrade Hess who alone knew about those flights and did not hinder them, and did not report them in spite of instructions known to them to have been given by the Fuehrer.

"Under those circumstances the National Socialistic movement unfortunately must assume that the party fellow member has crashed somewhere on his flight or had another accident."

BRITISH SEE HESS FLIGHT AS PROOF OF NAZI SPLIT

Many Theories Offered by Press, Radio.

LONDON, May 13, Tuesday (AP).—The amazing parachute arrival in Scotland of Rudolf Hess "reveals a split of serious dimensions among Nazi bosses," the London Daily Express said editorially today.

"Propaganda Minister Goebbels may shriek that Hess has delusions," the newspaper said, "he may try to suggest that Hess is insane. But this is not like a madman—it is like a resolute man who was prepared to face any hazard, even the royal air force, to reach this country."

The British press played the astounding flight of Hess from Germany as one of the biggest stories of the war, and all newspapers stressed Hess' high position in the Nazi hierarchy as nominal head of the National Socialist party and Hitler's close confidante.

Hint Clash in Hierarchy.

The Daily Express' six column headline said:

"Deputy Fuhrer Gives Himself Up."

The austere London Times used its largest two column head, reserved traditionally for the most important news, to announce:

"Hitler's Deputy Escapes to Britain."

The Daily Sketch asked:

"Has there been some bitter quarrel between him [Hess] and Hitler? Are Nazi leaders falling out and did Hess have to fly for his life? A mystery there undoubtedly is, and perhaps some first class scandal in the Nazi hierarchy."

In Berlin every German newspaper printed an official Nazi statement that Hess had disappeared, ignoring the London report of his arrival in Scotland.

Every headline read:

"Hess Has Met with Accident."

British Broadcast Theories.

New York, May 12 (AP).—The British official wireless, in a broadcast tonight in French, declared the flight of Rudolf Hess, No. 3 Nazi, indicates "something is very much amiss in the Nazi party."

The radio's comment on Hess' "escape" from Germany to Scotland, as heard here, follows:

"There is a very good clew to his [Hess'] motives in the German statement that a letter which he left showed him to be suffering from mental confusion and hallucinations. The German government would inevitably try to brand as a madman one of their members who fled to the enemy's country and try to discredit in advance a man who would be such a danger to them.

Broken line indicates distance of direct route from Augsburg, Germany, to point at which Hess landed in Scotland. The solid line indicates probable route.

Flight Upsets "a Lie."

"But the Germans made a big mistake in alleging that Hess was suffering from a long standing disease which made him incapable of flying a plane safely. The fact that Hess flew from Germany to Scotland in a fighter plane proves this to be a lie.

Hess in Britain is in the one place in Europe where the Gestapo [German secret police] cannot shut his mouth. What made him risk his life in that hazardous flight rather than remain with his party comrades, enjoying the fruits of their victories, is not known yet.

"But the fact that he fled from Germany to England is both a demonstration of faith that Great Britain is a safe refuge which the Gestapo cannot violate and an indication that something is very much amiss in the Nazi party."

HEAR NAZI U-BOAT LANDED GERMANS ON MEXICO COAST

MEXICO CITY, May 12 (AP).—Unconfirmed reports circulated in informed quarters here tonight that a large German submarine three weeks ago landed several passengers, presumably Nazi agents, in Mexico and left after loading a cargo of antimony concentrates. According to the unconfirmed reports the submarine appeared about April 21 in the desolate 50 mile stretch between Vera Cruz and Alvarado, on the gulf of Mexico.

MYSTERY FLIGHT BY HESS EVOKES A FEW THEORIES

man nationals living abroad. It was his job to discover the reaction of those nationals. This also became young Bohle's job, and eventually friction developed between the elder statesman, Hess, and the newcomer, Bohle.

A Fight for Power.

The fight between the two was one to determine which was to have the most power and which was to see Hitler more often.

The issue between the two was never clearly settled, altho it may have been significant that Bohle eventually was made a secretary of state for Germans abroad. The actual importance of the incident, observers said, is that it probably opened the way for other ambitious Nazis to try to enter the inner Hitlerian circles at the expense of Hess.

After Bohle came Himmler, the secret police chief who controls occupied countries almost as ruthlessly as Hitler's armed legions. Hitler's deputy feared Himmler, confidential sources here declared.

Himmler Supplants Hess.

In relation to Hess, Himmler was depicted as ambitious enough to go to any extreme to achieve his purpose. The same sources asserted that Himmler had been drawing closer and closer to Hitler, and "gradually supplanting Hess."

"Hess may have felt that his life was in danger from Himmler's men, and that, more than any other reason, may have prompted his flight to Scotland," asserted one informant.

Opinions also were expressed that Hitler's "heir" fled over ideological differences with his chief. He was considered by some as a conservative with definite feelings—in spite of bristling talks—that the place for Germans is Germany and nowhere else. That attitude alone, if true, could have cost him party enmity, and danger to life itself.

"Hess had the courage to speak his mind, even to Hitler," said a Washington resident who knew him in the early years. "He would not have hesitated to criticize Hitler, altho he would have done so diplomatically."

Few Believe He Deserted.

A few individuals—but only a few—said that perhaps he deserted deliberately to the British, determined to aid them. They admitted his party and country love might preclude such action. Nevertheless, they said, the possibility should not be entirely discountenanced.

That Hess may have been sent upon an epochal ruse to lull the British into a false belief of a breakup in high Nazi ranks is not discounted in view of the known Nazi practice of resorting to almost unbelievable methods to deceive their enemies.

He had not been frequently in the limelight in recent years. He had been absent from affairs for months at a time, and the explanation always was that he was ill. But his illnesses were "political illnesses," that is to say, political explanations for his absences. Recently it was announced he was near death from cancer, but two days later he delivered a stirring address.

He made his last public address May 1 to workers in a Messerschmitt factory in Augsburg from where he took off his forbidden airplane flight.

He bestowed Hitler's designation of "pioneer workers" on several industrial leaders including Dr. Willy Messerschmitt, designer of the German fighting plane, whom Hess described as "the manufacturer of the best pursuit and destroyer planes on earth."

A SKETCH OF HESS.

Walter Richard Rudolf Hess was born in Alexandria, Egypt, April 26, 1894, son of a German importer. He studied in Switzerland and Germany, specializing in economics. When the world war began he enlisted as a volunteer in the Bavarian field infantry.

He was wounded three times, once in the lungs, and it was on a French battlefield that he first met Adolf Hitler, then a corporal. After the war he attached himself to Hitler as his aid and trusted friend. Hess and Hitler fled the country together after the failure of the Munich beer cellar putsch in 1923, but were caught. Each spent some months in cells in Landsberg fortress.

Hess was an early member of the Nazi party, and was one of the first storm troopers. In 1925 he became Hitler's private secretary, and later his adjutant. After Hitler's rise to power, Hess became one of his most efficient agents, whether in carrying out the persecution of Jews, representing the Fuehrer at meetings he was unable to attend, or making speeches in accordance with Nazi policy.

Hess was firm in putting down protests against Nazi policy, once declaring that any one insulting a storm trooper would be punished.

"I am determined," he said, "to enforce friendliness with an iron hand."

Hess was with Hitler in the Munich beer hall in 1939 when a time bomb apparently intended for Hitler went off after he and other important leaders had left.

Paid Tribute to Hitler.

Hess uttered some of the greatest tributes every paid the Fuehrer. On one occasion he termed Hitler "an agent of the Almighty." Again, telling a youth meeting that persons who really are young remain so in their older years, he added: "The best example is that of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, who is mentally one of the youngest."

Hess once warned the world "not to consider Germany's love of peace as a weakness," not long after telling the German people that "guns are more important than butter." On another occasion he caused some chuckling abroad by referring to Benjamin Franklin as "one of America's greatest Presidents."

During the Polish campaign Hess announced that the Nazi party would insure the welfare of children born out of wedlock, especially at a time when "every new life is of extraordinary importance to the nation."

Hess neither smoked nor drank. His personal appearance bore out the belief that there was a strain of Egyptian in his blood. His hair was raven black, he had heavy eyebrows, and piercing eyes. He was married in Munich in July, 1927, to Ilse, daughter of Dr. Fritz Proehl, of the army medical corps. The couple have one son, born Armistice day, 1937.

What 15,000 cycles mean when you listen to music by Tchaikovsky!

E. H. SCOTT

The oboe, the 'cello, the flute enrich and enliven the pattern of music . . . yet all too often their tones and overtones are strained out by ordinary radios. These tones, measured by science, range to 15,000 cycles . . . but many ordinary radios reach their limit of reproduction at only 4,000 cycles.

Thus, if you listen to Tchaikovsky, on radio or records, you may hear only half of what the composer wrote—and the reduction will all be in the upper ranges which provide the brilliance and sweep of fine music.

For 18 years we have been building instruments that go far beyond the average commercial radios in fidelity and reproductive range. I have been pleased and honored to have Toscanini, John Barbirolli, Frederick Stock, Eugene Ormandy, Deems Taylor and many, many other great musicians choose Scotts for their enjoyment. If you listen to your favorite music on a Scott, I think you will be thrilled by the "living performance" of each instrument in the orchestra, hearing perhaps for the first time full tones and overtones.

Every Scott is built on a custom basis, sold only by our own organization (never in stores). It is so well engineered that we guarantee it for 5 YEARS. Our studio is conveniently near . . . or send the coupon for the most revealing facts on radio today.

All that you ever hoped for in a radio is in a Scott:

The tone of the Scott is unparalleled in radio—it is the pride of men whose very life is music. The automatic record changer is incredibly deft and silent, a marvel of mechanical ingenuity. For foreign news broadcasts, the Scott has received international recognition, is the choice of ambassadors and scientists. And Frequency Modulation, in a Scott, is brought to a high point of perfection.

ASKS HOUSE QUIZ ON LOBBYING BY THOS. CORCORAN

Assails Ickes Deal with Oil Wildcatter.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 12.—A full investigation of Thomas G. [Tommy the Cork] Corcoran's lobbying activities in Washington was demanded on the floor of the house today by Representative Robert F. Jones [R., O.].

Thomas G. Corcoran.

The Democratic majority of the house appropriations committee voted nine days ago to suppress testimony concerning the lawyer lobbying movements of Corcoran, former No. 1 New Deal brain truster. It was learned that Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes had undertaken to assist Corcoran in the matter of an Alaska oil lease scheme. Ickes was questioned by Jones and his statements were also withheld from the public.

Spends Million Without Oil.

The principal in the deal was R. E. Havenstrite, a wildcat oil driller on the public domain in Alaska. He and Corcoran worked out a plan which called for a commitment by the navy department to purchase and store such oil as might be produced by the wildcatter. Havenstrite already had sunk a hole 8,700 feet deep and almost a million dollars in it, without finding any oil. He wanted more funds from the navy to continue operations.

Jones quoted Ickes' answers to his questions at length to show that they were evasive and "more startling for the things that are not said than by what appears in the record." He called for a full and complete statement by Ickes regarding the case.

"The secretary of the interior owes responsibility to be frank, informative, and enlightening to any member of congress addressing inquiries to him," he told the house while Democratic leaders sat silent. "He should not be ducking, dodging, and hedging every inquiry. He is a public officer whose every public act is the subject of inquiry of a free people.

Calls Ickes Autocrat.

"My questions were asked to stop government defense funds from being used to finance a wildcat private oil operator in the Alaskan public domain.

"Have we drifted so far away from the American way of life that a high executive in our government can presume to criticize the kind of questions asked about his handling of the leasing of public domain? Is Secretary Ickes an autocrat whose conduct, whose part in Corcoran's play to get defense funds for his client are above the questioning of a congressman?

"How much money did Corcoran want? Congress is not enlightened upon that point, but I assume since the previous operation cost a million dollars, Corcoran wanted at least another million plus his fees. What a price for my country to pay for Corcoran's influence!

"The Ickes letter to the secretary of the navy and testimony would indicate that the navy contemplated furnishing the money. The navy department is not a lend-spend agency. If the money were to come from them, the money would have to come from defense funds, and I think it would be misapplied, because wildcat oil financing is not defense. The secretary of the navy apparently did not fall for the Corcoran plan.

Wants to Know Backers.

"Now, let us see what we ought to know further about this wildcat oil scheme.

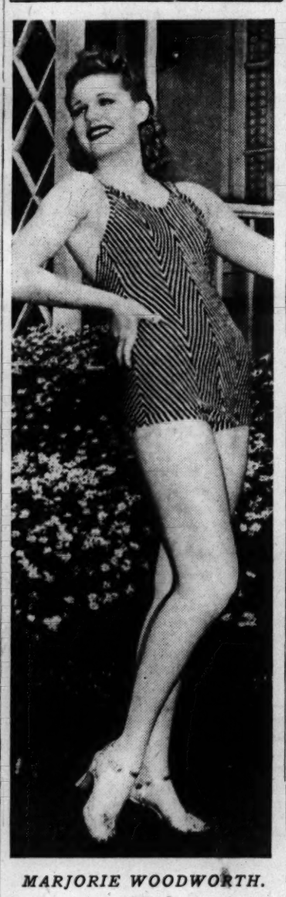
"Who are the stockholders and investors in the company? That would be enlightening to know. I understand that Havenstrite has investors among the moving picture stars. An investigation might show if some of the stockholders suggested employing Corcoran.

"It would be interesting to know why Havenstrite could not get an ear for his problem for days. He was in Washington for days trying to get some one to listen to him. Then he hired "Tommy the Cork." Within a few hours he was talking to the secretary of the interior about getting money for his company to drill another well. His company is probably in bad financial shape after sinking a million dollars in a dry hole.

"An investigation would show how much Corcoran's fee would be. The news articles say Corcoran brags of making millions. Are we going to get a penny's worth of defense for every penny spent, or is Tommy Corcoran going to dissipate it?

"Let us investigate this matter and see how much money we are losing on this all-out defense effort."

Gets Harvard Bid



MARJORIE WOODWORTH.

Cambridge, Mass., May 12 (AP).—The Harvard Lampoon, famous as a breaker of Hollywood pedestals, today broke one of its own precedents over a movie queen. Lampoon President Coles Phinizy of Ventnor, N. J., wired an invitation to a Thursday night dance to Marjorie Woodworth "because we feel you are the most promising beauty in Hollywood."

HALIFAX PONDERS ON REASONS FOR HESS PLANE HOP

Kansas City, Mo., May 12 (AP).—Lord Halifax, the British ambassador, told an audience tonight that "perhaps Herr Hess acted as he did because he saw the writing on the wall."

The ambassador brought chuckles from his listeners several times as he deviated from his prepared address to comment on the impromptu parachute landing of Rudolf Hess in Scotland.

"Herr Hess has landed in Scotland by parachute from a German Messerschmitt and tonight is safe in a Glasgow hospital," he said. "Here is an important man, by Hitler's own choice the No. 2 man after Goering to succeed him as Fuehrer. None of us know why.

"Perhaps it was because of madness before he left Germany. If so he is not the only one so in Germany. Perhaps Herr Hess acted as he did because he saw the handwriting on the wall."

FLY TELLS WHY FCC TIGHTENED RULES ON RADIO

Control by Few Deemed Unhealthy, He Says.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., May 12.—James Lawrence Fly, chairman of the Federal Communications commission, explained today why the FCC ordered the stringent new rules with regard to network broadcasting in its recent monopoly report, including an order that the National Broadcasting company divest itself of its blue network.

Fly, who arrived here late today to address the convention of the National Association of Broadcasters tomorrow on radio's rôle in the nation's preparedness program, said in an exclusive interview with THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE that the commission regarded it as unhealthy and undemocratic to have communication facilities in the control of too few channels.

Mentions Two in Control.

The FCC, said Fly, was motivated in part by the fact that two men control 86 per cent of the night time radio power and wattage. Under questioning he admitted he had reference to David Sarnoff, chief of Radio Corporation of America and NBC, and William S. Paley, president of the Columbia Broadcasting system.

This tight control of radio, Fly asserted, raises the question of whether democracy can rest securely on such a foundation.

"Our mechanisms for dissemination of information, speech, and opinion should not be under the control of two or three very powerful men," he said.

Fly asserted that control of radio should be distributed among the various members of the broadcasting industry.

"It's an extraordinarily capable group, as a whole," he said, "and extremely sensitive to its obligations to the public."

Determined to Enforce Rules.

Fly declared that the commission, despite protests, is determined to enforce the provisions of the monopoly report. He characterized as "pure moonshine" the assertions made by representatives of the older networks that enforcement of the order will disrupt the free American system of broadcasting.

"I think," he said, "that their [the networks'] considered judgment will be to fall in line with the rules and coöperate.

"The effect of the new orders, I think, will be to return broadcasting to a state of healthy competition, giving broadcasters the freedom and responsibility they had when they started out and providing still better programs. It opens a possibility that a new network may arise."

Ready to Grant Extension.

Fly said the commission would honor any requests for extension of time to carry out the orders.

"We wouldn't want any hardship whatsoever because of manner of procedure," he said.

Fly said that while no date has been set for the FCC hearings in regard to the relation between newspapers and frequency modulation stations in all probability it will be set for some time in June.

The FCC chairman said he was happy to see the progress made toward bringing music of the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers [ASCAP] back to the air. He referred to the agreement between the Mutual Broadcasting system and ASCAP which will return ASCAP music to the Mutual network, including station W-G-N, starting tomorrow evening.

Earlier in the day the Mutual-ASCAP settlement was attacked by Neville Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Miller, whom Mutual leaders recently accused of misrepresenting the network, asserted in a statement that the ASCAP terms are not satisfactory to the "preponderant elements in the broadcasting industry." He added that the NAB does not agree with the statement of the Mutual stockholders that "the music war is over."

The Mutual agreement with ASCAP, was ratified yesterday by a majority of affiliated stations. All the more than 1,250,000 ASCAP compositions, off the air since Jan. 1 on the networks, will now be available for the Mutual network.

Terms Called Unacceptable.

The terms provide for a payment of 3 per cent of net receipts of broadcasters for the first four years of the agreement for the use of ASCAP music and 3½ per cent from then until Jan. 1, 1950.

Meanwhile executives of the National Broadcasting company and the Columbia Broadcasting System, which Mutual officials assert dominate the actions of the NAB and its officials, stated flatly that they would not accede to the present ASCAP terms.

ASCAP officials were just as firm in stating that the terms as accepted by Mutual are rock bottom and that no further reductions will be made to any one.

At the same time Broadcast Music, Inc., set up by the NAB to provide new sources of music, announced that the Mutual-ASCAP agreement would not affect its future plans. It was learned, however, that on Wednesday BMI will announce substantial reduction in costs of its music to radio stations in the future.

Raises Compliance Question.

Miller asserted that many of Mutual's affiliates are not satisfied with the ASCAP terms. He also said that ASCAP has yet to offer a licensing agreement which complies with terms of the consent decree which it signed in the action brought against it by the government which becomes operative June 1.

With regard to the attitude of Mutual affiliates, Fred Weber, general manager of Mutual, replied that additional affiliates had ratified the agreement today. One hundred now have approved it; 46 [the same number as yesterday] oppose it.

ROOSEVELT THANKS MUTUAL HEADS FOR BACKING FCC REPORT

Washington, D. C., May 12 [Special].—Thru his press secretary, Stephen Early, President Roosevelt today thanked executives of the Mutual Broadcasting system for their message of last week in which they commended the monopoly report of the Federal Communications commission. The commendatory letter was signed by Alfred J. McCosker, chairman of the board, and W. D. Macfarlane, president, and head of W-G-N. Mr. Roosevelt's message was addressed to McCosker.

Alfred J. McCosker. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

"The President, who has been slightly indisposed for the past 10 days," Early wrote, "has asked me to thank you and Mr. Macfarlane in his name for the fine telegram of May 7. The President feels when two executives with such important interests at stake can view a situation with such detachment there is every prospect of finding a just and equitable solution. He wants you and Mr. Macfarlane to know that he greatly appreciates the conciliatory spirit which prompted your message."

The FCC report was criticized by the National Broadcasting company and the Columbia Broadcasting system, both of which had been assailed by the FCC. The report also ordered NBC to divest itself of its Blue network.

ARMY AID PROPOSES PRIORITIES SYSTEM IN RADIO PROGRAMS

St. Louis, Mo., May 12 (AP).—A system of priorities for radio programs the same as for industry was recommended today by Ed Kirby, director of the radio division of the army.

"There is immediate need of a central clearance agency so that program priorities may be established," said Kirby, National Association of Broadcasters official who was released on a dollar-a-year basis to the army. He said this is necessary to assure that prime time is made available for prime purposes and that the "right time is not given to the wrong person or group."

Kirby's remarks were in a report to the NAB convention. He defined radio's mission as twofold: To keep the nation informed and to "inspire a loyalty of country and a pride in the army and navy."

KNOX ANNOUNCES WE HAVE DECIDED ON USING FORCE

Washington, D. C., May 12 (AP).—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox asserted tonight that "All America is waiting for is the word to go forward—we've made our choice."

America's choice, the navy secretary told the American Society of Military Engineers, is "to oppose the aggressor with enough force either to scare him off or defeat him."

Knox declared the nation had only three courses—to face an aggressor with force, to become isolated from the rest of the world, or to surrender. He added: "We've got to make a choice now, and every redblooded man and woman in this audience will agree with me—we won't surrender. And it is just as unlikely for us to choose the second. We are reduced to the first choice."

N. Y. HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER IS FIRED IN RED INQUIRY

New York, May 12 [Special].—The board of higher education today ousted David Goldway as an English teacher at Townsend Harris High school for refusing to sign a waiver of immunity when called before the state legislative committee which has been uncovering evidence of subversive activities in the New York school system.

The board acted under a section of the city charter which provides automatic dismissal for city employés who refuse to sign waivers of immunity. Goldway contended he was not a city employé, and therefore, not required to sign a waiver of immunity.

IRAQ MINISTER QUITS VICHY ON A MYSTERY TRIP

He May Go to Berlin to Confer on Oil.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, May 12.—The Iraq minister to Vichy left here today by auto, driving in the direction of Paris. The reason for his departure was not announced, but presumably he was going to Paris or farther away [Berlin?] for closer contacts on the subject of Iraq oil.

[A dispatch from Istanbul, Turkey, yesterday said "foreign circles declared Germany was backing Iraq's fight against the British but said Nazi reenforcements probably would not be sent unless the Arabic world rose up." Another dispatch from Berlin said "the foreign office was watching with 'attention and growing interest' developments in the British-Iraq conflict, especially the talk of Russian-Iraq diplomatic relations." The Iraq government, which is now fighting the British, was recognized by Russia, according to a Moscow announcement yesterday.]

Report Fighting Quiets Down.

CAIRO, Egypt, May 12.—The British today announced that the situation in Iraq has "quieted down." Following the capture of Rutba, station on the Iraq oil line, action at British held Habbaniyah airdrome, 60 miles west of Bagdad and at Basra, on the Persian gulf, was said to have been slackened for several days.

Report Fort Holds Out.

BEIRUT, Lebanon [Syria], May 12 (AP).—An Iraq communique today declared the fort at Rutba still was holding out and that there was increased activity near Basra, to the south, where Iraq units were reported harassing British troops.

Occupy Melos Island.

BERLIN, May 12 (AP).—German troops have occupied Melos Island, in the Cyclades group 75 miles north of Crete, authorized German sources announced today.

Melos is the 12th of Greece's Cyclades Islands which Germany and Italy have announced occupied thus far. The seizure of Melos, the Germans said, "completely surprised" 118 Englishmen and 200 Cretans who were found there and taken prisoner.

300 British Officers Seized.

CORINTH, Greece [By Courier to Berlin], May 6 [Delayed] (AP).—An Australian general, 300 British officers, and 9,560 troops from England, Australia, New Zealand, and India are held prisoner here along with four Serbian generals, 320 officers, and 743 soldiers. They are awaiting the roundup of other remnants of British troops on the Peloponnesus before being transported to Germany.

They corroborated an impression gained from traveling here over the route of British retreat—that a lack of RAF planes was the big factor in the British-Greek defeat.

Among the distinguished prisoners was Australian Brig. Gen. Parrington. Another captive was G. P. Farsoun of Haifa, leader of a Palestine contingent of 1,000 Jews and 550 Arabs.

From the officers as well as the soldiers, the impression was gained that the British expeditionary force in Greece realized it was matched against long odds, with the Germans outnumbering them and supported by the air force and panzer [armored] and artillery units.

They fought gallantly, however, it was agreed by the Germans who opposed them.

Weds in Mexico

ALICE FAYE.

San Diego, Cal., May 12 (AP).—Phil Harris, orchestra leader, and Alice Faye, film star, were married this morning in Ensenada, Mex., they disclosed on arriving here tonight. Harris and Miss Faye announced their engagement May 5, her 26th birthday.

BRITISH LAUNCH OFFENSIVES AT TOBRUK, SOLLUM

Battle Axis Motor Units in 120 Degree Heat.

CAIRO, Egypt, May 12 (AP).—British desert troops have taken the offensive against axis forces in the 120 degree heat of the Tobruk and Sollum areas, the middle east command said tonight.

Altho the action at Tobruk, Libyan port where the British are besieged, and at Sollum, 80 miles to the east and just within Egypt, was described as local in character, British mechanized units made many attacks, inflicting casualties and incapacitating numerous axis tanks.

British bombers started three large fires in Bengazi harbor, the axis port and base west of Tobruk, set four planes afire at Benina airdrome and damaged airport buildings at Berka, in attacks yesterday.

Fleet Attacks Bengazi.

The air attack on Beganzi followed up an attack by powerful British fleet units Saturday night. The warships bombarded Bengazi at point blank range and damage to shipping and military objectives was claimed. Fire from shore batteries and attacks by enemy dive bombers were declared ineffective and the fleet suffered no damage or casualties.

[A Rome communique claimed the shore batteries and dive bombers routed the attackers. Italian and German reports said three British destroyers and two cruisers were hit by bombs, making a total of nine British vessels claimed damaged in a series of encounters since last Thursday.]

Close on 38,000 Italians.

Two British columns were reported closing in on the last isolated army of 38,000 Italians in northern Ethiopia. The surrender of the forces clinging to the 9,000 feet high fortress of Amba Alaji is considered inevitable.

Imperial troops were reported to have occupied the nearby stronghold of Gumsa. Four big guns and quantities of war materials were seized by Indian troops.

Hungarian Theaters Bar Movies Made by British

BUDAPEST, Hungary, May 12.—British films have been banned from Hungarian theaters, beginning today. No action was taken against United States films.

French in Danger

(Story in adjoining column.)

Tunisia, declared to be in great danger as part of the French empire, has long been desired by Italy, along with Nice and Corsica.

ETHIOPIA TO TAKE UP OWN DEFENSE, ROOSEVELT TOLD

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, May 8—[Delayed] (AP).—Haile Selassie declared today he intended to release British forces from their task of reconquering Ethiopia from Italy and aid them in their defense elsewhere against "cruel attacks."

In a message to President Roosevelt and the people of the United States on the occasion of his return to his capital, he declared "it was fitting that the first victim of axis greed should be the first to be delivered."

Since "the unprovoked aggression of 1935 proved to be the forerunner of all later aggressions," he said, he prayed that "its atonement" may prove to be the beginning of disaster for all aggressors.

British Send Troops to Quell Malayan Strike Disorders

SINGAPORE, May 12 (AP).—The government radio announced tonight that British authorities had sent an Indian army battalion with armored car and auxiliary units to restore order in the Klang district, 225 miles northwest of here on the west coast of Malaya, where 7,000 striking Indian laborers defied authorities, cut telephone lines, wrecked a palm oil plant, interrupted all public services, and clashed with local police.

TUNISIA IN GREAT PERIL, DECLARES COLONY'S CHIEF

French Leader Denies Axis Collaboration.

BY WILLIAM McGAFFIN.

TUNIS, Tunisia, May 12 (AP).—Altho he is neither optimistic nor pessimistic about the world situation, Admiral Jean Esteva, resident general of Tunisia, believes this part of the French empire is in greater danger than any other. Obviously this is true, he said in an interview, "because it is in the dangerous middle Mediterranean basin."

He declined to hazard a guess, however, when asked if he thought French Africa was in greater or less danger of invasion now than it was several months ago.

Tunisia Long in Dispute.

Tunisia, along with Nice and Corsica, long have been sore points in Italian-French relations. Fascist demonstrators shouted these three words—Nice, Tunisia, Corsica—in prewar agitation symbolizing Italian colonial desires. Tunisia itself, containing 100,000 Italian residents, has been a smoldering volcano in world affairs for 60 years, since France made it a protectorate.

Observers here believe the French would have a difficult time holding off any powerful aerial and motorized force unless help came quickly from the outside.

The interview with Admiral Esteva took an economic trend as he discussed the problem of food supply in France.

Axis Collaboration Denied.

"We are sending as much as possible of wheat, vegetables, fruit, and mutton," he said. Questioned about economic collaboration between Tunisia and the axis powers, he replied, "There is no such collaboration."

Admiral Esteva, a religious, gray bearded bachelor, said he felt the world was "in need of a great religious revival."

He said he found the natives everywhere in good morale and still faithful to France.

HITLER TO MEET STALIN AND DUCE, VICHY DECLARES

Sees Move to Organize Europe Under Axis.

VICHY, France, May 12 (AP).—Separate meetings of Adolf Hitler with Josef Stalin and Benito Mussolini were considered in diplomatic circles here tonight as likely to result from the current political moves over Europe.

The object of the meetings, these circles said, probably would be complete economic, if not military, organization of the axis dominated continent.

Observers listed the shakeup of Spain's civil and military organization and Vice Premier Jean Darlan's negotiations with the Germans as indicators of forthcoming conferences of the German Fuehrer and Stalin and Mussolini.

Dakar Defense Strengthened.

In addition they noted the trip of the French air secretary, Jean Marie Bergeret, to Dakar, French West Africa, for the announced purpose of strengthening air defenses and seeking closer aerial ties between French West Africa and the mother country. Bergeret arrived in Dakar yesterday.

Chief of State Henri Philippe Petain returned from his Riviera vacation to await the arrival of Darlan tomorrow from collaboration conferences with German leaders.

[Berlin officially announced that Darlan had been received by Adolf Hitler in the presence of the German foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop.]

Leahy to See Petain.

High on Petain's list of appointments was one with the United States ambassador, Admiral William D. Leahy, who has asked an interview to discuss the European situation, including food supplies.

This meeting commanded extraordinary interest in diplomatic circles in view of recent attacks on Leahy personally and the United States in the German controled Paris press. In these attacks Leahy has been termed a "blackmailer" who is attempting to use the critical food situation as a means of preventing German-French collaboration.

An echo of the warning from Fernand de Brinon, Vichy ambassador to Paris, that France would defend Dakar should the United States attempt to seize it, has appeared in the Paris Matin. Over a picture of the west African port, this defiant caption appeared, "Come and Take It!"

De Brinon's statement that if the United States entered the war the common task of Europe would be to organize a continental defense against America and Britain, led to speculation that such a defense organization was the subject of the negotiations between Darlan and German officials.

Minister Hurries to Moscow.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 12 (AP).—Arkedy I. Lavrishchev, soviet minister to Bulgaria, left unexpectedly for Moscow by plane today, presumably to report on the restriction created by German military control of southeastern Europe.

Flees from Holdup

Mrs. Edith Duke showing how she jumped from window to escape from robbers.

The athletic prowess of Mrs. Edith Duke, 35, manager of the Silver Crest apartment hotel at 4062 Kenmore avenue, foiled two bandits yesterday and saved $270 of the hotel's money.

The two said they wished to rent a room. While being shown one on the second floor they drew revolvers and announced that it was a holdup, Mrs. Duke said: "If you'll go quietly to the office on the first floor, I'll open the safe." While walking to the office she slipped into a room and locked the door.

Mrs. Duke then opened the window and, hanging by her hands onto the ledge, dropped a few feet to the ground. She ran to a phone and called Town Hall police. The bandits fled. The manager told Sergt. Martin Walsh that it was no trick at all to outwit the holdup men.

BATTLE IN CHINA SEEN AS SMASH AT CHUNGKING

CHUNGKING, China, May 12 (AP).—Foreign observers, watching a large scale battle now in progress in the Shansi-Honan border region, declared tonight that the war might take a decisive turn and this provisional Chinese capital made untenable if the Japanese smash the large Chinese forces facing them.

Formidable obstacles to such a drive are the Yellow river, which the Japanese would have to cross, and strongly entrenched Chinese forces believed to number fully 1,000,000 men.

Chinese reports acknowledged the Japanese capture of Yuanchu, strategically important Shansi town on the north bank of the Yellow river, and several other points which would be likely bases for an attempted crossing.

Meanwhile, in continuing battles in Honan and Hupeh provinces, the Chinese claimed they had wiped out one-third of a Japanese force of 10,000 and had captured a number of strategic points in counterattacks.

Bomb Kunming Area.

KUNMING, China, May 12 (AP).—A formation of 15 Japanese airplanes bombed a wide area around this city today causing heavy damage to Yunan university's science hall and a dormitory of the Associated university.

BAR ON FILIPINO GOODS FOR AXIS WINS APPROVAL

House Group Votes New Export Control Power.

Washington, D. C., May 12 (AP).—Legislation designed to stop movement to the axis powers of armaments materials produced in the Philippine Islands was approved unanimously today by the house military committee.

The legislation would extend the President's power to control exports of armaments materials to include products of the Philippines. Dean Acheson, assistant secretary of state, testified it is necessary to assure a continued flow of those materials to this country.

Asked specifically whether such goods are going to the axis powers, Acheson told the committee "there has been an increase in the movement to other countries than the United States."

Tells of Present Problem.

He said that prior to 1940 "virtually all" Philippine materials were coming here.

"The great bulk of it still does," he added, "but there are shipments going elsewhere and it is very difficult to prevent that when there is free competition for the goods. Nations are offering higher and higher prices."

The President now has authority to control movements of goods, tools, and equipment necessary to national preparedness thru an export licensing system, but Acheson said the original act failed to include the Philippines.

Essential Materials Listed.

Essential Filipino materials in which this country is interested, he said, include copper, iron, manganese, chrome, coconut oil, and copra.

Brig. Gen. Russell L. Maxwell, administrator of export control, and the Philippine resident commissioner, Joaquin M. Elizalde, also indorsed the legislation.

Elizalde told the committee that while it would mean "great hardship" to the Filipinos, they nevertheless desire to coöperate with the United States "in world problems to the utmost of our ability and resources."

Divorce Final

GREER GARSON.

Hollywood, Cal., May 12 [Special].—Complete matrimonial freedom was accorded Greer Garson, the English stage and screen actress, today when Superior Judge William S. Baird signed her final decree of divorce from Edward Alee Abbot Snelson, British civil servant. Miss Garson, under her legal name of Eileen Evelyn G. Snelson, won the interlocutory decree on May 8, 1940, on the ground of cruelty, testifying that Snelson was "unreasonably jealous and possessive" during the five weeks they lived together. Snelson is now stationed in India.

TAKE NEGRO OUT OF FLORIDA JAIL; TRY TO KILL HIM

Quincy, Fla., May 13, Tuesday (AP).—Sheriff M. P. Luten said early today that a Negro taken from the Gadsden county jail by four white men last night had been found alive near here, but badly wounded.

The man, identified as A. C. Williams, 22 years old, was being held for an attempted assault on a 12 year old girl. The sheriff said four men, armed with pistols, forced Officer Dan Davis to admit them to the jail. They locked Davis in a cell and left with the prisoner.

The sheriff said Williams was found at a Negro home and "undoubtedly an attempt had been made to lynch him." Williams had been shot in the body several times and was badly beaten, but a physician gave him a fair chance to recover. There were no clues as to the identity of his abductors.

HAWAII DEFENSE FOR 2 OCEAN WAR TESTED BY GAME

HONOLULU, T. H., May 12 (AP).—The mightiest military force ever assembled in Hawaii, the strongest fortress under the United States flag, and perhaps in the world, today opened the army's 1941 spring maneuvers.

Approximately 40,000 soldiers, the majority seasoned troops, will be deployed to demonstrate and test the defenses of this Pacific bastion.

"It has been assumed," said a statement from the army command, "that the United States is facing attacks by enemy powers in both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans and that hostile naval craft are known to be operating in the Hawaiian area."

OUST STIMSON AND KNOX, URGES PHIL LA FOLLETTE

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 12 (AP).—Philip F. La Follette said tonight President Roosevelt should eliminate Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Knox from the cabinet because they were attempting to "frighten and terrorize the American people into a war they do not want."

The former Wisconsin governor, addressing an America First committee rally, described the secretaries as "two Republican jokers running wild in the New Deal" and added: "For sheer hopelessness, for downright defeatisms, there is nothing to match the cringing speech of Secretary Stimson last week."

LONDONERS PICK WAY THRU DEBRIS TO RESUME WORK

Demolitions and Repairs Started at Once.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 12.—London workers went to their offices and workshops today thru streets thick with rubble and debris and passed wrecked buildings in a fire scarred and bomb torn city which was sadly changed over the week-end.

In the central area they found whole blocks of famous buildings had been hit by high explosive bombs or burned out by incendiaries.

Many of the workers started early from their homes, but failed to reach central London on time. Buses took long detours. Some workers thumbed lifts in trucks and private automobiles. For many time of arrival did not matter. Their offices, workshops, and jobs no longer existed.

Some firms carried on business in the streets. One heard executives giving quotations and taking orders while pneumatic drills, demolition squads, clanging hammers, and the rumble of cranes set up an anvil chorus.

In all the blitzed areas of London emergency squads got down to the job of temporarily repairing bombed homes which takes priority over every other form of building. Thousands of builders were called in from other areas of Britain.

Many Streets Closed.

Many streets were closed to give firemen and ARP [air raid precaution service] workers a free hand. Post-office, telephone, gas and electricity servicemen were working since early Sunday morning restoring essential services.

The bombing of the houses of parliament, the public was assured, will not prevent either the lords or commons meeting. New accommodations already were arranged. Even the traditional speaker's procession can take place as usual. The mace, speaker's robes and sword, and the chains and badges of commons messengers were saved.

It is now permitted to disclose that parliament already had functioned in an emergency chamber for a time during last November when bomb damage forced both houses temporarily to transfer their meeting place. It was in the emergency home of parliament that King George VI. opened the November session.

Churchill Views Damage.

Prime Minister Churchill, Mrs. Churchill, Lord Beaverbrook, and many members of parliament visited parliament today to view the damage. They found only the walls of the commons chamber standing. The famous speaker's chair disappeared together with dispatch boxes bearing the indents of Gladstone's signet ring. The members' lobbies are gaping corridors between walls.

Pillars, leather benches, the vaulted roof of the diplomat's gallery, ladies' galleries, the distinguished strangers' gallery and windows and oak paneled walls were all piled up in a mass of debris 50 feet high and still smouldering.

The shelter used by cabinet ministers was wrecked but most of their private rooms were comparatively undamaged.

Chamberlain Statue Stays.

In the members' lobby the only thing that escaped destruction was the statue of Joseph Chamberlain, once Britain's prime minister and father of the late Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain. The statue stands with splinter chipped pants and covered with gray dust but still upright surveying the wreckage.

The general structure of Westminster Abbey, which also suffered heavily, was pronounced intact. The bombing, however, caused serious surface injury to the Henry VII. chapel. Beneath the lantern [central] roof where the king and queen sat in their coronation robes four years ago today there was nothing but mangled altar fittings, twisted gilt chandeliers and broken pews.

WEARY MOTHERS BACK, BOASTING OF SOLDIER SONS

Five thousand mothers of soldiers from the Chicago area, returning home yesterday after a day in camp with their sons, pronounced army life fine.

The mothers came back to Chicago on special trains after spending Mother's day in various southern camps with their sons. They were hollow-eyed and weary, most of them having battled sleep two nights in day coaches, but they were glowing in praise of the bit of army life they had seen or tasted and eager to tell of the attainments of "my boy."

The largest contingent from the Chicago area, 3,300 women in five special trains, went to Camp Forrest where the 33d division, Illinois National Guard, is encamped.

From Camp Shelby, near Hattiesburg, Miss., where the 38th division, Indiana National Guard, is in training, returned 222 Indiana mothers.

A group of 48 mothers who had penetrated into the deep south, clear to Camp Livingston, La., to visit their boys, came back praising the Louisiana scenery as well as their sons.

GERMANS SMASH AT 25 AIR BASES THRUOUT BRITAIN

Seek to Cripple Foe's New Offensives.

BERLIN, May 12 (AP).—Britain's air bases, from which increasing numbers of heavy bombers have been taking off to assault Germany's industrial centers, were pounded successfully overnight with German fire and explosive bombs, the high command said today.

The German news agency DNB, elaborating on the high command communique, reported that 25 British airports in all were raided in a blow by several hundred planes against Britain's mounting aerial offensive. Some of these bases, DNB added, were "very heavily hit" in dive attacks, and 17 British planes were destroyed on the ground.

[The British declared the German claims of having raided 25 airdromes was "grossly exaggerated."]

Admit Damage to Hamburg.

Announcement of the switch in German bomber tactics from British harbor facilities accompanied an unusual admission by the high command that "stronger" British formations had attacked the important German ports of Hamburg and Bremen over the week-end, inflicting numerous casualties and heavy destruction.

Hamburg, the country's largest port, underwent its second pounding in as many nights, but it was reported that damage was confined largely to residential districts. Six deaths were reported there. Seven of the British attackers were declared to have been shot down.

From Friday thru Sunday, the British paid for their raids with the loss of 36 planes—19 of them victims of Nazi night chasers. The Germans acknowledged the loss of 18 planes in the same period.

Claim 13 Ships Sunk.

Thirteen British merchantmen totaling 76,248 tons, have been sunk out of a British convoy by German submarines in several days' activities, authorized sources said tonight.

German fighting planes sank a heavily laden 8,000-ton British merchantman off the British east coast today.

Nazi bombers swooping on a convoy passing thru St. George's channel, between England and Ireland, were said to have destroyed three ships totaling 24,000 tons and to have damaged three others.

KIDNAP KILLER LOSES WIFE BY DIVORCE, BUT SHE GIVES HIM $100

Mrs. Russell.

Jack Russell, 40 years old, an Oklahoma desperado serving 199 years in Leavenworth penitentiary for kidnaping and murder, was divorced yesterday by his wife, Mary, but he gained $100.

Judge Rudolph Desort granted Mrs. Russell the divorce and approved a report of Charles C. Cooley, special commissioner, that Russell had no interest in the $25,000 building at 6527 Kimbark avenue, which is owned by Mrs. Russell. Russell had filed a cross bill alleging he had an interest in the property. Mrs. Russell said she would give Russell the $100 and Judge Desort approved the settlement.

Russell killed William Scott Hamilton, a Kansas City salesman, July 14, 1939, after kidnaping him. He was sentenced last September by Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward after a death sentence, imposed by a jury, had been reversed.

Largest Danube Steamer Launched at Budapest

BUDAPEST, Hungary, May 12.—The largest and most luxurious Danube steamer, the Boris III., built in the shipyards here for the Bulgarian State Navigation company, was launched yesterday in the presence of distinguished Bulgarians, Germans, and Hungarians.

BRITISH STRIKE NEW BLOWS AT NAZI SHIPYARDS

Hamburg, Bremen Hit for Third Night.

LONDON, May 12 (AP).—British bombers, apparently still concentrating on efforts to paralyze Germany's sea power at its source, were reported today to have left Hamburg and Bremen, two of Germany's great shipbuilding centers, in chaos after devastating new overnight attacks. The British said Mannheim also was bombed.

The RAF continued "destruction and disorganization of vital parts" of Hamburg, the air ministry said, and delivered an equally heavy raid on Bremen with corresponding success in a clear moonlit night.

Targets for Third Night.

Hamburg and Bremen were RAF targets for the third night in the past four. Shipbuilding yards which line the River Elbe on both sides for nine miles at Hamburg were reported "threaded and crossed with fire."

The Blohm and Voss yards, where some of Germany's mightiest battleships have been built, were mentioned specifically. High explosives and incendiary bombs added to damage previously done.

"Opposite these yards on the other side of the river flames leaped high and, away from the dock, industrial quarters of the town were vigorously assailed," the air ministry said.

These operations included attacks also on the German port of Emden and the Dutch seaplane and shipping centers of Rotterdam, Ijmuiden, and Texel.

Toll of Nazi Planes Mount.

Antiaircraft defenses at home, meanwhile, both planes and guns, were shooting down nine more Nazi raiders during German night attacks which were widespread but nowhere as intensive or destructive as the Saturday night bombardment.

Still piling up their record breaking bag of Nazi night raiders—already far ahead of the 90 mark for a whole month set in April—Britain's defenders raised this month's figure to 133 so far. Of these, night fighters are credited with shooting down at least 107.

There was only slight air activity during daylight today, the government said, with little damage and no casualties in the one early morning attack on a point on the southeast coast. There was a two hour raid alarm in London at midnight tonight.

COAL MINERS JOIN IN FIGHT AGAINST SEAWAY SCHEME

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 12.—Illinois protests against the New Deal proposal to revive and expand the St. Lawrence power project, under the cloak of national defense, will be heard fully by the house foreign affairs committee, according to plans disclosed today by Congressman Robert B. Chiperfield [R. Ill.], minority member of the committee.

Organized resistance to the St. Lawrence plan has developed among Illinois coal miners, who point out that further water power from the Canadian border would displace millions of tons of Illinois coal every year in the production of electricity, thus spreading unemployment thruout the Illinois coal fields.

"Twenty-seven states in the Mississippi valley would suffer huge annual losses because of the diversion of shipping and trade," Attorney General George F. Barrett said in a letter to Chiperfield.

Barrett recently has been in consultation with the attorney generals of other middle western states, whose vital interests are endangered by the St. Lawrence plan. No less than 124 associations thruout the middle west have filed formal protests against the plan. These include labor, agricultural, shipping, industrial, civic, and patriotic organizations.

ARNOLD REVEALS BIG U. S. BOMBERS POUND GERMANY

Lauds Fighting Qualities of 'Flying Fortresses.'

Washington, D. C., May 12 [Special].—Successful operation of American "flying fortresses" in royal air force raids over Germany was described today by Maj. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, air corps chief, who mentioned these operations in a summary of United States aviation while speaking before the Women's National Democratic club.

Gen. Arnold, who returned recently from a visit to England, described the accomplishment of American planes in more glowing terms than generally used by war and navy department spokesmen.

Gen. Arnold declared that Lockheed and Martin bombers are in regular British service, and that the Airacobra fighter is in production.

Among World's Fastest.

"One of the world's fastest pursuit planes, the Airacobra, is now in production in the United States," said Gen. Arnold. "This remarkable airplane is worthy of its name. It is armed with machine guns and cannon. To facilitate operating these guns and to provide better visibility for the pilot, the engine is located back of the pilot. We expect great things of the Airacobra, in its final form with armor plate and leakproof tanks.

"Our B-17s the famous flying fortresses—already have won their spurs by accomplishing very difficult missions over Germany. They can carry loads far and fast at altitudes that give hostile fighting planes a difficult problem when interception is attempted.

Work in Combat Zones.

"Lockheeds daily carry out patrols over the North sea from arctic Norway, over Denmark to Holland and Belgium. Martins are working daily over the Mediterranean. That should give an answer to our critics who claim our planes cannot be used and are not being used in combat overseas.

"We know we face a hard task in getting the number and kind of planes we must have, but we are not concerned over the ultimate ability of American ingenuity and American determination, and American energy to surmount either the quantity or the quality problem."

Clipper Plane in Philippines After Hop from Singapore

MANILA, P. I., May 12 (AP).—Pan-American Airways' California Clipper landed at the Cavite seaplane base today, completing the company's first round trip flight to Singapore. The return to Manila was made in 10 hours and 20 minutes. The big flying boat is due to take off for the United States Wednesday at dawn. At Singapore 13,800 first flight covers were taken aboard, most of them bound to United States stamp collectors.

SENATE GROUP APPROVES BILL TO SEIZE SHIPS

Anti-Convoy Amendment to Be Offered by Tobey.

Washington, D. C., May 12 [Special].—The senate commerce committee, by a vote of 11 to 4, favorably reported the administration's ship seizure bill today.

An amendment to this measure forbidding the use of the air and naval forces for convoy service will be offered by Senator Charles W. Tobey [R., N. H.] when it reaches the senate floor, probably late this week.

Called War Measure.

The ship seizure bill, which was called a war measure by some of its most ardent supporters in the house, authorizes the government to acquire and transfer to Great Britain any or all of the 84 foreign vessels now immobilized in American ports, aggregating 450,000 tons. The vessels may be acquired by purchase, by requisition for use during "the period of the emergency," by condemnation, or by charter. In any event, just compensation must be paid.

By a vote of 10 to 6, the senate committee rejected an amendment by Senators Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] and Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.] forbidding the transfer of ships owned by the nations of a belligerent nation to any other belligerent nation. The purpose of this amendment was to prevent the transfer of 28 Italian and 2 German ships to Britain.

Opposed by Hull.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull opposed the Vandenberg-Clark amendment in a letter to the committee saying that "it would be unwise to place a restrictive or prohibitive provision in the proposed legislation."

The committee adopted an amendment by Chairman Josiah W. Bailey [D., N. C.] forbidding the acquisition of ships owned by foreign governments except by purchase. At present, however, there are no vessels owned by foreign governments in American ports. Rather, they are owned by foreign nationals.

Besides the 28 Italian and 2 German vessels, ships subject to seizure under the provisions of the bill include 39 Danish, 11 French, 2 Estonian, 1 Lithuanian, and 1 Rumanian vessel.

Asked for 50 Cargo Ships.

New York, May 13, Tuesday [Special].—The maritime commission has called upon intercoastal steamship operators to contribute 50 per cent or about 50 of their big cargo vessels, aggregating 310,000 gross tons, to the 2,000,000 ton shipping pool which President Roosevelt ordered the commission to establish as a further aid to Britain, it became known today.

The ships, which are expected to be delivered within five weeks, reportedly will be operated from the United States to ports on the Red sea via the Cape of Good Hope. The commission will pay the owners a fixed charter rate for cargo space on outward voyages only. The ships are expected to carry strategic materials to America on the homeward trip at prevailing rates.

VON PAPEN FLIES TO ANKARA AFTER TALKS IN BERLIN

ISTANBUL, May 12 (AP).—Franz von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey who may be carrying German collaboration suggestions to the Turkish government from Berlin, took off in an airplane late today for Ankara, the capital. He halted here only 40 minutes after flying from Berlin.

The newspaper Yeni Sabah, commenting on Russia's recent withdrawal of her recognition of Jugo-Slavia, observed:

"This is taken as a sign of closer relations between Russia and Germany. It even is said this means a division of spoils between Russia and Germany with Iran [Persia] and India falling to Russia and with Germany being guaranteed full use of the onl in the near east."

NAZIS SEND FOR WHEAT IN GREEK FOOD SHORTAGE

ISTANBUL, Turkey, May 12.—The food shortage in Greece has reached such proportions that two German ships have been sent to Rumania to load wheat for Greek ports, it was reported here today. German pressure is said to have forced Greece to embargo the sale of olive oil, resin, and turpentine, all of which are being sent to Germany. Nazi efforts to rally the political elements that opposed the late Greek premier, Gen. John Metaxas, are said to be meeting with scant success.

WOMEN MAKE UP HALF OF TRAVEL LISTS; DEFY SUBS

Aliens Rush Homeward in Fear of U. S. War.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 12.—Approximately half the passengers aboard ocean liners plying the dangerous waters of the Atlantic these days are women. Shipping company officials reported today that the so-called weaker sex fears dangers of war on land more than the lurking submarine or bomber overhead.

Feminine travel in one direction is offsetting the movement in the other direction.

Leaving the United States in ever increasing numbers are alien German women—mothers, grandmothers, wives, and sweethearts who are to become war brides. Streaming from Germany and other continental countries are women refugees. Evacuees from England form another stream flowing into this country.

German women are sailing for the homeland, shipping officials say, because they fear Uncle Sam soon will be in the war. They make their way to the fatherland via sympathetic Spain.

200 Aboard One Ship.

Last week more than 200 German women and children were aboard the Spanish liner Marques de Comillas, which sailed out of the port of New York for Bilbao, Spain. Some of the passengers disclosed that husbands and other male relatives had gone to California, whence they expected to make the first leg of their trip home on vessels operated by the Axis partner, Japan.

Officials of Garcia & Diaz, New York agents for the Spanish Line, disclosed that the fair sex accounts for 75 per cent of their passenger lists—going and coming. Refugees fill the ships leaving Spain.

Fewer and fewer British passenger vessels are steaming into New York harbor these days. Occasionally one will slide in thru the narrows, unheralded, ports darkened and hull painted a dirty camouflage gray and girdled with an antimagnetic mine cable. The last arrival was the Georgic, about a month ago.

Most Travelers Are Refugees.

For the American woman, trans-Atlantic travel is virtually extinct. Americans are not allowed to travel in a vessel of a belligerent nation and are barred from going into combat zones unless they have permission, for a special reason, from the state department. Such permission is rarely granted to women.

George C. Gaede, passenger traffic manager of American Export Lines, the only American shipping line operating to Europe, said about half the passengers returning from Lisbon are women and the bulk of all passengers are refugees. He estimated that only about 30 per cent of the passengers are Americans.

American Export quit selling space to aliens seven weeks ago, but it is estimated that between 7,000 and 8,000 refugees still hold tickets in Lisbon. The line is booked up nearly to the end of the year and is looking everywhere for another ship to add to its fleet.

Eastbound, the Export liners carry only a few passengers. The Excalibur, which brought 188 passengers from Europe, turned around and started back last Saturday with only 30.

FRANCE PLACES BAN ON U. S. WRITER FOR JOAN OF ARC STORY

VICHY, France, May 12 (AP).—The Petain government today banned John Elliott, New York Herald-Tribune correspondent, from sending dispatches for the next 10 days.

In a dispatch yesterday dealing with the observance of Joan of Arc day, Elliott wrote in part:

"As the English of the 15th century [then the occupying authorities] had their dukes of Burgundy and their Cauchons to do their dirty work for them, so today the Germans have their Marcel Deats and Pierre Lavals. Only the Joan of the 10th century has yet to loom on the horizon. It is this national savior that France today is impatiently awaiting."

The government said the article was an attack on Chief of State Philippe Petain.

CHARGES F. D. R. TRIES TO COAX IRISH INTO WAR

Wheeler Draws a Parallel with Jugo-Slavia.

Washington, D. C., May 12 (AP).—Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] charged today that the administration "apparently" was seeking to make Ireland a second Jugo-Slavia and force her into war, promising supplies that could not be delivered.

An outspoken foe of administration foreign policy, Wheeler told reporters that this country "should not bring pressure on Ireland or any other country to get them into war."

"Now, apparently," he said, "we are trying to repeat in Ireland what we did to Jugo-Slavia. In the latter case we promised goods we could not deliver.

"Trying to Bring Pressure."

"Apparently, the administration is trying to bring pressure upon the Irish to get them into war or to force them to give up some of their territory to the British."

Wheeler mentioned that Ireland had been seeking food and military supplies here and said that "altho we are talking of helping democracies, my understanding is that representatives of Ireland have been given the run-around."

The Montanan did not amplify his assertion that attempts were being made to have Ireland yield territory to Britain. The belief was, however, that he referred to long current unofficial reports that Britain was seeking to have the United States exert its influence with Ireland to have former British bases there made available to the royal navy again for operations against the German counter-blockade.

Pepper's Latest Opinion.

Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.], advocate of American entry into the war, said today he did not believe a declaration of war necessary, but added that "we should do what we need to do and let it go at that."

"When you occupy territory, you don't have to declare war," he said. "If we should 'accidentally' let go a broadside at a Japanese battleship it wouldn't be a declaration of war. It would just be letting them know how the white man shoots and would teach them decent respect for the rights of their neighbors."

Slayer of Mother-in-Law and Son Granted Delay

The trial of William M. Evans, who is charged with the murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. William J. Sanders, and his son, Douglas, 2 years old, was postponed yesterday until June 16. Evans' attorneys, Henry Ayers and W. W. Smith, told Judge Julius H. Miner in Criminal court they needed more time to prepare the defense. Evans, who is 25 years old, stabbed the two victims to death March 22 in the Sanders home at 3208 South Grove avenue, Berwyn, and injured his estranged wife, Nedra, 22.

Reporter Slain

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

JOSEPHINE SCOTT.

Cleveland, O., May 12 (AP).—Coroner Samuel R. Gerber today penned "motive unknown" on an official murder-suicide verdict in the roadside shooting of an attractive 25 year old brunette reporter and her suitor.

William Haltenberger. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

The bodies of Miss Josephine Scott, newspaper reporter, and William Haltenberger Jr., 30, a research student at Tulsa university, were found last night in his car parked beside the Chagrin river in fashionable Moreland Hills village.

A revolver was on the seat between them. Coroner Gerber said Haltenberger had fired a bullet into Miss Scott's left temple and then pressed the gun to his own head. Dr. Roy W. Scott, chief physician at City hospital, discounted a suicide pact theory, declaring his daughter had been in good spirits. The doctor said the two met in 1934 while they were students at the University of Michigan.

ELEVATED TRAIN RUNS OFF TRACK; DANGLES IN AIR

A two coach elevated train ripped thru a steel bumper on the dead-end tracks at the Madison street-Wacker drive station during the rush hour yesterday, ran over the wooden platform, and came to a stop with its front end and the rail bumper dangling over the street 50 feet below.

The train, which carried no passengers, was pulling into the station when the accident occurred. James Vito, motorman, said the brakes failed to hold as he tried to stop the train at the passenger platform.

Glass, wood splinters, and spikes were showered on the street below, cutting Traffic Policeman John F. Walsh. Vito and Henry J. Kearn, the conductor, stepped from the train and walked along a safety lane back to the platform.

The Wacker street tracks, a feeder line for the main branch at Lake street, are used only during rush hours.

NYE DISCLOSES AID-ALLIES DRIVE FOR WAR CHEST

Committee Telegrams Ask Big Gifts of Money.

Desperate appeals for large financial gifts are being telegraphed thruout the nation by the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies in its effort to involve the United States in the war.

This was disclosed yesterday by Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] who changed planes in Chicago en route to Denver, Colo., where he will keep the first of three western speaking engagements tonight. Nye produced one of the telegrams and said the prowar forces want the money for propaganda purposes.

"Desperation is written into this eleventh hour blitzkrieg by the interventionists," he said. "They are determined to drive the United States into convoying and war."

$500 to $5,000 Gifts Sought.

The telegram, signed by Frederick C. McKee, treasurer of the Aid-Allies committee, had been sent to a former member. It read:

"To mobilize public interest created by Wendell Willkie's Madison Square Garden speech, this committee must obtain several gifts in the $500 to $5,000 class within next few days. Money is needed to reprint and redistribute the speech to all parts of country, to arrange similar meetings elsewhere, and to combat the increasing flood of appeasement propaganda.

"Our 800 branches are working night and day to offset defeatism, but they must have more help. Lend-lease appropriations and millions given for allied war relief may be wasted unless the public insists that the goods must be delivered. May we count on your help in this crisis? Every day of delay is dangerous. Please reply to 8 West 40th street, New York City."

Nye Asks "All-Out" Stand.

Senator Nye, one of several senators on tour to urge unity in the stand against entering another foreign war, asked for an increase in the flood of telegrams and letters to Washington opposing war measures.

"This week tells the story," he said. "The people should 'all-out' their appeals to President Roosevelt and congress to refuse to convoy or go further in this war."

Senator Nye, who will speak in Salt Lake City, Utah, tomorrow night and in Grand Rapids, Mich., Thursday night, was accompanied here by Mrs. Nye. Officials of the America First committee who met him at the airport told the senator thousands of letters commending his antiwar stand have been received at national headquarters in the last few days. The messages came from all parts of the United States.

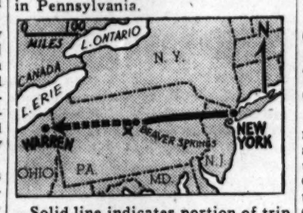
Mrs. Benjamin Brewster, who was killed with husband in plane crash in Pennsylvania.



Solid line indicates portion of trip completed when plane crashed (x) and broken line the remainder of projected flight.

Lewistown, Pa., May 12 (AP).—Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Brewster, socially prominent New Yorkers, missing four days on a cross-country pleasure flight, were found dead tonight in the charred wreckage of their plane atop a heavily wooded central Pennsylvania mountain.

The bodies were identified by Whitney Stone, a brother-in-law of Brewster, who accompanied searching parties near the crest of Shade mountain, 11 miles southeast of Beaver Springs in Snyder county, soon after the wreckage was sighted by an air mail pilot.

State police said the ship had struck the top of the 1,800 foot mountain, plowing up nearly 100 feet of ground, snapping off tree tops, and finally catching fire. The bodies were reported "burned almost beyond recognition."

Brewster, associated with a New York investment firm, and his wife, the former Miss Leonie Debarry Lyon, took off Friday from Roosevelt field in New York for Warren, O.

RED CAP TELLS WHAT'S WRONG ABOUT TIPPING

The tip—that small coin you give so casually to a porter or a waiter—was described yesterday as "un-American, humiliating, and degrading" by John L. Yancey, a Red Cap on furlough. He addressed the Catholic Conference on Industrial Problems at the Stevens hotel.

Yancey, who is colored, said: "The tip breeds antagonisms among employés, intimidation, and coercion by employers, and injustice to consumers who feel obliged to give handouts to the underpaid." He said he has taken a furlough from his job to help the United Transport Service Employés of America combat the tipping evil.

The conference will close tonight at a dinner meeting when Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch, sponsor of the conference, will speak.

CLAIMS BRITISH SINK 70 PER CENT OF NEW NAZI SUBS

LONDON, May 12 (AP).—Brassey's naval annual, a British publication, appeared today with an estimate that more than 70 per cent of the German submarines commissioned in the past 12 months have been sunk. Commander Harry Pursey, retired naval officer, wrote:

"This rate, which should be possible of improvement, is probably greater than that of German replacement . . . and certainly greater than the supply of efficient crews available."

Britain Bound Bomber Crashes; 2 Pilots Unhurt

Los Angeles, Cal., May 12 [Special].—Ground looping when an engine failed on a takeoff, a $91,000 Lockheed Hudson bomber destined for Britain crashed and burned today at El Paso, Tex., but its two pilots, C. P. Nicholson and Gardner Nagle, crawled out thru the rear door just ahead of the flames and escaped uninjured. The crash was the second accident during the Burbank company's delivery of "between 500 and 1,000" bombers to the British.

HOPES REVIVED FOR MERGER OF TRANSIT LINES

New Concessions by City Change Outlook.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

A new turn in the 14 year old transit unification dispute was reported yesterday.

Only a few weeks ago spokesmen for the various traction interests were conceding that negotiations with the city for a single unified franchise for the surface and elevated lines were on the verge of collapse. They predicted that these merger plans would be abandoned for the present in favor of a separate reorganization and modernization of the surface lines without a new franchase.

Yesterday, however, following the third conference of city and transit representatives within a week, it was learned that new concessions by the city have revived hopes for putting thru the unification.

Disputed Points Taken Up.

Mayor Kelly in a statement couched in general terms reported to Federal Judge Michael L. Igo on April 25 that the city was willing to meet the objections to its franchise proposal that had been raised by the surface lines' management board. Since then the disputed points have been taken up one by one and are being redrawn to the satisfaction of the board.

The companies are in a strategic position right now to drive a hard bargain with the city for a franchise. The city is "on the spot," it was explained, because the proposed unified company is being counted on to buy subway cars and equipment and to operate the city's nearly completed 57 million dollar subway. Also the Federal Works agency is withholding from the city 12 million dollars of its original 23 million dollar subway grant because of the lack of a subway tenant.

Favors Separate Deal.

The surface lines' largest bondholders' committee, headed by Albert W. Harris, the banker, has openly advocated abandonment of the unified franchise plans in favor of immediate reorganization of the surface lines. Such a move would leave the subway operation in the hands of the city and the Chicago Rapid Transit company [elevated lines] which has no cash or credit to buy subway cars. The city does not want to be jockeyed into this position.

In other quarters transit representatives, while admitting that the city is making substantial concessions, yesterday still discounted reports that the unification plans soon will be put thru. They named two obstacles still to be hurdled—the obtaining of a loan to carry out the improvements required in the franchise ordinance, and acceptance of the ordinance by the surface lines' owners, or bondholders, even if it meets the objections of the lines' management board.

Plan for Federal Loan.

The franchise plan is based on a proposed 53 million dollar federal loan, of which 40 millions would be paid for partial redemption of the companies' present bonds. The loan, however, is contingent on approval of the franchise by federal loan officials. The surface lines' board has opposed this type of loan on the ground that not enough money would go into improvements.

As for the second hurdle, spokesmen said that any franchise ordinance to become effective, must be accepted by the bondholders' groups, including the Harris committee. Harris in a recent report to bondholders asserted that a workable unification of the surface lines with elevated lines would require the waiving by the city of claims for compensation for use of streets and the substitution of a city subsidy to repay the new system for operations of the money-losing elevated lines. The city's latest concessions, according to reports, do not include such a change.

Ground Broken for New School

To Double Size

Ground was broken yesterday for the construction of a $700,000 addition to the Spalding School for Crippled Children at 1628 Washington boulevard. The two story brick addition will double the size of the present school and provide special rooms for scientific treatment of the crippled children as well as a gymnasium, assembly hall and play space. When completed the school will offer a complete educational unit, from kindergarten thru high school.

Superintendent of Schools William H. Johnson turned the first spadeful of earth and gave the principal address. Mrs. Olive Bruner, principal of the Spalding school, was in charge of the ceremonies.

Boy, 12, Gets Life Term; Slew Father Over Whipping

Waynesboro, Ga., May 12 (AP).—Twelve year old Robert Messex was sentenced to life in prison today for the slaying of his father after testifying he shot him because he was whipped for not attending school. The jury recommended mercy. The boy will be sent to a state training school until he is 21, at which time Judge A. L. Franklin said the state prison commission has authority to consider an appeal.

BLOOD SAMPLES TAKEN FOR 2D PARENTAGE TEST

Blood samples for a second laboratory test to determine the parentage of a child 14 months old were taken yesterday by Dr. Josiah J. Moore. The samples, from Charles Emry, 26 years old, 4900 Princeton avenue, his wife, Elsie, and the baby, were taken in Dr. Moore's office at 55 East Washington street. Emry contends he is not the father of the child.

The medical findings will not be ready for the hearing in the case tomorrow before Judge Robert Jerome Dunne. Norman Becker and Joseph Becker, attorneys for Mrs. Emry, said they will offer evidence in an effort to disprove Emry's charge that his wife tricked him into the marriage by saying he was the father of her unborn child.

Mrs. Emry filed a suit for separate maintenance and her husband filed a cross-bill for annulment, charging fraud. They agreed to abide by the results of the first blood test, which showed he was not the father, but her attorneys refused to be bound by the agreement. "Even if the second test confirms the first we will not give up the fight," Joseph Becker said. "Such medical testimony is too new in Illinois courts to be accepted as conclusive."

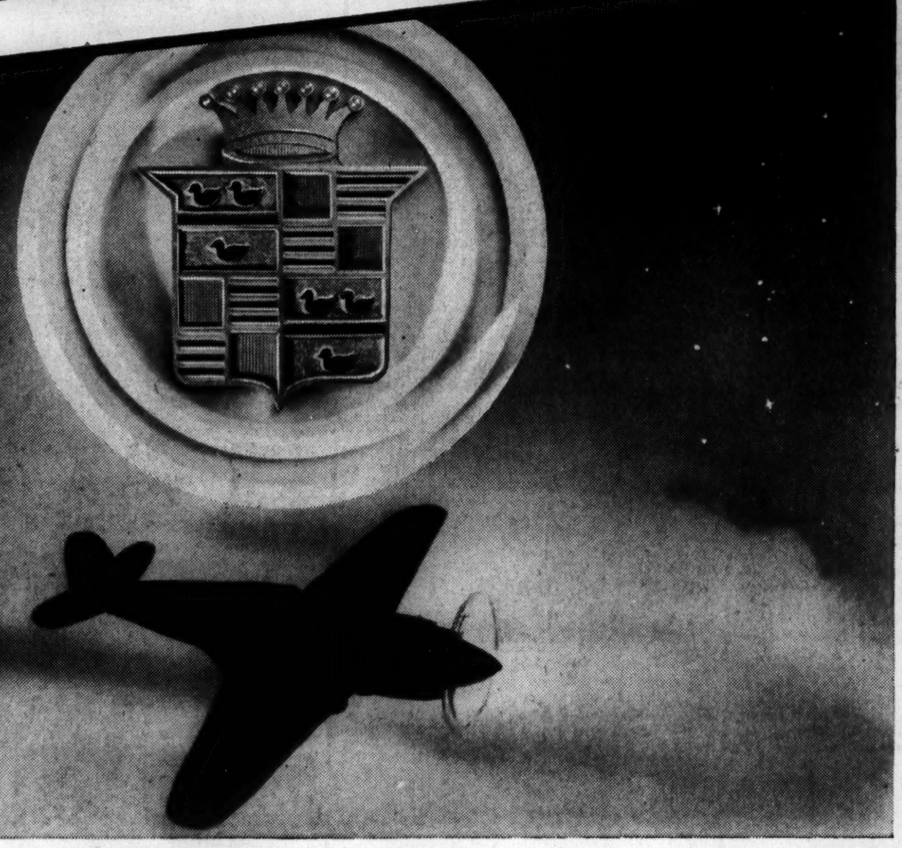
Well into our Second Year of Defense Production!



OVER A YEAR before the President called upon this country to become the "Arsenal of Democracy" the Cadillac organization was deep in the work of defense.

And today, as for months past, a considerable section of the Cadillac plant is engaged, on a twenty-four hour basis, exclusively in America's armament program.

Cadillac's rôle in this program is one that few other organizations could play. Cadillac is manufacturing—to the strictest precision limits in the world—many parts of the Allison engine, which powers some of America's greatest fighting planes.

Cadillac is proud to be chosen for this vital job—for two reasons: The selection of this organization for this particular work underscores its position as Standard of the World in manufacturing skill. And it enables us to utilize this special skill for the good of the whole nation.

America can count on Cadillac to help make this country as supreme in the air as it has long been on the highway. We sincerely pledge, to that end, our forty years' experience in building America's finest cars.

2,000 MOLDERS QUIT; CURB WORK IN 28 FOUNDRIES

Strike Affects Arms Jobs in Chicago Area.

More than 2,000 molders went on a surprise strike yesterday, shutting or hampering 28 iron and brass foundries in Chicago and suburbs and tying up millions of dollars in national armament orders. The walkout threw approximately 2,000 other foundry workers out of work.

The strike was called by the conference board of the Chicago local of the International Molders' Union of North America [AFL] in a wage dispute with the Chicago Foundrymen's association, representing the employers.

The union demands a wage scale of $1.17½ cents an hour, 12½ cents more than the present rate. The association has offered an increase of 10 cents an hour—7½ cents immediately and 2½ cents more effective Nov. 1. The wage agreement expired April 1.

Harry E. Scheck, federal labor conciliator, described the strike as a surprise, as did John F. Kenny, president of the foundrymen's association. Both said it was called despite a written agreement not to strike during wage discussions.

Joseph Keenan, labor leader and Chicago member of the Office of Production Management, who had participated with Scheck in the wage negotiations, called for quick settlement.

The union threatened to strike May 1, but held off on an appeal by Scheck. Scheck said the union and the employers agreed to continue negotiations without strike and with any wage revision to be made retroactive to May 1.

AFL UNION BALKS AT OPM PLEA TO OPEN SHIPYARDS

Strikes on Both Coasts Halt Construction.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

American Federation of Labor machinists, who joined with CIO unionists in a strike at 11 Pacific coast shipbuilding and repair plants holding contracts for $500,000,000 in warships, freighters, and other work, last night rejected an Office of Production Management request to return to work pending negotiation.

Meanwhile, AFL leaders of a strike called on a $3,000,000 construction job at the South Boston, Mass., navy dry dock agreed to confer today with navy officials following a telephone call from the OPM.

West Coast Plants Closed.

The 11 plants in San Francisco, Oakland, and Alameda, employing between 15,000 and 20,000 workmen, closed after 1,700 AFL and CIO workers appeared in mass picket lines.

AFL machinists who walked out in the face of a protest by AFL President William Green, rejected the OPM request, at a massmeeting, on the ground that it wouldn't do any good.

Largest plant involved and key to the AFL rejection was the Bethlehem Steel company's shipbuilding plant, whose contracts for 29 ships include naval cruisers.

Ask Double Overtime Pay.

Both AFL and CIO machinists struck in protest against company plans to pay time and a half for overtime in place of the traditional double time for machinists in the area and to enforce a demand for $1.15 an hour in place of the present $1 wage.

Company offers were based on a recent coastwise agreement for time and a half for overtime and $1.12 an hour. Neither Bethlehem nor the CIO were involved in the master agreement.

Ernest A. Johnson, secretary-treasurer of the Building and Construction Trades council [AFL], said at Boston that the union was not picketing and that the 1,200 WPA and civil service employés at the naval base, described by him as protest point of the strike, were not interfered with.

Ship building operations were not affected directly, Johnson said, since union men had not been called out at the navy yard where 300 of them are employed. "But," he added, "we will pull them out in the event of no settlement in this existing dispute."

Presenting Medal

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

H. S. Symon presenting Illinois Central medal to Mrs. A. R. Andersen.

Mrs. A. R. Andersen of 7232 Euclid avenue, an employé of the First National bank, yesterday was presented with a medal from the Illinois Central railroad for her alertness on March 31 in reporting a broken rail which might have caused an accident.

Mrs. Andersen, an Illinois Central commuter for 20 years, alighted from a suburban train at 71st street and Jeffery avenue. At the Euclid avenue crossing she noticed a 10 inch piece of rail broken off the southbound track. She reported what she had seen to the ticket agent at the station and arrangements were made to move trains over the faulty rail at slow speed until it was repaired.

The presentation was made by H. S. Symon, superintendent of suburban service, in Symon's office in the Randolph street station.

SEEK FEDERAL JUDGESHIP FOR U. S. SCHWARTZ

Friends of Attorney Ulysses S. Schwartz have been active in Washington to obtain him a federal judgeship, it was learned yesterday. They want him appointed to a prospective vacancy in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals to be created by the Hatch bill, it was understood. The measure has passed the senate and now is awaiting action by the house.

Schwartz is a brother of Charles K. Schwartz of the law firm of Gottlieb & Schwartz, 231 South La Salle street. It was understood yesterday that no recommendations have been made to the White House.

Ulysses Schwartz was a member of the city law department prior to 1915 and was alderman from the old 3d [now 4th] ward during the administration of a former Republican mayor, whose policies he attacked.

FOUND HANGED IN HOME,

Joseph Bernot, 50 years old, a junk dealer, was found hanged in his home at 1543 Cortez street yesterday.

DAY by DAY on the FARM by GAIL COMPTON

Karakuls on Increase.

May 12, 1941.

THE interest of American farmers in Karakul sheep is growing rapidly and more flocks are being established in the country each year. The Karakul provides fur for Persian lamb, broadtail, and caracul coats that are in high favor among women.

The breed still is comparatively scarce, however, and the eight Karakuls at the Du Page county farm have evoked much interest in the surrounding countryside.

The sheep are strictly a fur bearing breed. The pelts of the lambs go into fur coats and the coarse wool of the sheep is used for carpet wool.

The wool on a new born lamb is tightly curled and usually pitch black. The tighter and more uniform the curl the greater the value of the pelt. For this reason the best fur coats come from the skins of very young lambs.

Here are three different grades of commercial Karakul fur. The pelt on the left is the most valuable, coming from a lamb of the third cross between a purebred ram and a domestic wool type sheep. The poorest pelt is on the right and is a first cross pelt. The middle skin is from a second cross lamb. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Young Lambs Killed.

In commercial production the lambs usually are killed before they are five days old, and sometimes the unborn lamb is taken from the ewe to obtain the best type of pelt. The longer the lamb lives the more rapidly the fur deteriorates in value as the curl loosens and spreads out.

A general practice in the commercial production of Karakul fur is to mate a purebred ram with one of the well known breeds of wool and mutton sheep, such as the Merino, Cheviot, Cotswold, or Lincoln. The first cross will not give a fur type lamb. The second cross, that of a purebred ram to a half blood ewe, will produce a lamb with some fur value. Best results are obtained from the third cross, or that between a Karakul ram and a three-quarter blood ewe. From this cross a lamb is produced that will provide an acceptable pelt.

The pelt on the far right of the picture is from a lamb of the first cross. The fur is coarse and wooly and lacks lustre. The middle pelt is from a second cross and shows a greater fur tendency, but the curls are not tight and still are wiry.

Good Market Pelt.

The skin on the left is from a lamb of the third cross and will make a good market pelt. The fur curls in tight spirals and the waves lay uniformly along the skin. The white fur would not detract much from the pelt's value, as it could be run thru a dye vat.

Karakuls are not great wool producers and their wool clip cannot compete in value with the clips of domestic wool breeds. They also are poor mutton sheep, because their conformation does not permit good meat development.

There are three distinct types of pelts, known to the trade as Persian lamb, broadtail, and caracul. Each type has several sub-types, and these in turn have numerous market grades.

The job of classifying the furs is complicated, there being 150 different grades of Persian lamb alone. With the supply of Karakul from Russia decreased because of the war, more attention is being paid to increasing American flocks in order to satisfy the domestic demand.

ARMS BOOM EVEN PUTS RELIEFERS IN PRIVATE JOBS

Dole Takers Succeed to Vacated WPA Places.

After more than six years of state-federal relief the rolls of the Chicago Relief administration and the federal Work Projects administration have begun to shrink.

The shrinkage, tho steady during the last several months, has been light. And business and industrial conditions in Chicago during the period have been the best the city has known since pre-depression years.

Leave Relief for WPA.

Further, it is found that most of the names erased from the CRA [direct relief] rolls have been entered immediately upon the rolls of the WPA. Thus these persons to all intents and purposes continue to live at public expense.

A corresponding shortening of WPA lists is reported by that agency, but the percentage of those obtaining private employment is small when compared to the total number of WPA cases. Relief officials, however, call attention to the steadiness of the decline.

They also call attention to the announcement by State Treasurer Warren Wright at Springfield that relief costs dropped from 4 million dollars in March to 3½ million in April and that funds earmarked for relief exceeded its cost by $220,000. This was because of legislative restrictions on relief, voted last January.

Surplus Returned to State.

Funds allocated for relief in January exceeded expenditures by $264,117, after heavy holiday buying swelled revenue from the 3 per cent sales tax. These two surpluses went into the general revenue fund which, many times in the past, has been forced to pay deficiencies in relief collections.

The move from WPA into private employment admittedly is the result of stimulation given industry by the armament program. To what extent may it be expected to relieve the state-federal charity burden in Chicago?

Trend for Six Months.

The trend of the last six months is shown by the table below, released by Paul R. Kerschbaum, state statistician for WPA. The figures are for Chicago and represent only those who have left WPA for private employment.

	Gone to Pvt. Employm't.	Returned from Pvt. Employ.	Net Reduct'n.
October ...	560	241	319
November.	531	248	283
December..	556	241	315
January ..	767	526	241
February..	707	346	361
March	972	250	722
*April 1,183		267	916
		Total	3,157

*First 21 days.

The full reduction from Oct. 23, 1940, to April 23, 1941, is 3,657 or about 9 per cent of the 41,101 who were on the rolls seven months ago. The 37,444 now on the rolls represent relief for families totalling 123,944 persons.

Reports Small Decline.

The CRA, a division of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, reports a decline from 77,400 cases in February to 75,000 in March and 74,493 for the first half of April. These cases represent 173,700 persons.

In February the CRA opened 2,909 cases and closed 5,069. In March it opened 2,652 and closed 5,341. The rolls now are at the lowest point since in 1937, the so-called recovery year. At the same time they are 74,493 cases higher than in 1926 when conditions admittedly were not as good as now, but when there was a complete absence of state federal relief.

How far will the present decline continue? Since all persons on WPA presumably are employable, the analyst must turn to the CRA, which lists a number of reasons why certain of its beneficiaries cannot work. Among these are the "over 65" and "permanent disability" classifications. IERC officials admit there is another bar to employment. They refer to this as "mental and behavioristic failing."

Form Problem Class.

If the total unemployables are the permanently disabled, the old and the mental deficient, they undoubtedly form a class that always has been a problem.

Who took care of these persons before the days of state federal relief?

Who, for example, took care of them in 1926? That is a year statisticians have called a normal one. From that year up to 1931, when state relief began, and as far back as the records go, Chicago and Cook county took care of their own.

So did other communities. There were instances of relief—work made available on the streets and the roads in hard times—but it always was a community or a county affair. There were instances of food, clothing, and medicine being given the needy in hard times, but these things in almost all cases were supplied thru public subscription in the community or by the county.

Provided for Destitute.

In 1926 9,805 families in Chicago were provided with food, shoes, milk, medicine, and coal by the Cook county bureau of public welfare. Mothers' pensions of the Juvenile court supplied necessities for 1,538 families whose head was dead, permanently disabled or in prison. Cook county funds paid for this, according to Joseph L. Moss, bureau director.

Added to this was the pension for the blind. The total spent for a whole year was $1,247,364.72. And it was administered by regular county employés. In January of this year the CRA alone spent $2,892,000; in February, $2,807,000.

In 1928 the Chicago charitable organizations had united into the Council of Social Agencies to assist the welfare bureau and to augment pension fund work. In that year $2,689,786 was spent. Of this amount the county paid 63.7 per cent. The social agencies paid the remainder. These agencies were United Charities, Jewish Social Service bureau, Catholic Central Charity bureau, Salvation Army, St. Vincent de Paul society and smaller ones.

Business Gains Shown.

In 1941-'42 pay roll and employment indices show that the armament program has resulted in some of the most noteworthy business gains in 14 years. Business experts assert employment conditions are better than in the 1926-'28 period.

Yet 279,644 persons—8.7 per cent of Chicago's 3,384,556 population—are dependent upon the CRA and the WPA for their living. One person in every 12.

There is no record of outside assistance for Chicago during the depression of 1873, that followed close upon the great fire of 1871.

Chicago butted its way thru the hard times that followed the close of the World's Columbian exposition in 1893. It is true that many would have been hungry had not the politico-saloon keepers helped. Michael [Hinky Dink] Kenna alone is reputed to have fed hundreds a day.

It was the boast of the late Ald. John Powers [19th] that no one ever went hungry in his ward.

The relief rolls are shrinking somewhat now. But relief officials expect that the shrinkage will stop before all the reliefers are off the CRA or WPA rolls. Their reasons for this belief are discussed in future articles.

Meet to Discuss Scholarships

Valued at $18,000

A committee of six college representatives, appointed by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE to administer scholarship grants of 25 colleges and universities of eight states, met yesterday in Tribune Tower. The grants, having a total value of more than $18,000, will be offered by the institutions to high school seniors on the honor roll of the Tribune's radio show, "Citizens of Tomorrow," which is heard on W-G-N each Tuesday from 8:30 to 9 p. m.

Dr. Thomas N. Barrows, president of Lawrence college, Appleton, Wis., chairman of the committee, commented on the character and scholarship attainments of the students. The committee matched the students' preferences with the colleges offering the grants and sent the students' names to the institutions for final decision.

Other schools and their representatives assisting Dr. Barrows are Dean G. Herbert Smith, DePauw university, Greencastle, Ind.; Dr. M. J. Freeman, University of Chicago; Gene Wolfe, Beloit college, Beloit, Wis.; J. Scott Hemry, Stephens college, Columbia, Mo., and Dr. Benjamin W. Van Riper, Carleton college, Northfield, Minn.

Pope Confers Palliums on Twenty Archbishops

VATICAN CITY, May 12 (AP).—Pope Pius XII conferred the customary palliums today on 20 archbishops, including those of San Antonio, Texas, Montevideo, Ottawa, and Montreal, in a secret consistory of the College of Cardinals.

The pallium is a circular band of white wool, with pendants, worn about the neck. The pope alone has the right to confer the pallium. Worn by archbishops, it typifies their participation in the supreme pastoral power of the pope.

PUSH WISCONSIN TAVERN CLEANUP AS BID TO TOURIST

War on Gambling Places and Prostitution.

BY FRED GRAFF.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., May 12.—State officials moved today to "clean up" northern counties preparatory to opening Wisconsin's doors for the annual tourist season.

In a speech at Rice Lake, John W. Roach, chief of the state beverage and cigaret tax division, warned the tavern business will have to operate in strict compliance with the law. He cautioned against gambling, late closing hours, selling to minors, and "loitering" prostitutes. He said taverns that failed to observe the laws would be cleaned up by state agents.

Watch Iron County.

Meanwhile the attorney general's department is keeping a close watch on Iron county, and particularly Hurley, which was ordered several days ago by Attorney General John E. Martin to clamp down on gambling joints and tavern "dives."

State officials disclosed today that the Hurley drive is principally against prostitution, gambling devices, and dope peddling. Martin's order to the Iron county district attorney, which was based on numerous complaints from that area, was to enforce the law "or else."

Cleanup May Go Farther.

It also was pointed out that while Roach's department is concerned principally with enforcing tavern laws, the "clean up" drive may reach farther in view of the requirement that only persons of "good moral character" shall be granted tavern permits.

"What we need is better taverns and fewer of them," Roach declared in his plea to local licensing boards to "use extreme caution and sound judgment" in issuing permits.

Present licenses expire June 30. The legislature recently enacted a law requiring these local boards to meet not later than May 15 and "remain in session thereafter" as long as necessary to give careful study to all applicants.

Plan Limit on Renewals.

"If these boards fulfill their duty, and examine carefully the applicants' records," Roach said, "dives will not be permitted to operate and places that have become stenches in the nostrils of certain communities will be closed permanently. No tavernkeeper should be given a renewal who has been guilty of sales to minors or where gambling or prostitution have been conducted in connection with the tavern.

"A concentrated drive will be launched to eliminate the dumps and dives that disfigure the reputation of a community. All of these places must be eradicated in Wisconsin. The same holds for taverns which fail to comply with all sanitary regulations. The sanitary conditions of some taverns, particularly in the resort area, are abominable.

"The tavern industry is a legitimate, honest business and must be made such by the elimination of undesirables."

Asks Ouster of Perkins; Says 'She Has Earned It'

Washington, D. C., May 12 (AP).—Representative M. Leland Ford [D., Cal.] invited members of the house today to sign a petition asking President Roosevelt to remove Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins. "I think she has earned it and deserves it," Ford told the house.

BIOLOGICAL FOOTNOTE ON WAR MONGERS.

Incitement of males to combat has always been one of the feminine attributes. It is not a useful or admirable quality, but it is clearly recognized in history and biology. Its manifestations run the gamut from Helen of Troy and Cleopatra to little girls in sixth grade, and endocrinologists can explain it whether it appears in a chorine in a Broadway night club or a doe in the Adirondacks.

With or without feminine incitement, men often fight, for good or bad reasons, and probably always will. Combativeness, either personal or national, is biologically and historically explicable.

The male war monger is a different case. Neither history nor biology can produce an explanation for fat old men, senile hysterics, and able bodied men in bombproof public positions who devote their every energy to stirring up wars for other men to fight. They are pathological cases, men with the psychology of women. Their outbursts certainly cannot be looked upon as rational, and while they will be of interest to psychiatrists, what they say can carry little weight with normal men or women.

GRADES OF DEFLATION.

A seat on the New York Stock exchange sold last week for $20,000. It was not disclosed how much the original cost had been to the seller, but the chances are that he had a loss and a big one. In 1929 seats sold for as much as $600,000. Even in those rock bottom, dreary days of 1932 a membership on the big board sold for as much as $185,000. The shrinkage since 1929 has amounted to 97 per cent. The decline in importance of the brokerage business in recent years has been matched by the drop in the selling price of the exchange memberships.

Some of the stocks in which the brokers traded have dropped proportionately more than the value of the seats. Many from personal experience can tell about stocks which have gone down 100 per cent. The good stocks have, of course, done better, altho even their record is a dismal one. The 30 leading stocks which Dow-Jones calls leaders are off 69.3 per cent from the peak in 1929. And United States Steel common, market leader, is selling in the low 50s compared with 262 at the peak 12 years ago, a dive of 79.6 per cent.

This brief review of the deflation of various kinds of property may be of some solace to the real estate owner, whose property isn't worth what he paid for it. A typical house recently sold for $12,000, cost $20,000 12 years ago, down 40 per cent. The owner just had the good fortune to invest his money in the house instead of in Corporation Securities common or even Big Steel. And the farmer who may still be paying for a farm that is worth barely half of his purchase price can thank his lucky stars that he is in the line of work in which the bull is a husband of a cow and not a person who proclaims that it is folly to sell America short.

SHIPS FOR SUEZ.

Mr. Roosevelt has opened the Red sea to American ships, and the maritime commission says that vessels with supplies for Suez are either on their way or soon will be. Nothing more definite is known. How they are going, what they are carrying is kept a secret, but they are bound for a theater of war where the Italians were unable to resist but where the Nazis are appearing in an increasing strength, which already has turned the tide.

These American ships are headed into a danger zone, with Mr. Roosevelt's permission to go to Suez. German planes have already dropped bombs there. That the ships will be under fire is to be expected. That some of them will be sunk is also to be expected. The Germans have said they would attack any supply ships.

When Mr. Roosevelt asked for the repeal of the embargoes by which congress had endeavored to protect the neutrality and preserve the peace of the United States, he said that his purpose was to keep American vessels and American citizens out of war zones and thereby prevent such attacks as brought America into the other war.

He also said that no credits would be given to belligerents and any goods which left the United States would be paid for. Before they were put on board ship title to them would be in foreign ownership and the ships would not be American. Those were his words.

What he did was to substitute the lease-lend bill for the cash and carry provision. Now American vessels are to go into a zone in which the fighting may be intensified very soon. It may be the summer's main battlefield.

GOV. GREEN ON THE HOUSING BILL.

Gov. Green has given his indorsement to the neighborhood redevelopment corporation bill in the form in which it was introduced in the legislature. The governor said he had not read the amendments proposed for the bill, but had the assurance of the bill's backers that they would destroy its usefulness as a slum clearance measure.

The legislature has two options on the housing bill. It can pass it as it was originally drafted, giving private capital the opportunity to assemble sites in blighted, tax delinquent areas and build on them housing developments that will pay taxes with all other property in the community and furnish modern homes to tenants able to pay current rent scales.

Or it can keep in the bill the amendments inserted in committee, which would require builders to furnish so-called low cost housing at rents fixed by a public body. In this event the bill will be a dead letter from the day it is passed. Under such restrictions no investor in his right mind would risk his money, and thus there will be no housing developments of any sort.

Low cost housing and the furnishing of modern, sanitary shelter to present slum dwellers is a perfectly proper, laudable objective. The only objection to it is that no method has yet been devised for achieving it. The federal government, even at the cost of writing off its whole investment in its housing projects, has failed to get very far toward the goal.

The neighborhood redevelopment idea is not a cureall. It is a sound idea for putting private capital to rebuilding slum areas, halting the blight that is destroying the center of Chicago, and helping to remedy the delinquent tax situation that is pushing local governments toward bankruptcy.

If the legislature wants to sacrifice this limited but extremely useful objective to grasp at the chimera of low cost housing, it cannot plead that it does so without warning of the consequences. The sponsors of the bill know what they are talking about when they say that the amendments will destroy it.

FOR CITIZENS OF TOMORROW.

One trouble with American institutions of higher education is that they have on their rolls too many students with no particular interest in education of either high or low degree.

The problem of higher education is not that there are too many colleges, but that they have too many students who don't belong there. Students who should be attending college are in many instances forced by lack of funds for further education to leave high school and seek work in a world that continually offers less opportunity to half trained applicants.

College administrators are keenly aware of their problem. They seek to discourage the country club boys and husband hunting girls who ornament the campus more than they do the classroom. At the same time, by as wide grants of scholarships as their resources will permit, wide awake colleges and universities are seeking to recruit students who will justify the college's expenditure on their education. In every case this is a heavier burden than that carried by the student himself.

To assist in this recruiting of good collegiate material THE TRIBUNE and station W-G-N have arranged with 25 middle western colleges and universities to award scholarships to students who have won places on the honor roll of the radio program, "Citizens of Tomorrow." Listeners to this program have had a chance to gauge the capabilities of some of these young people who have appeared before the microphone. More of them will appear in subsequent weeks.

Positions on the honor roll are awarded by the faculty of the high schools which the pupils attend. Scholarship, character, and leadership in student activities are all considered in picking the students.

The scholarship awards will in all cases be confined to students on the honor roll who would find it difficult to continue their education without such assistance. THE TRIBUNE'S activity in the project will be confined to that of talent scout for the institutions giving the scholarships. The colleges and universities will make the actual awards from an eligibility list of honor roll students prepared by a committee drawn from their various faculties.

THE TRIBUNE and W-G-N feel that it is a privilege to offer their services to the colleges in this project. Recruiting of potential Phi Beta Kappas should be carried on with as much vigor as the recruiting of potential all-Americans. Actually, of course, it is, but it doesn't get the same publicity. That is a defect that we propose to remedy.

Incidentally, Philip Maxwell, who originated the scholarship plan, tells us that there are a number of football captains on his honor roll.

LADIES' LIST.

Among the minor pleasures of traveling is the hotel laundry list. It will charm the antiquarian. It is to literature what Mrs. Thorne's miniature rooms are to interior decoration. It evokes a whole civilization.

The gentlemen who run hotels are men of the world. They know their way about. Little in human nature is concealed from them. It may safely be assumed that they know at least in a general way that there have been some alterations in women's apparel in the last 50 years, but your hotel man is a gentleman of the old school. He doesn't tell everything he knows.

Accordingly, no alterations have been made in the categories to be found in his Ladies' List. Things are just as they always were. This is delightful, but to many of the ladies, baffling. Some have been heard to complain that the things listed are not found in their wardrobes and the items in the wardrobe are not found in the list.

Thus a place is provided for Sacques. The list indicates that depending upon circumstances a sacque can be laundered for from 35 to 50 cents. The price for Wrappers is a little higher, from 50 to 75 cents. A wrapper is not a kimono; that is listed separately. Another item is Aprons and still another, Corset Covers. Provision is made for Petticoats, Undervests, and Union Suits. There is also a space for the listing of Drawers, Cotton [15 to 25 cents] and Drawers, Flannel or Merino [20 to 30 cents]. On the other hand, pajamas are not included. Neither are a number of other items of contemporary interest. Perhaps the theory is that they are too few and brief to mention.

From time to time we are told that this generation has no respect for the past and is happiest when it is destroying its heritage. The hotel laundry list is an evidence that the hotel managers, at least, are not parties to this vandalism. They have not forgotten the solid worth which went with Petticoats, not to say Drawers, Flannel or Merino. As long as President Barr and Prof. Adler cling to their Great Books and the hotel men cling to their laundry list, the future of civilization cannot be wholly despaired of.

TALKING THINGS OVER.

London's Big Ben, damaged by a German bomb, was named after Sir Benjamin Hall, chief commissioner of public works when its bell, weighing 13½ tons, was cast in 1856. It is in St. Stephen's tower, also called the Clock tower, of the houses of parliament. Clock and bell were designed by Baron Grimthorpe, a leader of the parliamentary bar who made a hobby of horology and architecture.

Big Ben is one of the most famous bells in the world, altho by no means the largest. Moscow has the largest in actual use: weight, 128 tons. Incidentally, a reference work published in 1926 states that Big Ben was then cracked.

* * *

Chicago once had a Big Ben, but it was a sea-lion in the Lincoln Park zoo. He escaped in 1903 and took to Lake Michigan. For months thereafter his exploits filled the newspapers. Finally a peasant with a gun found him taking the sun on a beach across the lake and shot him. There was much mourning for Big Ben among the reporters who had chronicled his adventures.

A cablegram from Berlin, stating that railway travel would be curtailed on Whitsuntide, requires a footnote. By ancient tradition that week-end [May 31-June 2 this year] is a time for out-of-door holiday-making, much like our Labor day week-end. They call it Pfingsten.

THE MODERN ABOU.

(With apologies to Leigh Hunt.)

Abou, the Floridan (may his tribe decrease),
Awoke one night from a dream that war might cease
And, moonlight lacking, saw within his room
An apparition writing in the gloom
With flaming pencil on a page of mold.
Exceeding hopefulness made Abou bold.
"What writest thou?" The vision wrote ahead.
"Shall we get in this war?" our Abou said.
The dark guest slowly bowed. Abou with glee
Said loudly, "That's as I would have it be.
Our men are ready now to spill their blood
For other men in cold, or heat, or mud."
The phantom wrote and vanished. The next night
It came again. Of those destined to fight
It read, and Abou's name led all the rest—
But lo! our hero did not stand the test.
He left his coat and cane, but in his flight
He took the casing, sash, and window light.

The Stream of Consciousness in May.

Up at 6:15 as the sun peeps its golden head over the treetops. The birds are singing merrily and the smell of lilacs is in the air. There is the usual half-awake, half-asleep look about the regular riders on the morning rattler. This business of getting up in the middle of the night seems to tell on the less hardy ones who don't go to bed with the chickens.

Things at the office as usual. The stenographers come in on a wave of this or that essence. The gorgeous blonde babe in the corner is full of gab and nodding her head like a duck as she bids the other inmates "Good morning!" The other little chick is fluttering about like a jenny wren looking for a new home. They occasionally chirp together on matters various and sundry.

It's now 3:30 p. m. and am much in need of the cup that cheers. Ho, hum! In a day and a half I'm off to the Smokies. Slumber Bum.

DON'T ALLOW HOARSENESS TO PERSIST.

THE common cause of hoarseness is swelling of the vocal cords due to an infection [laryngitis]. In consequence, these structures can neither come together nor vibrate naturally. The result is a rough, low-pitched sound. Occasionally the malady will be so pronounced that the sufferer can scarcely speak above a whisper.

In addition to inflammation of the larynx [voice box], there may be irritation of the mucous membrane of the throat, which may extend downward as far as the bronchi. Puffing of the tissues may be quite extreme, with labored respiration. In children, the symptom may arouse real fright and apprehension. This is especially true in the type of croup in which "crowing" accompanies the intake of every breath. As a rule, however, the youngster's voice is husky during the daytime. Later, one hour or two after he has fallen asleep, he may develop choking spells.

As most of us know full well, shouting can bring on the condition. Cheering at a baseball game may be so vigorous and prolonged that hemorrhages will occur on the cords, interfering with their function. Newsboys or those who cry their wares are frequent victims until they learn the trick of avoiding overstrain. Excessive smokers or those who work in a dusty atmosphere are likely to be affected. The so-called "clergyman's throat" is common enough in teachers and singers. Here the cords are not able to meet as they should because of the tiny wartlike bumps which appear on their margins.

If the disorder does not abate with rest, or if it comes and goes, no time should be lost in securing a careful examination of the voice box, as tuberculosis or even a tumor growth may be responsible. Minute protuberances may develop on the vibrating strings, disturbing their freedom of action. We should recall, however, that if the tubercle bacillus is the culprit, it has probably come from some preëxisting lesion in the body—the lungs particularly. Now and then an ulcer will form in this region. It may be due to infection and is routinely associated with marked loss of resistance of the tissues.

We must not overlook a form of hysteria in which the power to talk vanishes. This is usually the case in sudden attacks in which the patient is "struck dumb." He cannot raise his voice above a whisper. Those who are subject to apprehension, fears, or frustration are suspectible, and proper psychotherapy may be required for recovery.

Obviously, unless a cold is present, with some signs of bronchial irritation, the sufferer should embrace the first opportunity to find out exactly what is wrong. Any episode of this character which lasts for two or three weeks must be regarded with suspicion. Even if malignancy is detected, early recognition means complete cure. It has been well said that if one must have cancer, this is the ideal portion of the body for its appearance because it grows slowly and spreads with difficulty. Prompt help is unusually effective.

Any one, then, in middle life or beyond—with or without general symptoms such as fever and malaise—should look upon this manifestation as calling for expert aid. The trouble is not one to be trifled with. Furthermore, clear, resonant speaking tones are desirable social and business assets.

MALARIA.

L. H. L. writes:

1. How is malaria transmitted?
2. Once having been cured, can it recur?
3. Is it contagious?

REPLY.

1. The parasites must be introduced directly into the circulation thru the bite of the Anopheles mosquito, of which many varieties exist in the United States.
2. Treatment may be followed by the abatement of symptoms but not by the destruction of all the organisms. There are many hiding places within the body. This may account for recurrences—or, a second infection may take place.
3. Not from person to person, but by the method described in 1.

YEN FOR RICE.

A. R. writes: Is it harmful to eat raw rice? I seem to crave it.

REPLY.

Apparently you are starch hungry. If digestion is normal and if there is no sugar in the urine, indulgence is probably not harmful. On the other hand, we all require a balanced ration for optimum health.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

FROM GEN. DAWES.

Chicago, May 12.—I strongly indorse the statement of Mr. Hoover. It is the voice of reason, of experience, of patriotism, and of statesmanship. It is also the voice of wisdom and will be a guide to his fellow countrymen.

CHARLES G. DAWES.

THE FIGHTING ROOSEVELTS.

Owosso, Mich., May 5.—THE TRIBUNE of May 1 on its first page quotes Mrs. Roosevelt, titular "First Lady," as saying at Los Angeles:

"Any American who will not fight any place his country asks him to fight is not an American."

Surely, when she made this broad assertion, the impulsive lady was not thinking of her husband or of her husband's family. But the invitation to inquire concerning that group of Roosevelts is irresistible.

The President was born on Jan. 30, 1882, so was in his 17th year during the American war with Spain and 35 years old when the United States declared war against Germany. He fought in neither war.

James Roosevelt, the President's father, was born on July 16, 1828, so was of military age during our war with Mexico and during our civil war. He was rich and, to a large extent, an idler. The call for volunteers in both wars was insistent, but he did not enlist, and he never wore a uniform.

Isaac Roosevelt, the President's grandfather, was born in 1790 and lived until 1863. He inherited wealth and obtained more by his marriage, and he never attempted any gainful occupation. He fought neither in the war of 1812, at the beginning of which he was 22 years old, nor in the war with Mexico.

James Roosevelt, the President's great-grandfather, was born on Jan. 19, 1760, and died in 1847. He was never a soldier altho, as he had almost completed his 22d year when Washington defeated Cornwallis at Yorktown, he had opportunity to fight both as a revolutionary soldier and in 1812-'14. Actually, he remained in New York City during the British occupation and married the daughter of a rich Tory brewer.

Isaac Roosevelt, next in the ancestral series, really did enlist, when past 50 years of age, in the Dutchess county militia, of which his wealthy father-in-law was the chief commander. But there is no record that he ever saw any fighting. If, however, he obtained and wore a uniform, he was the only one of the five Roosevelts in this lineal succession to wear his country's uniform at any time when his country was engaged in any war. H. T. NEWCOMB.

AN AUNTIE FOR THE DRAFTEES.

Chicago, May 9.—Is your paper Auntie to a bunch of pantie-waists who can't take a year in the army? It is noticed that when draftees are annoyed by this or that they pour out their grievances to you. These "complaints" reached an all-time low in Mr. De Woody's of the 9th. So the poor thing can't eat grits. Tck! Tck! GEORGE DAVIS.

NONE GOING HUNGRY.

Fort Custer, Mich., May 9.—In answer to a letter from a "mother of one of them" published today in regard to the food situation here at Fort Custer:

I do not believe any one in the army is going hungry by fault of the army food. Perhaps some of these "selectees" do not find the food as good as the "pies that mother use to make," but I know it is good, wholesome food. We have never gone without meat for a full day, having it at least once a day and most times twice a day. For breakfast the favorite seems to be bacon and eggs or pancakes.

As for the cafeteria system, we do not employ that style of service in our messhall and I have never seen any steam tables to keep the food warm in any army post.

I'm afraid some of these boys who do the biggest complaining over the food are often the biggest "chow hounds."

I believe all the new men when they arrive at any army post or reception center are made as comfortable as possible. All army officers want to make the year these men have to spend as pleasant as possible. CORPORAL JOHN E. JUSTICE,
Company B, 5th Medical battalion.

FINDS THE SAME OLD TRIBUNE.

Chicago, May 8.—After an absence of nearly 20 years from Chicago, I have found THE TRIBUNE unchanged in any of its policies.

Twenty years ago when I favored any issue, local or national, I was glad to find THE TRIBUNE opposed to it, since that nearly always meant success.

It is with equal jubilation that I read The Tribune's vituperation against the New Deal and its foreign policy, since nothing, I'm sure, could make them both more certain of success.

CALLS DOG CATCHERS INHUMAN.

Chicago, May 9.—I just saw a little dog picked up by the dog catchers this morning on Giddings street in the most inhuman way. The dog was swung around in a circle in the air with a rope around its neck, screaming pitifully, and then was thrown full force into the wagon. Cannot something be done about this?

Some one should put a rope around the dog catcher's neck and swing him around in the same manner.

MRS. H. F. REHFELDT,

NO COMPLAINTS.

Oak Park, Ill., May 6.—In reply to Private T. J. M. at Camp Croft: I have a son at Camp Croft, also one at Fort Sheridan.

DEED TO PROPERTY.

Galesburg, Ill., May 7.—[Legal Friend of the People].—A daughter has been paying taxes for the last eight years on land that was [1] deeded to her in 1923 by mother and father. Father died in 1923. The daughter has land in her name on tax books but [2] has never had a quitclaim deed made by mother. Deed states that mother gets lifetime rentals.

3. Could the mother now get control of the land?
4. The daughter has had active control of the land for the last eight years, since the mother would not take care of it and has improved on it since.
5. The mother has signed quitclaims to other lands to son.
6. How long do you have to pay taxes on land before you can get title?

B. M.

1. This means that both parents signed a deed.
2. This is inconsistent with your statement at 1. We cannot advise to advantage without having your facts more accurately.
3. If the property originally belonged to the father and he conveyed it in a deed giving the mother a lifetime interest then presumably she can now assert that lifetime interest.
4. This would not necessarily cut off the mother's rights.
5. This is immaterial.
6. As between strangers, seven years' payment of taxes can give a good title to a person who has some kind of a deed, but it seems probable that the statute would not run on your facts.

CLUB DIGS HIDDEN MEANING OUT OF GUILELESS WORD

Things That Are Not What They Seem Amuse Group.

If you had been at the semimonthly meeting of the Cryptographers club at the Morrison hotel last night you would have been shown the following for sale want ad:

HAVE COZY tearoom, unusually busy. Now open. Outside noisy traffic area. Historic. Sell at cost. Good nightly income.
ROBERT BROWN.

On being questioned about it you probably would have replied that it seemed obvious a Mr. Brown was trying to sell his tearoom. The cryptographers would have laughed quite loudly, pointing out that you should read only the first letter of each word, beginning with Brown and going backward in the ad. Doing that, you would get: "Bring cash at noon. Butch."

Some Are Veterans.

Cryptographers are people who derive amusement thru solving ciphers and cryptograms. Some of them have been at it many years. Martin Davis, a painter, and R. L. Thompson, a railroad man, who are president and vice president, respectively, are veterans. Miss Anne Brandner, secretary, calls herself an amateur.

There are many types of cryptograms, all based on substitution of numbers or letters for the letters of the alphabet. Elementary ciphers were introduced by Edgar Allan Poe and A. Conan Doyle in their detective stories.

The simpler ones can be solved by figuring the frequency with which certain letters or symbols appear in the text. The most frequent symbol will probably stand for E. T is next in frequency, followed by A, O, N, I, R, S, H, L, and D. TH is the most common two letter combination.

There are tougher ciphers that require special slide rules and tables of letters to make them clear. Among such cryptograms are those in which two or three letters, alternated, may represent a single letter.

The Chicago club, which is affiliated with the American Cryptograph association, received permission of the war department and the federal bureau of investigation to conduct its studies of secret writing and to exchange mysterious letters with others.

Services Useful to Government.

The club has no connection with the federal government, but members asserted their course of study is the same as that which the government would have to give persons being trained in breaking down ciphers. They carry on these studies purely as a hobby, but said their services would be available to law enforcement agencies or the government if required. This about exhausts the practical uses of cryptography.

Of course, it is suggested you might use your skill to write the boss a letter apparently telling him what a fine fellow he is, but actually saying: "What you don't know about this business would fill a book. Besides, you're a fathead." He wouldn't understand, but you'd feel better.

THREE HIGHWOOD TAVERNS WILL GET HEARINGS

Mayor Charles Portilia of Highwood yesterday notified three Highwood tavern operators that public hearings will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the suburb's city hall on complaints that the taverns have violated the city liquor ordinance. Mayor Portilia said Fort Sheridan authorities and citizens had complained that the taverns served liquor to minors, intoxicated persons and persons of ill repute. The taverns, all on Waukegan avenue, are operated by Mrs. Mary Lucenti, Mrs. Virginia Menicucchi, and Arthur Bernardi.

WE KNOW

WHAT THE 1941 Bride PREFERS

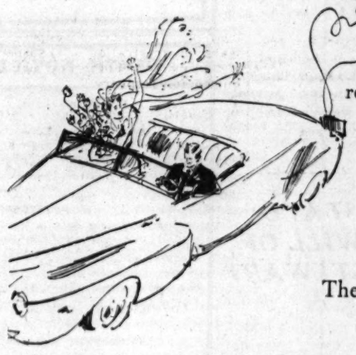
FOR SHE HAS TOLD US



You love her—this girl you're about to see married. You know she lives in an exciting world—and an exacting one. She knows this, too, and is counting on you to remember—when you choose her present. It will be a practical one, she hopes, aimed not alone at today—but toward the gracious home she will have later on.

These gifts she has told us she loves: a sterling silver place setting in her favorite pattern, a coffee set like her mother's, a silver bowl she can use for salads or desserts, even for flowers. She would rather have a place setting in china and more than likely her pattern will be either Lenox or Wedgwood.

Her preferences in crystal are practical, too— a place setting in "Cedric," perhaps a dozen highball glasses, monogrammed, of course, and a console set of many uses.
Lamps a bride would rather choose for herself, but she loves them in pairs and will invariably select Lenox. Her linen preference is for gleaming white damask for a flower-splashed tea set and, pure whimsy, an  organdy doily set.

Don't forget blankets or satin down puffs —they're marked "most important."

To make it easier for you, the bride you know has, more than likely, listed her preferences with our new Wedding Bureau on the second floor. (Since January 1, hundreds of Chicago brides have registered here every month!) Even if she hasn't, our Bridal Secretaries know her problem, and can surely help you.

FIGHT ON CANCER WAGED WITH NEW POTENT WEAPONS

Institute Reports Gains in 3 Pronged Campaign.

Steady improvement of new methods for treating cancer of the mouth and throat were reported yesterday at the meeting of the trustees of the Chicago Tumor institute, 21 West Elm street. The new methods employ X-rays and radium.

The institute, founded in 1938, has three chief purposes: development of more effective treatment, training of young physicians in these methods, and actual treatment of cases.

Design New Devices.

In concentrating on throat and mouth cancer—which once was regarded as almost incurable—many new devices have been designed by the institute staff. Among these are applicators that concentrate radium's full force upon affected spots, at the same time shielding normal tissue from the powerful rays.

The institute's radium "bomb" [so-called because of its shape] has been rebuilt to increase its effectiveness. The bomb contains 10 grams or about $250,000 worth of radium that will give off rays for the next century. Its X-ray equipment is valued at $250,000.

Young physicians from Honolulu, Manila, and Peking are among the men now in training at the institute. Europeans and South Americans have also attended it. This work, in line with the program of the National Cancer institute, is regarded of the highest importance because of the dearth of adequately trained men. As their knowledge increases they assist the institute's staff of eight physicians.

Treat 1,301 Patients.

Treatment has been given 1,301 patients. Cancer specialists are reluctant to say that a cure has been effective until five years have passed, but the institute's results are increasingly promising, according to Dr. Arthur Compton, vice president, and Dr. Max Cutler, director.

Lack of money does not deprive sufferers of treatment. One-third of the institute's patients are indigent, another third semi-indigent, a sixth can pay the bare cost of treatment, and only one-sixth is able to pay reasonable fees.

An important phase of the work is education of the public to recognize cancer in its early stages and to obtain treatment promptly. One of its problems is the cancerphobe, or healthy person who imagines he has the disease.

Find Cancerphobia Difficult.

The institute has found several cases in which the phobia is extremely difficult to control, even after the patient has been assured he is free of cancer. He usually imagines that his true condition is being withheld from him. These people suffer actual physical agonies and some have developed suicidal tendencies.

The trustees yesterday were told that the institute's financial condition is improving. It is supported by private gifts and by fees and works in coöperation with the United States Veterans Cancer clinic at Hines, the Union Medical college [Rockefeller Foundation] at Peking, China, and the Government Cancer hospital, Lima, Peru.

HASKELL COFFIN, ARTIST, KILLED IN 3 STORY PLUNGE

St. Petersburg, Fla., May 12 (AP).—Haskell Coffin, 63 years old, magazine illustrator and portrait painter, died today about an hour after he plunged to the ground from his third story hospital room where Coroner John T. Fisher said he had been confined with a mental illness. Coffin was found unconscious on the lawn by hospital attendants. Fisher termed the death a suicide.

Coffin, a frequent winter visitor to the city, came here last October and later was sued for distress of rent and removed from his hotel to a hospital. He was the former husband of Actress Frances Starr.

He is survived by three sons, Haskell and Martin of New York and Amory of Atlanta. A brother, Frank Trenholm Coffin, lives in New York, and a sister, Mrs. Wallace A. Beatty, in Washington.

GIRL RUN DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE DIES IN HOSPITAL

Clara Alway, 5 years old, 1954 Dayton street, was fatally injured yesterday when she was run down by an automobile at Wisconsin avenue and Dayton street. She died in St. Joseph's hospital. The driver was Rudolph Schaffer, 18, of 1110 Wellington avenue.

Mrs. Elsie Burns, 25 years old, of 7234 South Halsted street, was killed Sunday night in a collision near Valparaiso, Ind. The car in which she was riding with her husband, D. M. Burns, collided with a car driven by Herbert Swanson of Gary. The Burns' daughter, Susan, 2, was injured.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 314 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 235 were killed in Chicago, where 7,296 were injured in the same period.

M. L. ROTHSCHILD ESTATE VALUED AT 3 MILLIONS

The will of Maurice L. Rothschild, State street merchant who died April 23, was filed yesterday in the Lake county Probate court in Waukegan. A petition filed with the will estimated the estate's value at $3,000,000.

As disclosed last week when the terms of the will were made public, half of the merchant's estate was left to his widow, Mrs. Hulda B. Rothschild, 2031 South Sheridan road, Highland Park.

Details of the will, as released last week, provide specific bequests of $967,000 to individuals and charitable institutions. The petition filed yesterday explains that $518,500 of these bequests will come from the widow's share of the estate.

The will proper contained 35 typewritten pages and was dated Jan. 21, 1938. Two codicils were attached, one of six pages, dated Jan. 27, 1939, and one of three pages, April 5, 1941.

It is expected that a hearing will be held on the will Thursday by Probate Judge Martin C. Decker. After the hearing, the executors of the estate have 60 days in which to file an inventory.

MILK DRIVERS' UNION REJECTS CONTRACT BID

Three thousand members of the Milk Wagon Drivers' union, local 753, last night rejected the principal terms of a proposal for a new contract made by the Associated Milk Dealers. The members, meeting in the Ashland Boulevard auditorium, followed recommendations of their negotiating committee which has been conferring with the dealers since the old contract expired April 30. Thomas Haggerty, secretary-treasurer, heads the committee.

The dealers' proposal would have boosted the drivers' base wage from $43.74 to $48 a week, erasing the pay cut agreed upon after the strike a year ago. Bonuses for sales over the base rate quotas would have been reduced, however. A separate scale for drivers who make quantity deliveries to retail stores also was rejected.

Some of the dealers' proposals, such as a $5 weekly pay increase [to $55] for foremen, were accepted. Further negotiations were expected to take place soon.

THREE CEMETERY WREATH THIEVES FINED; ONE JAILED

Three men caught last week with a truckload of flowers and floral equipment stolen from Mount Carmel cemetery, were fined for disorderly conduct yesterday by Police Magistrate George Basco of Melrose Park.

The men and their fines were Joseph Lobe, 28 years old, 4732 North avenue, $100; Edward Dragosch, 23, of 1507 Van Buren street, $25, and Lawrence Haarman, 21, of 5428 23d street, Cicero, $25. Unable to pay the fine, Lobe was sent to the county jail.

The three were originally charged with larceny, but this charge was reduced on recommendation of Assistant State's Attorney Henry Zadek. It was explained that ownership of the floral loot would have been been difficult to prove in support of the larceny charge, and that the defendants had no previous records and were not members of an organized gang.

H. H. Fletcher, Winchester Ex-Mayor, Dies in Crash

Fort Worth, Tex., May 12 (AP).—Dr. H. H. Fletcher, 68 years old, former managing officer of the Illinois Soldiers' and Sailors' home at Quincy, and one time mayor of Winchester, Ill., was fatally injured yesterday in an automobile accident 10 miles north of here. His wife was seriously hurt. Dr. Fletcher headed the Quincy institution during the administration of the late Gov. Louis L. Emmerson.

OBITUARIES

Felix D. Doubleday.

New York, May 12 [Special].—Announcement was made here tonight of the death Saturday in Lausanne, Switzerland, of Felix D. Doubleday, 53 years old, a former resident of this city, who had been living in Paris for many years. His death followed a long period of invalidism due to gas wounds received in the world war. Mr. Doubleday was a nephew and an adopted son of the late Frank N. Doubleday, publisher, whose son, Nelson Doubleday, is president and chairman of the board of Doubleday, Doran and company. His first marriage, in 1915, to Rhoda Tanner, ended in divorce in 1924. A similar conclusion terminated his union with Elizabeth Heymann of Vienna. Mr. Doubleday leaves a daughter, believed to be living in Vienna.

Alfred Adams Drew.

Alfred Adams Drew, who was general agent in Chicago of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company from 1919 until his retirement in 1937, died yesterday in the Evanston hospital. He was 75 years old. Since his retirement, Mr. Drew had lived on his estate at Belgrade, Me. He arrived in Evanston last Friday to visit his daughter, Mrs. A. S. Ingersoll, 1834 Wesley avenue. He was accompanied by his wife, Julia Hall Drew. Services will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 1567 Maple avenue, Evanston. Mr. Drew also leaves another daughter, Miss Winifred Drew, of New York.

James G. Gilmore.

Funeral services for James G. Gilmore, manager of the floor coverings division and branch offices of Carson Pirie Scott & Co., wholesale, will be held at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow in St. Athanasius church, Evanston. Mr. Gilmore died Sunday at the age of 55 in his home at 2758 Broadway, Evanston. He leaves his widow, Catherine, two sons, and a daughter.

Howard S. Smith.

Howard S. Smith, president of the J. P. Smith Shoe company, 671 North Sangamon street, since 1934, died yesterday in the Highland Park hospital. He was 58 years old. Mr. Smith leaves his widow, May, and three daughters. Funeral services will be held at 4:30 p. m. tomorrow in the family home at 203 Prospect avenue, Highland Park.

Dr. William Davenport.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 12 (AP).—Dr. William Davenport, 76, former dentist who became poet laureate of Tennessee, died yesterday. A native of North Adams, Mass., he practiced dentistry in New York until he lost his right hand in a hunting accident. He came to Philadelphia and became a proofreader and later appeared with Julia Marlowe and Edward H. Sothern in Shakespeare's plays. He was named poet laureate of Tennessee for his poem "The Light of Stars." For the last 10 years he had served as a clerk in the Philadelphia General hospital. Survivors include the widow, who lives with a daughter near Chicago, and a son.

Dr. Allen K. Krause.

Providence, R. I., May 12 (AP).—Dr. Allen Kramer Krause, 61, of Baltimore, prominent in medical research, died today. Internationally known for his work on tuberculosis, he was a lecturer in medicine at Johns Hopkins medical school. He had held positions at the University of California and Stanford and was a former president of the Desert sanitorium in Tucson, Ariz.

Rt. Rev. John J. Tierney.

Emmitsburg, Md., May 12 (AP).—The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. Tierney, 88, dean emeritus of the faculty of Mount St. Mary's college, died early today after an illness of several months. He wrote many articles for Catholic publications, and was a member of the Oriental society and Catholic Bible Association of America. A brother, Thomas, of Louisville, survives.

George Posner.

George Posner, a retired caterer, died in the Montrose avenue hospital yesterday. He was born in Posen, Germany, 87 years ago, and had lived in Chicago since 1879. His home was at 4317 North Wolcott avenue. Three sons and two daughters survive. Services will be at 10 a. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 3021 Fullerton avenue.

Michael E. Brady.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 12 (AP).—Michael E. Brady, 43, for 15 years Brooklyn Daily Eagle staff cartoonist and contributor to national magazines, died Saturday of a heart attack.

PRINCESS RADZIWILL, WHO WROTE OF CZAR'S COURT, IS DEAD AT 84

New York, May 12 [Special].—Mrs. Charles Louis Kolb-Danvin, 84, the former Princess Catherine Radziwill, daughter of a czarist Russian army officer, who fled from her native land after the bolshevik revolution, died here last night. Well known as a writer and lecturer under her title of princess, Mrs. Kolb-Danvin had become an American citizen.

She continued her writing efforts until a few hours before her death, insisting that her knowledge of Europe could be of great value in the present world crisis.

The former princess was the daughter of Count Adam Lzewuski, Russian army officer. Her friends included many of the young Romanoffs. She wrote many episodes of a youth spent close to the throne of the czars. Her first marriage was to Prince Adam Charles Radziwill, then living in Berlin. Before the prince's death in 1910 the princess had acted as secretary to the kaiserin, wife of Emperor Frederick.

$600,000 ESTATE LEFT IN WILL OF AGNES STEWART

The will of Miss Agnes Nannie Stewart, daughter of William Stewart, pioneer Chicago wholesale grocer, was filed in Probate court yesterday and admitted to probate. It disposed of a $600,000 estate, the income of which was left to her brother, Prichard Stewart, 6900 Sheridan road. At his death the estate will go to his three children. Miss Stewart died April 26 in the family mansion at 1551 Dearborn parkway. She was 83 years old. Her sister, Miss Eglantine Stewart, who now occupies the home, received the household effects.

BARE HUMPHREYS GRAB OF HOTEL LAUNDRY SERVICE

Probers Study Merger of Trade Concerns.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

The story of the attempted rule of Chicago's cleaning and dyeing industry by Murray Humphreys, a lieutenant in the Nitti-Humphreys-Stanton crime syndicate, was the subject of study yesterday by Assistant State's Attorney William Crawford. One of the chapters concerned Humphreys' seizure of the hotel laundry trade.

Crawford's inquiry is an outgrowth of the bat murder April 23 of Anton Gorczak, a driver for the Republic Cleaners. It also concerns investigation of the bat murder Feb. 10, 1938, of Lloyd Rourke, an independent laundry wagon driver. The record of the industry's recent years features several murder tales, Crawford declared.

Meanwhile the latest Humphreys dominated company to come under official scrutiny—the Klever Shampay Cleaning company—was reported to be reorganizing. It was closed April 28 by Mayor Kelly and State's Attorney Courtney.

U. S. Court Move Indicated.

Humphreys' hopes of getting it reopened were said to lie in an appeal to the federal courts. Two part owners of the concern recently formed a corporation under Delaware laws in a move regarded as a step in that direction. It was said this would permit the company, as a corporate citizen of Delaware, to ask the federal courts for what it could not expect from Illinois courts.

"Humphreys has attempted for many years to dominate the cleaning industry in Chicago thru terrorism," Crawford charged. "Our present investigation goes back to the time Al Capone paid Paddy Berrell, a union official, $35,000 to get out of the Boulevard Cleaners and let Capone take its business."

Yesterday Crawford questioned Morris Gordon, 38 years old, 1159 East 52d street, treasurer of the Individual Towel and Cabinet Service company, 3258 St. Lawrence avenue, and owner of two shares of stock in the Klever Shampay Cleaning company. Gordon said his principal associates in that concern were Sam Wolfe and Jack Rousso, who were rated as millionaires and known as "tip trust kings" before the 1929 depression because they held checkroom and washroom concessions in many Chicago hotels.

Checkroom Business Collapses.

As Crawford had the story, the checkroom business collapsed after Wolfe and Rousso had paid large amounts for concessions which proved worthless. The partners then started a new business—linen supply.

"They contracted with many hotels to let them supply fresh linen each day," Crawford said. "The hotels found it more profitable to deal with them than to operate their own laundries. Wolfe and Rousso were on the way to another fortune—until Humphreys came along."

According to Crawford's information Humphreys took over the business and put the partners on small salaries—they to manage the business, Humphreys to "muscle" customers for them.

Gordon told Crawford of the formation of the Individual Towel and Cabinet Service company.

"Gordon said he formerly was a part owner of the Certified Linen company with Rousso and Wolfe," Crawford said. "He said Murray Humphreys' wife, known as Mary C. Brendle, was another of the owners. This company and the National Towel company were merged with the Individual Towel company into one big concern which now does a business of $600,000 a year.

Wolfe Faces Questioning.

"Gordon said the National company had been operated by Barney and Robert Lippman, brothers, and that Robert Lippman now is manager of the Individual Towel company. I will have Wolfe in for questioning as soon as I can reach him. Rousso is reported to be in California."

The reorganization of the Klever Shampay company came to the prosecutor's attention thru a petition filed with Secretary of State Hughes for a permit for the Gaines Dry Cleaners, Inc., a Delaware corporation, to engage in business in Illinois. The corporation was formed by Samuel Ginsburg and his brother, Emanuel, part owners of Klever Shampay. The Gaines company address was given as 4633-49 Cottage Grove avenue.

"That is the address of the Klever Shampay company," Crawford said. "Sam Ginsburg is known as Sam Gaines and as Doc Gaines."

Corporation Counsel Hodes, who successfully resisted a plea by the Klever Shampay company for an injunction to reopen the plant, said he would be ready for any appeal filed in a federal court. He said he had notified the company of numerous violations of city ordinances found in the structure and maintenance of the cleaning plant before it was closed.

Gets 199 Years

KILLER GETS 199 YEARS; SCREAMS 'GIVE ME CHAIR'

Two Associates Sentenced to 14 Years Each.

A killer bandit and policeman hater, 18 years old, pounded on a counsel table and screamed for the electric chair yesterday when he was sentenced to 199 years in prison for murder.

He professed amazement that he was accused of murder, arguing that the man he shot to death in a holdup was to blame because he resisted in his own defense and that of a girl he was escorting.

The killer is Thomas Hetherington of 3403 Hirsch street, who killed John A. Meyer on Jan. 29 in a holdup at the Players' club, a night life place on the third floor at 75 West Randolph street. His companion in the holdup, Robert Trent, 21, of 639 West 55th street, was sentenced to 14 years in prison.

Another Gets 14 Years.

A third man, who was not present at the murder, was also sentenced to 14 years' imprisonment for murder after the others testified that he supplied them with guns and suggested that they rob the Players' club. He is Michael Battiato, 25, of 6103 Evans avenue.

All three pleaded guilty before Judge Walter J. La Buy in Criminal court.

Witnesses testified that Trent jumped up on the bar and ordered about 20 patrons to lay their valuables on the floor. At that moment there was a buzz from the elevator, indicating that some one wanted to come up. Hetherington said he would go down. Theodore Joseph testified that he begged Hetherington not to, lest it be the police and there be a shooting."

"I'd just as soon shoot it out with the cops as any one else," Joseph said Hetherington retorted.

Robber Shoots Twice.

Hetherington took the elevator down and returned with Meyer, 29, a salesman from Belleville, and a young woman. Once inside the club, Hetherington told Meyer a holdup was in progress. Meyer pushed the bandit into a corner and the bandit shot him twice. The robbers were captured by a police squad as they were fleeing.

Judge La Buy commented on Hetherington's hatred for the police and his disregard for human life in sentencing him. Hetherington then began pounding the table and screaming:

"Give me the chair! Will you give me the chair? You might as well give it to me now as afterward."

It was necessary for bailiffs to subdue the prisoner and drag him out.

Mothers Accuse Battiato.

The mothers of both Hetherington and Trent testified that Battiato repeatedly had telephoned their sons in the month before the holdup. Hetherington's mother, Mrs. Martha Hetherington, said she had begged Battiato to leave her son alone and that Battiato answered that she would be sorry for talking to him that way. She said that her son warned her later, "Mother, don't ever do that. I might be found in an alley with a bullet in my head."

Hetherington and Trent met in the Bridewell, where they had been sent for larceny after holdup charges against them had been reduced before Judge John Prystalski. They said they learned in the Bridewell that Battiato would provide guns and suggest places to rob for one-third of the proceeds. They got in touch with him after their release.

Hetherington was sentenced to one year to life for a previous robbery and Trent to 1 to 20 years for the earlier robbery, in addition to the sentences for murder. Trent's youthful wife and his baby, two weeks old, saw him sentenced.

DIES IN TAVERN.

An unidentified man about 35 years old died yesterday in a tavern at 3239 North avenue, apparently the victim of a heart attack.

Miss Olivia Brown, 19 years old, 209 West Walton street, stabbed Rudy Vincent, 29, a Filipino, to death with a potato knife yesterday in a scuffle outside of the restaurant at 642 North State street, where she worked as a waitress. She told Chicago avenue police she had quarreled with him and that he had followed her to work and slapped her.

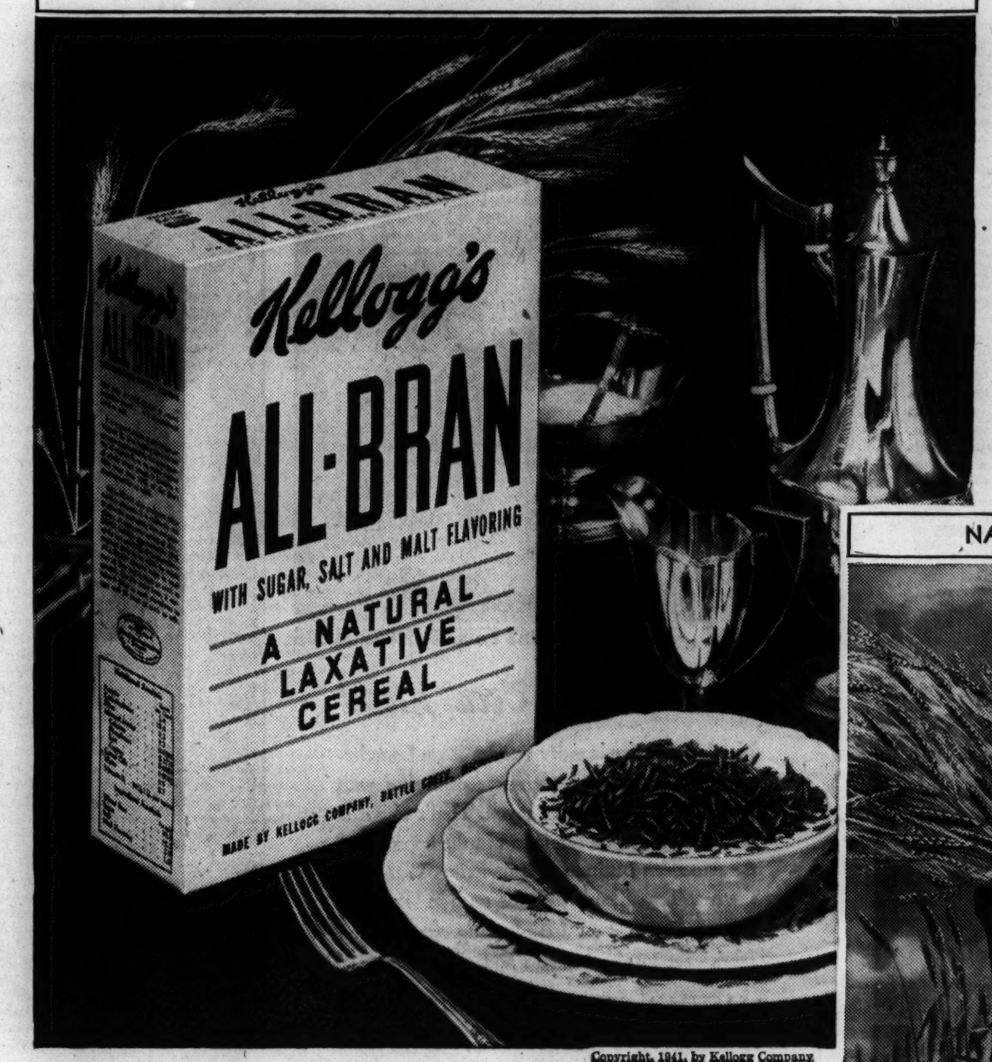
TODAY YOUR GROCER CAN SUPPLY IT!
THIS IMPROVED, DOUBLY DELICIOUS
"GOLDEN SOFT" KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN

IT'S LIGHTER! CRISPER! BRIGHT AS SHREDS OF GOLD!



Copyright, 1941, by Kellogg Company

WHAT'S THIS? An improvement in an old favorite cereal? It is indeed! Just wait till you taste it!

IT'S DOUBLY DELICIOUS! It's made of finer quality bran from one of the world's softest wheats! Ask your grocer today for the improved "Golden Soft" KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN.

"Why improve an old favorite cereal like KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN?" many people have asked us. Because making a good thing better is an old American custom. And because Kellogg's grain buyers have discovered a marvelous wheat from which comes a bran of exceptional quality.

Put through ALL-BRAN's toasting ovens, the bran from this choice wheat came out bright as shreds of gold—and lighter, crisper, more delicate than any we had used in more than 20 years of making this famous laxative cereal.

And now the improved and more delicious ALL-BRAN is at your grocer's. If you or other members of your family are troubled with constipation due to lack of proper "bulk" in the diet, try the improved ALL-BRAN. It is just as effective as ever—but doubly delicious.

Eat it every day, and drink plenty of water. ALL-BRAN is made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

NATURE GAVE THIS WHEAT SPECIAL SOFTNESS

GRAIN MEN KNOW it as one of the world's softest wheats—this special variety that is grown on the Pacific Coast, and in a few midwestern and eastern areas, is used for the finest pastry flours. It is the bran from this finer wheat that is now used in "Golden Soft" KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN.

Vegetable and Meat Calories Are Listed by Cooking Editor

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

A woman engaged in sedentary work, such as stenography, usually needs no more than 2,000 to 2,200 calories a day. An active woman may need 2,500 calories or more.

Calorie counting is not of great importance except in building up diets or reducing schedules, and then a woman needs to know just how much fuel value she's getting from her three meals a day.

In previous articles I've listed the calories in common beverages and desserts. Here's some information about meats and vegetables. Next week, Tuesday, I'll list calories in breadstuffs, salads, and cheese.

CALORIES IN MEATS AND VEGETABLES.

Asparagus, canned tips, 1 cup, 50 calories.

Asparagus, creamed, ¼ cup, 100 calories.

Asparagus, fresh cooked, 10 large stalks, 7½ inches long, 50 calories.

Bacon, cooked, 4-5 small slices, 100 calories.

[Bacon fat, 100 calories per tablespoonful.]

Beans, canned or baked, ½ cup, 100 calories.

Beans, baked dried limas, ½ cup, 100 calories.

Beans, fresh buttered limas, ¾ cup, 100 calories.

Beans, buttered string, 1 cup, 86 calories.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 club	Pass	2 no trump
Pass	Pass	Pass

I am reporting this bidding as it took place in a better than average game. On a low heart opening from South, East easily made his contract, thereby snatching a game from under the very noses of North and South.

It is quite true that the two no trump contract could have been defeated, but in view of the fact that a normal opening from South, either a low heart or a low diamond, would have given the enemy eight tricks, this is scarcely a pertinent point. The game was really lost, to all intents and purposes, when South, a "conservative player," decided to "play safe" and pass originally, rather than make the light opening bid of one heart. Time and again I have pointed out that this particular type of conservatism is fatuous, and usually fatal. A player who passes with South's hand is, in the final analysis, not avoiding danger. He is courting it! Of couse, his reasoning is that he can't get hurt if he passes, but is this not just a bit silly? Isn't he hurt when the opponents steal a game right out of his pocket?

Note how helpless South's original pass renders his team. West makes the normal opening bid and now North, who certainly cannot rely on getting three tricks, not to mention a good fit, from a partner who has passed originally, dare not stick his neck out with a heart overcall. East, a cagy player, takes full advantage of his part-score and makes an unorthodox jump to two no trump, the only game contract his team has the slightest chance to fulfill. Now North and South are shut out with a vengeance and it is only sheer luck if they defeat the contract. The chance to defend has been irrevocably lost by the failure to attack.

It is a far different matter when South makes the perfectly legitimate, orthodox, and justified bid of one heart. Now North can assume a large share of the burden and, certainly, the opponents will not steal a game. It is possible that North-South will get one trick too high at four hearts, but surely this is less to be feared than what actually took place.

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

When you're all in—and look it—the simple trick of bathing your eyes with a good lotion may be all that's needed to perk up your face. Try it some time and see. And if you're smart you'll develop the eye-bath habit. The eyes need a little extra cleansing in hot, windy weather; they'll be brighter and more rested for it.

You'll find it easy to slip into the good custom of the daily eye bath if your lotion has as a companion piece a little stack of sterilized paper eye cups. One fine lotion we know of is packaged with this extra attraction—and for our money it's one of the most brilliant little notions the cosmetic industry has produced in a long time. It's essential that the eye cup should be sterilized, you know, and the bother of cleansing and warming the glass or metal cup has always been something of a handicap to the average person.

After a night when sleep eludes you the good eye lotion is invaluable. You as well as your eyes will feel refreshed if you treat yourself to an eye bath.

Tiny Daughter Now Can Dress Like Mother

BY REA SEEGER.

They say "mimic" fashions started on the cover page of a famous women's magazine—really the brilliant idea of some illustrator rather than a regulation designer. Whatever the fashion history, these clever mother and small daughter clothes are tremendously popular with both members of the duet.

The dresses made for the small moppets are exact copies of what the fashionwise mother wears, down to the smallest detail. The color and the color contrasts are identical; so are the accents of decoration and material.

There's a new summertime collection now on display that is causing excitement. In this showing are the vivid peasant style playtime or country dresses. Bright blue with white, bright red with white and a good range of equally effective other color contrasts are available.

The small sizes have cunning scraps of aprons copied from the larger version on mother's peasant-colored embroidery is another repeated device in design and combination of colors. Gathered short sleeves and gathered straight skirts are used in both sizes.

Cool white dresses are enlivened with wandering panels of red or blue narrow braid around the hem and around the edge of the square sailor boy collar. The material resembles smart semirough linen and is cool enough to keep you comfortable on the warmest day.

If you like the fun of dressing your small daughter in copies of your own summer dresses you'll also have fun with the matched accessories. There are all kinds of brimmed white piqué hats, some fetching bonnet styles that are anything but infantile and some other small crisp white hats carefully made for both daughter and mother. White handbags, white gloves and even the festively designed white and colored footgear have been assembled in the same showing ready for the rush of shopprs and their diminutive copycats.

Two-Piece Summer Dress

WOMAN'S AND MISS' TWO-PIECE FROCK.

The two-piece dress is famous for its versatility and practicality in the wardrobe. This is especially true during the summer. This pattern may be made up in a variety of ways, two of which are illustrated. The sailor model is particularly stamped with the smartness of 1941. The emblem for the sleeve, No. 11210, must be ordered separately.

Style No. 2929 is designed for sizes 12, 14, and 16, and 36, 38 and 40 inch bust measurements.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Capacity House Greets Yiddish Music Comedy

"GOLDELE DEM BEKERS."
["GOLDELE, THE BAKER'S DAUGHTER."]

Musical comedy [in Yiddish] in two acts and 16 scenes. Book by I. Friedman. Music by Ilia Trilling. Lyrics by Chaim Tauber. Settings by M. Saltzman. Dances by Moe Zarr. Presented by Herman Yablokoff in the Studebaker theater, Monday evening, May 12, 1941.

THE PLAYERS.

Herman Yablokoff, Bella Mysell, Menashe Skulnik, Liza Silbert, Lee Schechtman, Goldie Eisman, Gertrude Stein, Marlotte Bieler, and many others.

BY CECIL SMITH.

Since I had never seen a Yiddish musical comedy before, I am the last man on earth to try to present "Goldele dem Bekers" to you in its proper perspective. The capacity audience at last night's opening in the Studebaker theater understood both its language and its stage idiom, and I am delighted to report that they responded to the performance with hilarity and enthusiasm.

To one who seldom understood what was going on, except when the dialog would break tantalizingly into a bit of English, only to revert to Yiddish just as the point was being reached, "Goldele dem Bekers" inevitably seemed rather slow moving. The plot centers around a Hawaiian baker who makes doughnuts and strings them into leis, and his little crippled daughter whose deformed leg is ultimately made normal.

Most of the musical duties are entrusted to Herman Yablokoff, who employs an intensely emotionalized style of singing, and Bella Mysell, a most attractive young woman with a rather brittle and shrill soprano voice. As they sang Ilia Trilling's simple score, both singly and together, they were recalled for encore after encore. Leo Schechtman and Goldie Eisman present some bright dances in the popular Broadway vein.

For the most part the settings and costumes are unpretentious. The first glimpse of Hawaii is quite something, however, with palms and a waterfall, and the small chorus of girls dressed in grass skirts and leis. This mise-en-scène may be taken as typical of the unabashed, old fashioned sentimentality of "Goldele dem Bekers" as a whole.

My favorite song, sung by Menashe Skulnik, begins "Ich bin der big cheese von Honolulu." My favorite joke is also Mr. Skulnik's, to the effect that he calls his wife Tonsilitis because she is a pain in the neck.

Numerology By Evelyn Holmes

May 13, 1941.

Universal day—Not a particularly good day to choose for doing any important project unless you have everything perfect.

Birth years—Those born in the years 1883, 1892, 1901, 1919, and 1928 have the number two as their guiding number for the years after 55 or around that age. This means that in this latter period they will find happiness in little services that they can render their fellow men, and that home life and their association will mean much to them. They can retire to a slowly paced life and should plan to have a hobby of collecting something, for this is the number of accumulation of small things. Those doing research work could gather together the data they have worked on during their youth and prime and assemble and tabulate it for the use of others. Those born in 1910 have 11 for their closing number, and so they may have publicity or turn to inspirational philosophies in their closing days. A strong religious urge may be felt and be a source of great enlightenment.

Appeal for Recruits Is Made by Frontier Nursing Service

BY JUDITH CASS.

CHICAGO friends of the Frontier Nursing service have received letters from the director, Mrs. Mary Breckinridge, asking for help to replace the British nurses who have returned for war duty in the British Isles. There have been both American and British nurse midwives working in the hills of Kentucky, and to meet the emergency caused by the return home of the British the Frontier Graduate School of Midwifery has been set up. Formerly American nurses went to England to get this training. American "nurses on horseback" are being prepared at the new school for all American outpost frontier areas from the Caribbean to Alaska.

Mrs John A. Carpenter, Mrs. Charles W. Dempster, Mrs. Edgard C. Franco-Ferreira, Mrs. Charles S. Frost, Mrs. Donald R. McLennan, and Mrs. Frederic W. Upham are the Chicagoans on the national board of trustees of the service.

La Rabida Sanitarium to Share Horse Show Receipts.

For the last two years the Infant Welfare society has received all the proceeds of the South Shore Country club horse show, but this year it will receive only half as La Rabida Jackson Park sanitarium is joining with the Kenwood Social Service club in sponsoring the show. June 21 and 22 are the dates and the beautiful lake shore ring of the South Shore club will be the setting.

Plans for this summer's show were disclosed yesterday at a luncheon given by the general chairman, James C. Thompson, at the Electric club. There will be 37 classes with prizes amounting to $2,500. In order to have time for more classes exhibitions have been eliminated. Fred Herendeen will be the announcer, as usual. Dr. Edgar W. Powell of Bryn Mawr, Pa., and Robert E. Moreland of Lexington, Ky., will be the judges.

Mrs. John Harwood, Mrs. Eugene K. Lydon, Mrs. Ross Warren, and Mrs. Herendeen represent the Kenwood club on the horse show committee and Mrs. Clifford Roe, Mrs. William J. Welch, Mrs. Wilbur M. McArthur, and Mrs. William J. Frazier are the La Rabida officers on the committee. These eight women and Marvin K. Brown and Franklin B. Evans were Mrs. Thompson's luncheon guests yesterday.

Junior League Holding Art Exhibit Next Week.

Mrs. Roger D. Shaw, Mrs. Edward Byron Smith, Mrs. Robert A. Carr, Mrs. Marshall G. Sampsell, Mrs. Roger Q. White, Mrs. W. Sanger Hinchman, Mrs. George Willis, Mrs. Daniel Leonard, Mrs. Louis Watermulder and Mrs. G. Amsden Gooch are some of those who have entered a "Surrealistic Hats" contest to be held in connection with the Chicago Junior league's annual art exhibit next Tuesday at the Arts club. Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed and Mrs. Thomas Tyler are the enterprising women who will judge the results. Mrs. John I. Shaw and Mrs. Stephen H. Harrington Jr., who are in charge of this part of the exhibit, are doing eight miniature hats for the show.

Other judges are to be Mrs. John L. Cochran and Walter Frazier, who will award ribbons to meritorius "tables for two"; Miss Katherine Kuh, Frederick A. Sweet, assistant curator at the Art institute, and Mrs. Goodspeed, who will judge the fine arts, and Mrs. Ernest P. Waud and Miss Cornelia Conger, who will decide the fate of the miniature rooms.

Invitations to the exhibit were received this week, bearing the glad tidings that, again, "gentlemen are admitted free."

Frenchwoman to Tell of Her War Experiences.

Mrs. Denise N. Davey, a Frenchwoman who is conected with the Free French Relief committee in New York will speak at a meeting of France Forever at 8:15 o'clock tomorrow night in the hall on the 8th floor of the Fine Arts building. She will tell of her experiences after the occupation of France when she spent several weeks

Mink Coat Draws All Eyes at Fur Show

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

This luxurious full length mink coat with puffed bell sleeves, worn by Pat Brown, was one of the loveliest of the 216 fall styled fur garments shown last night at the annual fur show sponsored by the Associated Fur Industries of Chicago in the Palmer House.

Looking at Hollywood by John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., May 12.—Bill Boyd, who's working in "Secret of the Wastelands," sets up a new long term screen characterization record. It's the seventh anniversary of his becoming Hopalong Cassidy. Before him, Tom Mix played Hopalong for six years. The new picture is the 37th in Pop Sherman's series. . . . Another character, Henry Aldrich, goes on—but with a new Henry. Jackie Cooper outgrew the rôle, so Jimmy Lydon has it. . . . Mickey Rooney has been Andy Hardy for three years, shows no signs of outgrowing him. . . . Gene Autry has been playing a character named Gene Autry for seven years, and is the only actor who always uses his own name in pictures. First time he'll have another name is when Republic makes a historical film of the Lewis and Clark expedition. . . . Ann Sothern still clings to her successful Maisie character—but Boyd's the champ. Incidentally, his film debut, 22 years ago, was in "Why Change Your Wife?"

Hold your hats! Here's a girl who, after waiting four years for a film break and finally getting it, has decided she doesn't care to be an actress after all. She's Dorothy Harris, very pretty, who is contentedly back at her stenographic job at 20th-Century-Fox after having made her film debut in Sonja Henie's "Sun Valley."

Dorothy came here from Kansas City, where she had been a night club entertainer. After a long, vain hunt for a screen job, she got herself a stenographic position at Mr. Zanuck's little place. She figured she'd be on the inside and could crash the screen more easily. But she never did until a short time ago. Then the studio, faced with a shortage of chorus girls because everybody in town is making musicals like mad, made Dorothy one of a sextet supporting Miss Henie in a dance number. The job lasted two weeks—and Dorothy was glad to get back to her typewriter. "The four years I spent waiting for a movie career weren't wasted at all," she says. "It took this little flyer before the cameras to make me realize I'd been doing the work I wanted to do all along. I wouldn't trade it—and the regular income that goes with it—for the heartache and economic insecurity of trying to carve a screen career. . . . Sure, I'll act again if the studio drafts me—but I won't give up my other job."

Speaking of jobs, a good paying one is getting killed or hurt. Take a movie battle such as the world war number in "Sergeant York." Extra players are paid regular wages, plus adjustments for hazardous stunts. Most of these adjustment checks are for "death" and "wound" falls, and are carefully assigned to trained stunt men.

Don Turner let himself be projected off a springboard so he could sail thru the air in a cloud of smoke and land kersplash in a water filled shell hole. When he didn't crawl out under his own power, a couple of his buddies went in and fished him out, cold as a mackerel and just as wet. Don got $85 for this.

Sol Gross did a death dive off a sandbagged parapet and rolled down on an 85 foot precipice. He lost most of his uniform en route, but kept all his arms and legs. Price, $65.

Slim Talbot, who is Gary Cooper's double as well as his stand-in, dived into a shell hole, landing a split second ahead of half a ton of cork, lampblack and mud which he knew was coming. When they pulled him out from under he looked like a blackface comedian—but he was $420 richer. . . . One of the highest paid stunt men is Yakima Canutt, veteran rodeo champ, whose leaps from horses and spills with stage coaches are in demand for almost any western. Yakima gets around $500 per spill.

John Farrell, Maureen O'Sullivan's husband, is here on brief leave from the British navy's submarine patrol—and he's eager to swim in the Pacific ocean just to be in some water that hasn't got any enemy prowlers in it. . . . The Clark Gables have left on their ranch hunting expedition to Oregon. . . . Dorothy Lamour will vacation in Hawaii late this month—but first she'll go to New York to do some shopping. . . . Paramount is searching for "the world's largest elephant" for "King and Queen of the Jungle."

Capes in High Favor at Fur Fashion Show

BY JUANITA DALY.

The answer to every woman's dream of a flattering fur coat was among the 216 beautiful garments modeled at the Palmer House last night by the same number of poised mannequins. Mink, sable, Persian lamb, beaver, caracul and fox followed one after another in breathless regularity, each defying the next to be more beautiful.

More than 2,600 designers, manufacturers and dealers from 41 states, Canada and Mexico crowded into the two ballrooms to see the 1941 fall version of fur styles, sponsored by the Associated Fur Industries of Chicago. In its 11th year, it is the only show of its kind in the country.

If the number of coats in one style indicates a favorite, these leading designers predict that fur capes or the combination coat and cape will be high fashion next winter. Almost as many capes as coats were shown. Fur trimmed hats will continue to complement the coats, and muffs and bags will carry the furs to the fingertips. Sleeves are full and coats have a generous lap, so they seem to wrap around almost like the capes.

A dramatic mink showpiece, full length coat wih double bell puffed sleeves announced as La Reine, opened the show. Three other sleek mink models, one a cape with a military air, followed in quick succession.

One black Persian had a red wool lining which appeared again in the trim on the buttons and on the high handkerchief pockets. Many of the coats had small standup collars or none at all. Another fitted Persian with a raglan sleeve had a tight fur trimmed cuff inside to keep out the cold winds.

A natural Manchurian ermine sable was trimmed in front with a kolinsky weskit. For a novelty effect, several coats had suede belts at the waistline sewn into the coat itself. One was a sable blended northern back muskrat in the princess junior model. Four luxurious models in beaver boasted big sleeves, small roll collars.

A sport raccoon coat, just right for college was frimmed with a soft blue wool along the lapels, with a fur and wool combination for the trick hat and huge muff. Natural blue ocelot and an Alaska seal pelerine were complemented with a dark green cloth trim. Opening a Somali leopard revealed a gay plaid lining.

Three gorgeous models for evening included an opera wrap in mink, a Hudson sable coatee and a promenade in natural blue fox.

St. Mary of Woods Alumnae Are Giving Dance on Saturday

St. Mary-of-the-Woods college in Indiana will mark the passing of its centennial year with a supper-dance Saturday night at the Lake Shore club. Since September the school has been celebrating its foundation as a mission academy in 1840. From log cabin beginnings, a campus with marble halls set among beautiful lawns and lagoons has arisen.

Mrs. John Wheeler.

Mrs. John Wheeler is among the members of the classes of the last 50 years that are working toward the success of the dance. Tableaux showing the evolution of evening attire from 1891 will be a feature of the entertainment.

More than 700 graduates in the Chicago area belong to the college alumnae club.

His Lordship and Danny.

That man in a neat blue suit and gray fedora hat with whom Lord Halifax conversed for several minutes in the vestibule of St. James church at 10:45 Sunday morning was Danny Ryan, who sweeps out and scrubs the British War Relief headquarters at 30 North Michigan avenue. It was an appointment.

Danny got up at 4 o'clock Saturday morning to get the headquarters in the pink of condition for the arrival of Lord and Lady Halifax at 10. Shortly before 10, he asked Mrs. John Alden Carpenter, head of the women's division, if everything looked all right. Assured it did, he said he guessed he would go home and go to bed.

"O, stay and meet Lord Halifax, Danny," Mrs. Carpenter urged.

Danny stayed, but there were some hundreds of persons in the offices when the ambassador from Great Britain and his lady arrived and Mrs. Carpenter could not find Danny, altho her eyes searched the crowd for him while Lord Halifax made an informal address to the workers, standing on a sewing table, his feet among the spools and thimbles. That night at dinner Mrs. Carpenter told the British envoy there had been just one disappointment during the day. Then she told him about Danny. "Could you find him tomorrow?" asked Lord Halifax. Mrs. Carpenter thought she could, and the meeting was planned. Mrs. Carpenter's car brought Danny to the church. The janitor told his lordship that his father had been a British soldier, but that he had come to America when he was a lad.

"I play cricket, sir," he said suddenly. "I've got on my cricket sweater now," he added. And he opened his coat to show the striped sweater beneath.

First Chicago Playing Given of Irish Work

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Two Irish composers, one of whom died only last February, the other 104 years ago, joined hands [figuratively] in Kimball hall last night when the Illinois Symphonic ensemble, Leo Kopp conducting, gave a first Chicago performance of Sir Hamilton Harty's "A John Field Suite."

This is a transcription for small orchestra of four of Field's piano compositions. It was interesting to hear so much Field at once, for altho this composer has a secure position in the text books [because of his influence on Chopin and the whole romantic school] his works are virtually never performed in public. He was as a candle to Chopin's sun, and the greater luminary has long since put out the lesser.

Sir Hamilton's suite includes, of course, a Field nocturne, and the relation of its style to Chopin's was to be plainly seen. Genuinely surprising, however, were the suite's Polka and Rondo, which have a gay, tinkly, genially decadent quality far more suggestive of Offenbach than of any of the early romantics.

Another first Chicago performance last night was Benjamin Britten's Sinfonietta for Chamber Orchestra, a work which is a little too uninhibited, too violent, and too aggressively youthful to be pleasing or even intelligible on first acquaintance.

Still another work never before performed in Chicago [at least in downtown Chicago] was the "Apollon Musagète" music of Stravinsky. The product of a period when the composer was reacting against his own glittering and overloaded early style, this music is modest in color and clean of line. It has a very attractive antique glow about it.

Only one familiar work was presented—Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik."

Mr. Kopp and his group jumped expertly from one style to another and seemed almost equally at home in the Britten as in the Harty.

Hard Case

By Luke Short

(Copyright: 1941: By Luke Short.)

SYNOPSIS.

Carol McFee, whose father is about to lose his ranch to Tate Wallace, because of a forged deed, writes Dave Coyle, notorious outlaw, asking for help. Wallace is bringing Sholto to the trial to testify that McFee signed the deed. Will Usher, Dave's enemy, proposes to Dave that they kidnap Sholto and make Wallace pay a ransom. Dave agrees, thinking it will help McFee's case but after he kidnaps Sholto, he finds that Usher has double-crossed him and wants the ransom for himself as well as the reward that is offered for Dave's capture. Dave escapes but finds McFee has been arrested for kidnaping and possible murder. Dave discovers that Wallace has blackmailed Sholto because of a murder he knows Sholto committed and is holding Mrs. Sholto as hostage. He sets Mrs. Sholto free, taking her to the McFee ranch for safety. Then he aids McFee in breaking jail. Wallace refuses to pay ransom for Sholto, knowing if he is killed McFee will hang for his murder and there will be no trial. McFee and Dave start out to rescue Sholto from Usher, in order to clear McFee. Dave writes Carol a letter teling her of their plan but the letter disappears when the sheriff and party search the McFee ranch.

INSTALMENT XXVI.

DARING FEAT.

When, in half an hour or so, it became light enough to track, Dave set out after them, heading toward the mountains. In an hour he picked up a road. As the day grew brighter, he looked around him uneasily. He was heading into a narrow canyon whose sides were steep, and he knew this road.

It led into a dead end box canyon in a deep fold of the mountain where the Southern Belle mine was situated.

He pulled up and looked ahead, puzzled. There was no turn-off on this road, so Will would have to be at the Southern Belle. It was a small mine, with a reduction mill and shack on the valley floor. The mine itself was behind the reduction mill far up on an almost vertical slope. The ore was sent to the reduction mill below in buckets on a cable.

But the Southern Belle was supposed to be working now! Yet it couldn't be, if Will Usher was hidden out there. He had picked a perfect spot to hide, where nobody except the mine crew went. And the valley was so narrow, its sides so steep, that nobody could get in without being seen.

So this was where Sholto was, Dave thought bitterly. He might as well have been locked in a safe. It might have been possible to try the road at night, but in the daytime it was impossible. One lookout could keep an army from coming in.

Dave looked at the road again, and made certain that the tracks of McFee's horse led into the canyon. Then he dismounted and looked about him. The rough shoulders of the mountains reared up on either side of the road, bleak and forbidding. The mine lay two miles up the road, as he remembered it.

For a long moment he stood there looking at it, baffled. And then, his mind made up as to what he had to do, he turned to his horse and went thru the old ritual. He loosened the cinch, shipped the bit, tied up the stirrups, and then, before he drove the horse off, untied the lariat and looped it over his shoulder.

Afterward, he left the road and started toward the mountains. In half-boots, it was cruel punishment to climb these rocks, but he set about it grimly, making his slow way up the face of the mountain. Soon, the morning sun started to beat down on the rocks and the steep slope was an inferno. Sweat soaked his shirt and rolled off his face, and still he climbed, pausing only when he was gagging for breath. His main worry now was that McFee, seeing how hopeless it was for any one to follow him, would quit on him and fail to play out his bluff. Time was slipping by, and each minute made it harder for McFee to string out his story. Dave thought of Will Usher's gunnies, tough, hard, and skeptical. If they doubted McFee, they would beat him up on suspicion.

Dave climbed for another hour and knew he was to the south of the deep canyon. He started working north now, still climbing, and presently, to his left he saw the land fall away abruptly. This was the canyon and he could see the opposite wall close now. He knew that a few hundred yards ahead and upward, he would come to the head of the canyon.

When he did, he was in the treacherous shale, and he paused. Behind him, the country lay flat as a table, baking in the sun. He got his breath, and then looked above him. There, far above the strip of shale in the living rock, the bucket cable was anchored. Dave achieved it, and then looked down. He could see nothing, except a section of the valley floor far below just being touched by the late morning sun. A giant iron cleat was anchored in the rock, and the single rope of cable ran thru it and down to the lip of the canyon, where a thick iron roller protected it from the sawing edge of the rock. Gingerly, clinging to the cable, Dave inched his way down to the lip and looked over. He drew back almost at once, a sick feeling in the pit of his stomach.

Ahead of him, and far, far below, lay the reduction mill, its roof looking smaller than a postage stamp from this height. He could pick out several things that looked like ants lining one section of the canyon wall. These were the horses, he supposed. And still smaller spots crossing between the two buildings, probably were the men.

The cable itself swooped sickeningly toward the canyon floor, looking frailer than a spider web. At regular intervals the ore buckets, connected by a smaller cable, hung immobile by pulleys on the big cable, showing the mine was not at work.

And to get to the canyon floor, hundreds of feet below, he must go down that cable. The thought of it chilled him. And then he thought of McFee, and thinking of him and hating him, he thought of Carol. If he could get Sholto back, McFee would go free, and Carol would be happy. At least he would have made up for the blunders he had already committed. Sudden decision took hold of him, and he cast about for some way to get down. He couldn't ride the buckets, for they weren't working, or climb down hand over hand, for it was too far.

And then he thought of his lariat. The cable, of course, would eat into it if he slid down on it, but if he tripled the rope, wouldn't it be possible to reach the first bucket, change the rope to a fresh hold, slide to the second bucket, and so on?

He didn't know, but he did know one thing. If the cable bit thru the rope too fast, he had a drop that would break every bone in his body. They could bury him in a frying pan.

Thoughtfully he looked at his lariat, shook his head, then set about making three equal lengths of it. He twisted this about one of the cables, grabbed it with both hands, then taking a deep breath, he swung off into space. The cable gave a little with his weight, started to sway, and then he picked up speed with the sickening force of gravity. He was swooping down on the ore bucket with the speed of lightning, it seemed. It was only a matter of seconds, and he slammed into the ore bucket, breaking the force of the blow with his feet. He put a foot over the side of the heavy bucket, pulled himself inside and rested, his hands shaking. Then he looked at the rope. The slide had eaten almost thru the three strands, and he shuddered a little when he saw the frayed ends. Three thicknesses wouldn't do. He'd have to take six.

He looked about him. He was hanging out in space right at the shaft mouth. It seemed solid and safe in there, but the feeling was unfounded. He had to go down now. There was no other way out. This time, with six thicknesses of rope, he swung out again. And again, he shot down the cable with dizzy speed. He hit the second bucket with the force of a pile driver, knocking the wind out of him. But he crawled inside and again got his breath. He was more than half way down. There was one more bucket, and then the yawning mouth of the ore hopper atop the mill. The cable ran on down to be anchored in the canyon floor in front of the mill.

Buildings were closer now, but he was still far above them. Nobody was in sight, and again, after laying six thicknesses of rope across the cable, he swung out.

When he achieved the third bucket, he looked at his rope and saw that it was used up. The trip from this bucket to the roof would have to be made hand over hand, without the rope.

He left the rope in the bucket, gripped the cable, and began to lower himself down it. It took an eternity, but finally he was on the lip of the big ore hopper. He rested there, listening. One of the horses below had seen him, and now he eyed him with faint interest.

Dave swung down from the hopper to the roof, and crouching by it, eyed the shack across the canyon floor. It seemed empty, and yet he couldn't be sure. He waited a full 10 minutes, and saw nothing, and concluded that Will was in the building beneath him.

Dave tip-toed up to the edge of the roof and peered over. Two men were standing about 30 feet from the door, their backs to him, talking. Dave reached up for the cable over his head, crawled hand over hand down it, and then dropped the six feet to the men. He landed astride the shoulders of both men, knocking them to the ground. One man yelled as he fell. Dave whipped out his gun and brought it down on the man's head with a savage force. The other man had been knocked out by the fall. Dave picked up one of their rifles and ran the 30 feet to the door.

Superb Acting and Direction in French Film

"DAYBREAK."
(Le Jour Se Leve.)

A Sigma Production.
Directed by Marcel Carne.
Presented at the World Playhouse.
THE CAST.

Jean Gabin ..... François
Jules Berry ..... Valentin
Arletty ..... Clara
Jacqueline Laurent ..... Françoise

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

If you want to behold something in the way of sheer artistry, DON'T let "Daybreak" fade away unseen!

It's one of those marvelous blends of realism and impressionism which we have grown to think of as typically French and was made some two years ago while France was still free and her studios operating. They're deserted now, their shutters flapping in the hot winds of war. . . . And Jean Gabin, premier French cinema actor and star of this movie has moved to Hollywood and is under contract to Twentieth Century-Fox. Foxy of Fox—because M. Gabin is a truly great actor. . . .

The subject matter of "Daybreak" is morbid, but the manner of its presentation completely engrossing. . . . You sit in on the grim contemplations [shown in flashback] of a man who has just committed murder, during the hours he waits, trapped in his room, for the police to break in. . . . His thoughts, with occasional flashbacks to the thinker—[double flashback effect]—reveal what has happened to bring a nice, everyday sort of chap to his present predicament.

"I never thought it would end like this," François says.

A nightmare come alive.

The principal characters are two men—one good, one bad; two women—one young, lovely, and weak; one older but also lovely and weak—and very lonely. Tragic figures, three of them—victims of the fourth's utter rottenness.

You have never contemplated better acting nor direction. Jacquelin Laurent has a wistful appeal that fairly wrenches at your heart. . . . The photography is on the dark side and vaguely depressing. But the simplicity of it all! . . . Life in the raw—but LIFE. . . .

I had the great pleasure of meeting Producer Paul Graetz—after seeing the movie. An interesting man—and a very sad one. As who shall wonder!

ITEM: Don't stay away from "Daybreak" because you're afraid—the manager says many are—that your price of admission goes to France. It doesn't. It goes where most box office money goes—to keep the theater running.

See you soon.

Voters League Hears Plea for Deferment of College Students

Bloomington, Ill., May 12 [Special].—A plea that local draft boards defer college students until they have taken their degrees was made here today by Dr. Malcolm Love, dean of the school of administration, Illinois Wesleyan university. He spoke on "Education and Defense" at a luncheon opening the 20th annual convention of the Illinois League of Women Voters.

Dr. Love urged that students deferred should not be merely those in fields connected directly with national defense. Any student who can benefit from a liberal education should be deferred, Dr. Love maintained, at least so long as the country remains at peace.

Dr. Love cited the recommendation of various associations of educators that students be deferred until the end of the academic year.

More than 200 delegates attended the luncheon and the department conferences following, preparatory to presenting their proposed programs of work for next year at this evening's session.

Mrs. Florence Fifer Bohrer of Bloomington was nominated without opposition to succeed Mrs. George G. Bogert of Chicago as president.

Eight Butterfly Motifs

BY NANCY CABOT.

Those whose favorite motifs are butterflies will be happy to plan a luncheon set, embroider pillow cases, or decorate pockets of summer dresses with these attractive designs. Eight motifs are included in the hot iron transfer pattern, four measuring 7½ by 8 inches and two each 4 by 5 inches and 6 to 8½ inches, respectively. White, ecru, and colors are effective mediums for this type of fancy work.

For the hot iron transfer pattern of the eight butterflies, No. 685, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

State Federation of Women's Clubs Opens Convention

More than 1,000 delegates and members of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs assembled yesterday in the Hotel Sherman for their 46th annual convention which will continue thru Thursday. Mrs. William T. Bruckner, state president, and Mrs. Edward J. Lehman, state director, presided at the Jennie June Croly luncheon, named for the newspaper woman who founded the first woman's club, the Sorosis, in New York in the 1860s.

The assembly is commemorating the golden jubilee of the general federation. At the general session in the Grand ballroom Mrs. Bruckner introduced two general federation officers who will be among the convention speakers, Mrs. J. L. B. Buck, treasurer, and Mrs. Horace B. Ritchie, recording secretary.

Campaigns are underway for the election Thursday. Among the early candidates for president to succeed Mrs. Bruckner are Mrs. O. A. James of Salem and Mrs. Preston L. Wetaw of Eldorado. Mrs. George A. Harriman, state press secretary, predicted a close race.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., May 12.—William McKechnie, astute manager of the world champion Cincinnati Reds, refused today to take a warning from yesterday's 9 to 1 Cubs' victory and sent forth Monte Pearson for his National league debut in the Cincinnati - Chicago final. Bill wanted to save his ace, Bucky Walters, for tomorrow's game with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Well, a lot of things happened to Pearson, his successor, Jim Turner, and the Reds in general as the Cubs romped to a 12 to 1 victory for Bill Lee's second lopsided success in six days.

Bill Nicholson.

The Reds Are Jittery.

It may have been the presence of most of the Dodgers in the stands that frightened the champions, but whatever the cause, they were terrible at the outset. Take the first three innings, for instance. In that span the Cubs made nine runs, drew nine bases on balls, socked four hits, and profited by four chargeable Red errors besides several omissions that were so panicky they couldn't be tabulated.

Lee, even as in Philadelphia last Wednesday when he beat the Phillies, 11 to 2, did not become careless in the richness of the early run tabulation in his behalf. The Reds made only six hits, all singles. Two came in the first inning. Two, with a walk, produced the Reds' lone run in the third. The others were a scratch in the fifth and a solid one with one out in the ninth.

Today's conquest gave the Cubs a record of four victories in their last five games and enabled them to leave for home tonight with a record of five successes in 11 games on their eastern trip.

Nicholson Drives in 4 Runs.

Tho the Cubs were the beneficiaries of unbelievably bad defensive work by the Reds, they could have won handily if they had been forced to rely entirely upon base hits. Stan Hack walked three times, went out once and wound up with two singles. He scored four runs. Lou Stringer also scored four times, and knocked a triple and a double. Dom Dallessandro drove in two runs with a single, walked with the bases full to drive in another run, and scored two himself.

Hank Leiber drew a blank in the cleanup rôle on six tries, but Bill Nicholson, whom Hank ousted from the cleanup spot yesterday, made two singles and drove in four runs to lift his total to 23, more than any other National league hitter has batted home.

Lou Novikoff, who made two hits

When Cleaning Time Is Here.

The annual cleaning time is here
And nothing is in place;
The house becomes so cold and strange
Of HOME there is no trace.

The rugs are up—the curtains down—
And pictures are askew—
No longer do the rosy lamps
Reflect a warming hue.

And there are countless jobs to do
That waited for a year;
Somehow they all get finished up
When cleaning time is here.

So after several days or weeks,
Then once again we'll see
The rooms all straightened out again;
The HOME that used to be.

And when that joyful time arrives,
Then there's a bit of fun
In watching folk across the street
Who've only just begun.
—Hilda Butler Farr.

America Only!

O, bands will play and crowds will cheer
As our sons march off to war,
But only the strange, cold voice of death
Will call from that foreign shore.

O, bands will play and flags will fly
As proud England's gold we save,
But only a simple wooden cross
Will mark a soldier's grave.

O, bands will play and stocks will rise
As enemy plans we foil,
But if fight we must and die we must
Dig our graves on American soil!

WHITE SOX OPEN EASTERN DRIVE TODAY IN BOSTON

Rigney and Dietrich to Start in 2 Game Series.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., May 12.—The White Sox, who thus far have done right well in the wide open American league race, will start operating tomorrow against the first of five eastern opponents. For a starter on their first long 1941 venture they'll have two days of contention with the Red Sox, after which the schedule will lead them thru New York, Washington, Philadelphia, and Detroit, before returning to Comiskey park.

Just what is going to happen, good or bad, to the White Sox between now and next October is anybody's guess. But one thing seems fairly definite—the Sox are not going to be pushed around. Even tho their hitting is below normal they are well ahead of last year's pace which was so slow they spent almost the first half of the season fighting their way out of eighth place.

Dykes Maps Pitching Plans.

Manager Jimmy Dykes has his pitching plans laid out for the next six days and he modestly admits they appear to be perfect. John Rigney will open tomorrow, his second start of the year. He lost the other to Boston in eleven innings. Bill Dietrich will go to the mound here the next day. Then Dykes will call on his left handers—Thornton Lee and Eddie Smith—to stop the Yankees on Thursday and Friday. Rigney will pitch the final of that series. And, of course the next day will be Sunday so Ted Lyons will open at Washington against the Senators. Charles Wagner will pitch for the Red Sox tomorrow.

The Lyons fellow, incidentally, continues to be the marvel of the mound. At the ripe old baseball age of 40 the Louisiana bachelor should be thinking of drawing up a will, but instead he just keeps on pitching. He's won three of his four 1941 starts, the lone defeat being the sad affair in which the Indians scored three times after two were out in the ninth.

Pitchers Going Strong.

Along with Lyons there have been other contributors to an exceptional display of consistent pitching. The Sox have been involved in 21 games and in 15 of these engagements the starting pitcher was still on the job for the final putout. Lyons' four complete jobs have been equalled by Lefty Lee. Dietrich has three full time efforts to his credit. Smith has two, Jack Hallett one, and Rigney one.

SECREET BEATS JESSE ACKERMAN IN MARIGOLD RING

Sammy Secreet, New Castle, Pa., welterweight, won a decision over Jesse Ackerman of Des Moines, Ia., in the final of three eight round bouts in Marigold Gardens last night. Secreet outboxed Ackerman, but the Iowan crowded him all the way.

Bob Berry, Cleveland middleweight, gained a split decision over Henry Schaft of Minneapolis in the semi-windup, while George Toy, 1939 Cleveland sectional Golden Gloves lightweight champion, beat Eu Eulien of Chicago in the first of the three eight round battles. Toy was making his professional debut.

Jack Whittinghill of Bloomington, Ill., won a decision over Johnny Crane, Morgan Park middleweight, in a four rounder, and Johnny Balmer, Peoria, boxed Johnny Williams of Danville to a draw in the four round curtain raiser. They are welterweights.

The card attracted a near capacity crowd of 1,540, which paid a gross gate of $1,834.

Harry Bobo Wins Decision Over Dorazio in 10 Rounds

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 12 (AP).—Harry Bobo, Pittsburgh Negro, defeated Gus Dorazio, Philadelphia heavyweight, in a 10 round bout tonight in which he lost three rounds for low hitting and his opponent one for the same reason.

EIGHT THIRTY'S HOME ON THE DOT IN BELMONT RACE

New York, May 12 (AP).—George D. Widener's Eight Thirty, one of the best horses of 1940, began his 5 year old campaigning with a victory in the ancient Toboggan handicap, and Mrs. Payne Whitney's Spanish Moss, a neat looking stretch running filly, took the Fashion stakes for young ladies, as Belmont Park opened its spring meeting today.

Since both were public choices, their victories also sat very well with the 15,887 present. The most important development was the showing of Eight Thirty. This aptly named son of Pilate and Dinner Time finished out of the money only once last year and won four of eight starts to earn $81,450.

He showed why in his first 1941 outing today. His stablemate, Dr. Whinny, took the lead at the half mile and was still in front at the head of the stretch, as Harry Richards held Pilate's handsome son off the pace, back in third place.

But, as Dr. Whinny and Mrs. T. Christopher's Doubt Not battled heads apart, along came Eight Thirty on the inside to go ahead at the eighth pole and run off by himself, finishing the six furlongs in 1:11 1/5. His stable mate was second and Doubt Not third.

In collecting the $6,950 winner's end of the Fashion stakes, under Eddie Arcaro's fine ride, Spanish Moss let the field do all the early running.

Come Early! Bring One Club!

Golf School Facts

EVENT—The Chicago Tribune's ninth annual free golf school.

TIME—7 o'clock tonight [all pupils are urged to appear at 6:45 p. m., if possible].

PLACE—Four Chicago park district courses—Marquette, Columbus, Jackson, and Diversey-in-Lincoln.

FIRST LESSON—The grip, with preliminary introduction to the stance.

REQUIREMENTS—Bring a golf club and be prompt.

TEACHERS—Members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' Association of America.

WEATHER—Partly cloudy, with rising temperatures.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The ninth annual free golf school conducted by THE TRIBUNE, oldest and largest system of group instruction in the history of the game, will open tonight on the four courses of the Chicago park district. Members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' Association of America, the national organization's pioneers in mass education, have volunteered their services again. They will be on hand for the duration of the school to teach all golf minded citizens, regardless of sex, age, or ability, the fundamentals of the game in four free lessons.

This first lesson tonight, in keeping with the foundation of the school's curriculum on simplicity, will be devoted to the grip, first phase of the fairway alphabet, with a preliminary introduction to the address and stance.

The same lesson will be given simultaneously on all four courses, each beginning promptly at 7 o'clock. Each class will last approximately one hour. The Illinois P. G. A. members in the last few years have conducted open forums for their pupils, answering questions on the swing and the etiquet of the game.

Second Lesson Thursday.

The second lesson will be given at the same hour on Thursday night of this week, the third lesson Tuesday night, May 20, and the fourth and final instruction of the regular series will be delivered on Thursday night, May 22.

All of the men who are donating their teaching talents for the ninth consecutive year yesterday indicated in the course of their first 1941 pro-amateur tournament at Shoreacres that they will be on hand early for the lessons. And you don't have to bring them a big red apple to gain admittance to the free lessons. Just appear as promptly as possible [by 6:45 p. m., if you can] at the park district course most convenient to your home or work.

Perhaps, after last year's rain ridden school, we shouldn't bring this up, but if there is any possibility of inclement weather interfering with the first lesson it will be given tomorrow night. The weather man last night predicted rising temperatures but cloudy skies for this evening. Keep tuned to W-G-N for postponement announcements if the weather appears threatening.

It's Easy to Qualify.

That's how easy it is to enroll in THE TRIBUNE school, in which more than 257,000 lessons have been given in the last eight years. It doesn't matter whether you are a novice who never has swung a club before or whether you've been playing the game for years. Entrance examinations are the rule at the average university and college. Not so with THE TRIBUNE school. Promptness, one golf club, and continued attention and attendance qualify you for it.

The four park courses all are easily accessible by rapid transit, bus and surface lines, so that you'll have no trouble in reaching them, even tho you may not own an automobile. Their locations:

JACKSON PARK—63d street and Stony Island avenue.

COLUMBUS PARK—Jackson boulevard and Central avenue [5600 West].

MARQUETTE PARK—Marquette road [6700 South] and Kedzie avenue].

DIVERSEY—In Lincoln park, at Lake Michigan and the foot of Diversey boulevard.

Guides Classes from Platform.

Each lesson will be directed by a head teacher who will guide the classes from a specially built platform equipped with loud speakers. While he is initiating his pupils into the methods of the grip, his associate professors will circulate thru the classes, gving individual instruction.

The four head teachers for the duration of the school are Matt Matteson of Ridge, who will be at Jackson park; Harry Kinnell of Edgewood Valley, at Marquette park; Bill Gordon of Tam O'Shanter, who will change places with Lew Waldron this year, Bill going to Columbus park, while Lew moves to the Diversey classroom.

RED SOX'S FIVE RUNS IN FIRST BEAT YANKS, 8-4

Grove Beats Gomez for 295th Victory.

Boston, Mass., May 12 (AP).—The Boston Red Sox took a tighter hold on second place in the American league today by conquering the New York Yankees, 8 to 4, to give Bob Grove the 295th victory of his major league career.

It was the fourth straight triumph for the Red Sox and moved them to 2½ games behind the idle Cleveland Indians.

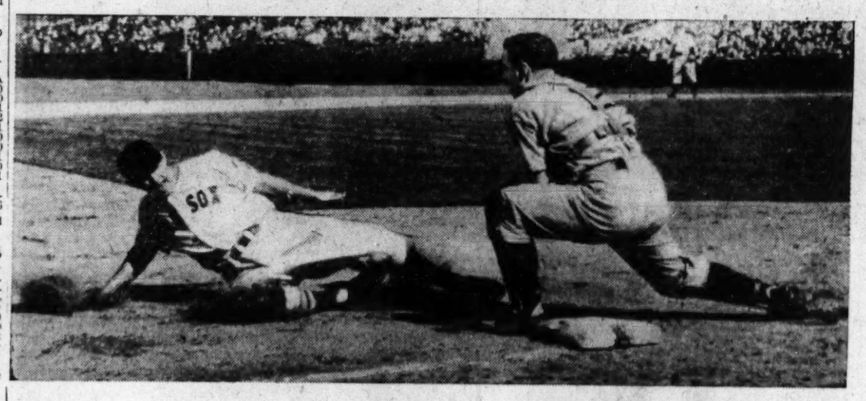
It Happens Once in a Lifetime



Did you ever see a batter sacrifice into a double play in which the catcher made the second out at third base? Here's one. In the fifth inning of the Yankee game in Boston yesterday, with Jim Tabor on first, John Peacock laid down a sacrifice bunt. It was fielded by Red Rolfe, Yankee third baseman, who threw him out. Tabor, reaching second, saw third uncovered and kept on going. Catcher Buddy Rosar beat him in a race for the base, took First Baseman Joe Gordon's throw and tagged Tabor out to complete the double play. [Associated Press Wirephoto.]

REPORT COAST CIRCUIT TO DROP IDAHO, MONTANA

San Francisco, Cal., May 12 (AP).—Bubbling beneath the surface of the Pacific Coast conference today were reports that Idaho and Montana will be dropped from the big athletic league in 1942—the year the two universities are scheduled to assume status as full fledged members.

Official circles declined to confirm such a step was brewing, yet there were no heated denials. The question will come up for vote at the June 9-10 meeting in Seattle, reports were.

Budget retrenchments, due to the possibility of diminished football receipts and conditions visualized as the outcome of war troubles, were said to be the underlying cause. Idaho and Montana are considered poor drawing cards.

Warneke and Cardinals Beat Pirates, 6-2

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 12 (AP).—Lon Warneke pitched seven-hit ball today as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 2, to sweep the two game series. Only Vince DiMaggio gave Warneke trouble as he moved on to his fourth triumph of the season. Vince hit a homer in the fifth inning to score a runner and later singled.

The Cards kept pecking away at Ken Heintzelman for 13 hits, scoring runs singly in the second, fourth, fifth, and six innings. After Heintzelman had been removed for a pinch hitter they collected their final runs in the seventh off another southpaw, Dick Lanahan. It was the Pirates' fourth straight loss. Score:

Marty Peters Promoted to St. Benedict's Head Coach

Atchison, Kas., May 12 (AP).—Marty Peters was named head football and basketball coach at St. Benedict's college today. Peters, former Notre Dame grid star, was assistant coach under Don Elser, who resigned recently.

CUBS ROUT REDS, 12-1; 4TH VICTORY IN LAST 5 GAMES

Lee Yields Six Singles; Pearson Knocked Out.

after being restored to action yesterday, added three more today.

Hack, first up, walked and scored on Stringer's triple to right center. Stringer held third while Eddie Joost was throwing out Dallessandro, also while Leiber was reaching first on Werber's fumble. Lou got home, however, while Lonnie Frey was throwing out Nicholson. The inning ended when Bill Werber threw out Novikoff.

Novikoff Sends Two Home.

The second inning really blew Pearson out of the arena. After McCullough had filed out, Myers walked, stole second and went on to third when Lombardi threw the ball into center. Lee sent a high fly almost straight up and when Lombardi misjudged it, Lee was credited with a single. Hack's pass loaded the bases and when Stringer walked, Myers scored. When the former Yankee pitcher threw three straight wide ones to Dallessandro, Turner came in, pitched a strike, then walked Dom, forcing Lee across the plate.

Leiber filed to Mike McCormick, Hack scoring and when Mike threw the ball thru the infield, Stringer took third and Dallessandro second. Nicholson was given an intentional pass, again loading the bases, whereupon Novikoff made the only real hit of the inning, a single to center, Stringer and Dallessandro scoring. McCullough, up the second time, walked, loading the bases. But Myers whiffed.

Hack Draws Third Walk.

One single was all the hitting required in the production of two more runs in the third inning. Hack got his third pass with one down, after which Stringer tapped to Turner, who threw into center field in an attempt to launch a double play. Hack walked, loading the bases, then Leiber fanned. But Nicholson singled to center, scoring Hack and Stringer, after which Novikoff flied to Harry Craft.

There was a lull from the third until one was out in the seventh. Then Hack started things anew with a single. Stringer doubled, whereupon Dallessandro singled to center, scoring Hack and Stringer. Leiber tapped to Turner but Nicholson again came thru by singling to center, scoring Dallessandro. Novikoff singled and McCullough walked, but for the second time Myers falled with the bases loaded, this time stranding 'em with a fly to Ripple.

Olsen Faces Braves Today on North Side

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., May 12.—The Cubs will be hosts to the Boston Braves in Wrigley field tomorrow and Wednesday. Vern Olsen, who went to Chicago last night with Claude Passeau, yesterday's victor, will pitch for the Cubs, seeking his second victory of the year.

The Cubs will reach the Union station at 7:40 o'clock tomorrow morning, a bit early for a civic demonstration, it is feared by General Manager J. T. Gallagher, Manager James Wilson, and Trainer Andrew Lotshaw.

Wisconsin Crushes Bradley Tech Nine, 13-2

DRAFT BEER in ½-Gallons

Brewed Without Added Sugars or Syrups

...the old, slow way which gives old-time, all-grain flavor

YES, folks, our draft beer is the same as it was 50 years ago, when the host carried it home in a bucket to serve at parties instead of in MEISTER BRÄU ½-GALLONS they use now.

We've always made an all-grain brew—never added sugars or syrups, although we could easily enough; never taken short cuts in brewing. Putting in the most modern storage equipment and the like—sure; but change our methods, never! Real beer lovers vote for true old-time flavor, so we'll stick to the old way.

See for yourself—compare flavors by the "50-Degrees" Test, the test beer experts use to get the real truth. Too much cold disguises honest flavor—buries it. But 50 degrees' temperature brings it out—good or bad. You can judge quality like an expert—get full benefit of delicate tastes you miss if the beer is too cold.

So get some MEISTER BRÄU and do the "50-Degrees" Test today. Ask your retailer. For parties ask for some MEISTER BRÄU ½-GALLONS—draft beer put up the modern way. He has MEISTER BRÄU in all other sizes of bottles, too. Phone him now.

RAND GRANTED MAY 28 FOR ZALE, HOSTAK BATTLE

Request to Have Dempsey as Referee Rejected.

Chairman Sheldon Clark and Commissioners Harry Scranton and Maj. Gen. Roy D. Keehn of the Illinois athletic board yesterday granted Promoter Bill Rand May 28 on which to offer a 15 round middleweight championship bout between Tony Zale and Challenger Al Hostak in Chicago Stadium. Rand's request to have Jack Dempsey or some other nonresident referee the match was rejected by the chairman. Clark reminded the promoter nonresident referees are not eligible to officiate in this state.

The commission refused an application by George Ades for a manager's license. Ades, representative of Quentin [Babe] Breese, will get a rehearing at the next meeting of the board May 26 at the instance of Promoter Rand. The latter hopes to have Breese appear on the Stadium program against Lenny Mancini, but the eastern lightweight will have to reduce his financial demands if he wants the contest.

Pete Reilly, manager of Solly Krieger, former middleweight champion, was in Chicago yesterday to close negotiations for a 10 round contest on the Zale-Hostak card between Krieger and Booker Beckwith, Gary light heavyweight. Reilly is asking $1,500 or 15 per cent of the net receipts for the assignment.

Tickets for the show went on sale yesterday.

Tony Petroskey, Muskegon, Mich., 143 pound slugger, yesterday was signed to meet Harvey Dubs of Windsor, Ont., in an eight round event in Marigold Gardens next Monday. Additional matches of eight rounds will bring together Emil Camp, west side light heavyweight, and Johnny Trotter, and Ernie Derho, Minneapolis welterweight, and Tito Taylor. Derho and Taylor first clash in a six round encounter in Minneapolis tomorrow. Trotter also appears on the program in a 10 rounder against Solly Stark. Four round bouts in Monday's show will involve George De Gido and Andy Canal, junior lightweights, and Tony Sopko and Bobby Berger, welterweights.

Barney Ross, the old lightweight and welterweight title holder, yesterday passed a medical examination by Dr. Frank Lagorio, chief physician for the state athletic commission, to retain his refereeing license. This requirement recently was adopted by the commission in the belief some Illinois officials may be physically unfit for further service in the ring.

EIGHT TO DEFEND BIG 10 TITLES IN MEET SATURDAY

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Eight of the 14 individual champions in the 1940 Western conference track meet will defend their titles at the University of Minnesota Saturday afternoon. It follows, then, that because of this and the excellent marks made this spring by such newcomers as Bob Wright of Ohio State, it now should be possible to write a fairly accurate list of the 1941 champions. To this list, Michigan probably may be appended as the winner of the one mile relay since the Wolverines consistently have had better time for the event than any other conference university.

The shot put, broad jump, javelin throw and possibly the 220 yard low hurdle race are the events which are most difficult to predict. In the low hurdles, the excellence of the field makes the choice uncertain, altho Wright must be given first place over Indiana's Roy Cochran and Purdue's Dave Rankin, whom he defeated a week ago.

Harris Below 1940 Par.

In the other events listed above, the mediocrity of the talent is a handicap for prognosticators. Normally Archie Harris of Indiana would be the shot put choice because he won this competition last year with a mark of 51 feet 5½ inches. He hasn't beaten 50 feet this year, however, and he lost the indoor Big Ten title to George Paskvan of Wisconsin, whose winning mark was only 49 feet 8 inches. Wally Hook of Michigan won the shot put in the dual meet Saturday with Ohio State with a toss of 49 feet 9¼ inches.

The field in the javelin is far below conference average despite the fact that that average is uncommonly indifferent for major competition. Gerald Elders of Illinois, who was second last year with a toss of 189 feet 9¼ inches, would be the championship choice except that he has been beaten repeatedly this spring. Larry Stout and Don Kienlen, team mates of Elders, have better 1941 marks. Perry Kimerer of Michigan won the javelin throw in the meet with Ohio State at 179 feet 3 inches.

Don Olsen Doubtful Starter.

The low hurdles race would be the feature of the meet if Illinois' Don Olsen were in top condition. Olsen defeated Wright for the 70 yard low hurdle title in the Big Ten meet last March. Olsen pulled a muscle in the Drake relays and altho he is working out again, his entry in the race this week is not assured.

Myron Piker of Northwestern, by his excellent exhibition last Saturday, is favored to win the 100 yard dash. He also may add the 220 yard title. He finished second in this event last year. George Franck of Minnesota and Ralph Hammond of Ohio State, who were third and fourth, respectively, return to dispute Piker's supremacy. Michigan's Al Thomas and Al Piel are other contenders.

Roy Cochran is the choice in the quarter mile if Warren Breidenbach of Michigan does not defend his title. Bob Ufer, Michigan sophomore, is a possibility in the quarter altho beaten by Cochran indoors. If Breidenbach concentrates on the half mile he is our choice to whip Campbell Kane of Indiana. Kane should successfully defend his mile championship and his time of 4:11.8 Sunday in the Cotton carnival in Memphis, Tenn., indicates he will be ready.

Fred Wilt of Indiana won the indoor two mile championship but he will be hard pressed by Ed Holderman of Purdue. Since Holderman is the defending champion and his mark last spring of 9:17.1 is better than Wilt's best, Holderman deserves support. Don Canham of Michigan is an outstanding choice to retain the high jump championship and Bill Williams of Wisconsin is expected to repeat in the pole vault.

Tribune's Free Golf School Opens Tonight

will be Alex Pendleton, the Gary attorney who has attempted a new approach to the game—that of the mental side. Pendleton will address the students briefly tonight at Diversey, Thursday at Columbus, May 20 at Marquette, and May 22 at Jackson.

Cunningham, Walsh to Assist.

Alex Cunningham of North Shore, president of the Illinois section, and Tom Walsh of Westgate Valley, national P. G. A. president and one of the founders of the school nine years ago, also will assist at the lessons.

Following the conclusion of the regular lessons, during which a number of tournament stars will give ball-hitting demonstrations, the professionals at each course will name the two students in each class—men's, women's, boys' and girls'—who have made the most progress in the four lessons. These, all to be chosen on the night of May 22, will assemble on Sunday afternoon on one of the four courses to be announced later. The best swinging foursome will be awarded prizes, including golf bags, clubs and balls.

P. Waner Wastes Train Fare; Reds Fail to Sign Him

BATTLE TONIGHT FOR 2D PLACE IN BOWLING LEAGUE

Possession of second place in Stevenson's Major bowling league may be determined tonight when the circuit shoots a double series, leaving only three games to be rolled at the windup next week. The Joseph L. Gills, with a seven game margin and with weak opposition scheduled for tonight, have virtually clinched the championship, while the Budweisers and Walter C. Edens are tied for the runnerup spot.

The Mineralites are leading the five man division in the state tournament at Windy City recreation on a 3,045 total, but the next three places are occupied by teams from outside of Chicago. Frank Farnan and Lloyd Strouse are in front in the doubles with 1,291, largely on Strouse's 736; George Bauer tops the singles division with 699, and Pat Pago of Maywood leads the all-events with 1,911. . . . De Witt Cregier has been elected president of the Tam o' Shanter Country blub bowling league, the nation's largest mixed circuit.

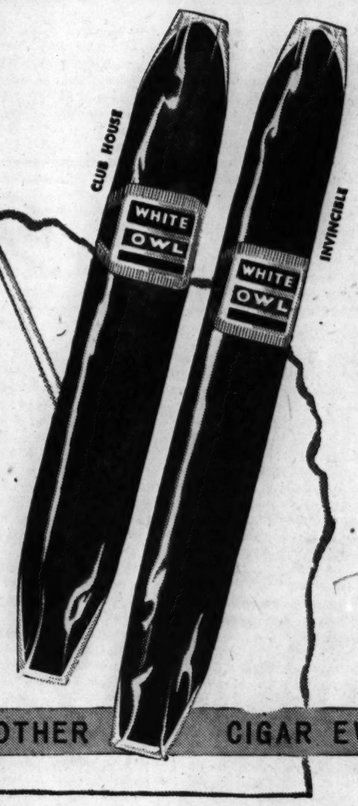
Things have changed a lot since 1929...

—and so have WHITE OWLS



This is an era of improvement for many products . . . in this fast-changing world, standards that were "good enough" just a few years back look pretty sad today.

Take cigars, for instance. Some brands brag about being the same as they were years ago . . . but not White Owls! No sir—White Owls, like today's automobiles, fashions and movies, have undergone considerable change in the past decade . . . changes for the better.

Taking advantage of lower tariffs on Havana tobacco . . . of manufacturing improvements, White Owls have been steadily improved. Notice that we don't claim White Owl is a "10¢ cigar for 5¢." True, it once cost much more—but the important thing is that today you can buy a Blended-with-Havana White Owl for 5¢. We think you'll agree that it's today's top smoking value.

5¢ EACH — Choice of two popular shapes

MORE MEN HAVE ENJOYED WHITE OWLS THAN ANY OTHER CIGAR EVER MADE IN THE UNITED STATES

WAR MINSTREL, AN OLD NAG, WINS AT SPORTSMAN'S

Conqueror of Seabiscuit Beats Favorites.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

War Minstrel, the horse which beat Seabiscuit at Arlington Park in 1938, still has some speed left in his aging legs. He went to the post yesterday in a seven furlong dash at Sportsman's Park, but few took him very seriously. Now seven years old, he hadn't been able to win since 1939.

Accordingly he was overlooked in the betting, getting to the post at better than 8 to 1 while the crowd was backing the popular Talked About into position of 6 to 5 favorite. Three Bangs was second choice at 5 to 2.

But old War Minstrel had one more fling. Jockey Don Scurlock rushed him into the lead out of the gate and he withstood repeated challenges thereafter, getting home a length and a half in advance of Three Bangs while Talked About was finishing third. War Minstrel's backers received $19, $7.20 and $3.80.

Bettors Solve Puzzle.

Horses which never before had won a race were shuffled up and tossed into the third and fourth events. They furnished an odd assortment for study by the bettors. There was a 5 year old named Keen Jest which never before had been to the post, and there was another first starter, 3 year old Sharpshell. There were some horses with a little racing experience and others with a great deal. Some had been beaten in moderately good company and others had been beaten in pretty bad company. In fact that was the only thing they had in common—all had been beaten every time they went into a race. Some had rather aristocratic blood lines, but long ago they had forced their breeders to give up hope that they'd amount to anything.

At almost any other track in the country, the form players would have despaired. But the Sportsman's Park fans just took one or two deep breaths and went to work with their traditional genius. They decided that Voluble, Pyrexin, and Bolinvar were the three horses in the third race and backed them accordingly, making Voluble the 8 to 5 favorite, Pyrexin the 5 to 2 second choice, and Bolinvar the 7 to 2 third choice.

There Are Some Mishaps.

Sure enough, these were the three which paid off at the end of the 6½ furlong dash. Voluble was the winner, returning $5.20, $3.80, and $3.

The crowd was almost as good in the other race. For the second choice, Chatterab, beat the favorite, Blue Tints. Chatterab had a four length margin over her rival at the finish.

The fans had the second and third horses transposed in their handicapping.

The afternoon was marked by a succession of accidents on the turns. The most serious occured in the fifth race when Wawfield spilled his rider, R. J. Jones, going into the far turn. Jones incurred a head cut which required several stitches.

Two More Go Down.

Herb Litzenberger was pitched off his mount, Carrying Time, on the clubhouse turn during a jam in the first race. He rolled over as horses plunged by, but he escaped serious injury.

In the fourth event, Frank Fox, was thrown from Comeandgetit as they started the swing into the far turn, but he, too, came out of it with only bruises and a shaking up.

Shore Acres First Tourney Ends in Tie

Harry Adams of Medinah and Charley Blasgen of Westgate Valley yesterday collaborated with their partners, L. B. Robbins and George W. Blossom, to tie for first place in the first golf tournament ever conducted at Lake Bluff's exclusive Shore Acres club. Twenty-nine members of the Illinois section of the PGA joined up with Shore Acres members for the event.

Blasgen, assistant to Tom Walsh, national PGA president, and Blossom, vice president of the United States Golf association, put together a 31 and 36 for their 67, which was matched by Adams and Robbins with similar nine hole scores.

Four Tied for Third.

Tied for third place was a quartet of 68s, including Dick Dickerson of Millford Farm and P. F. W. Peck; Steve Grady of Evanston, and John Coleman; John Harley of La Grange, and S. J. Walker; and John Reuter Jr., unattached, and Mason Phelps. All but the Reuter-Phelps twosome, which had a pair of 34s, scored a front nine of 33 and back nine of 35.

Adams had an 18 of 72, while Dick Metz of Oak Park scored 74 on his own ball. Tom Carney of Northmoor, making a comeback this year after a number of seasons' absence due to an automobile injury, climaxed his round by holing a No. 7 iron for an eagle three on the 546 yard 18th.

Plan Benefit Sunday.

Chairman Eddie Gayer said the Illinois PGA is planning one of its best tournaments of the season for next Sunday, when the pros will join with club members at Mohawk in a benefit tourney for Terry McGovern, former Deerpath professional, who has been ill for nearly a year. All proceeds of the tournament will be turned over to McGovern. Members of the newly formed women's auxiliary of the PGA will be present at hostesses. Scores:

ROADS' FREIGHT OUTLAY RAISED TO 756 MILLION

Build Cars to Meet Arms Demands.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Plans for building 270,000 freight cars costing approximately 756 million dollars for delivery during 1942 and 1943 to take care of arms program and emergency shipments were announced yesterday after a meeting of the Association of American Railroads at the Blackstone hotel.

Executives of 74 railroads attended the meeting, which was called to coordinate the railroads' part in the preparedness program. John J. Pelley, president of the association, presided. Ralph Budd, transportation commissioner of the national defense commission, outlined the agency's position with respect to transportation.

The association in a prepared statement said that when the peak load of rail traffic arrives in October, the railroads will have 1,617,000 serviceable freight cars, or 156,000 more than they had when they handled record breaking freight volume late in 1939.

Rises 55 Per Cent to Peak.

In October of that year the roads in one week handled 856,000 carloads —55 per cent more traffic than was moving in May, 1939, and the largest increase ever recorded in such a short period.

"In the summer of 1940 it was apparent that the supply of cars would be ample to meet the peak loads of the fall as in fact it proved to be," the association said. "Again, looking ahead, the association on July 16, 1940, recommended to its members that they should provide 100,000 new cars by the end of 1941. This program is being carried out as recommended."

When the October peak comes the railroads will have placed 168,000 new and 27,000 rebuilt cars in service since the start of 1941. They will also have in service approximately 1,000 new locomotives, 375 steam, and 625 electric and Diesel-electric locomotives.

Within Nation's Capacity.

The new program provides for the building of 120,000 cars during 1942 and 150,000 during 1943. It is estimated that the nation's car building capacity approximates 60,000 annually in the railroads' own shops and 150,000 in the shops of the car builders. The car builders are reported to be in excellent position to handle the new demands.

At least during 1942, it was explained, the cars to be built will be largely on repeat orders, with little new engineering or changes in specifications involved.

Budd assured the group that the administration considers transportation—in all its forms—as vital a part of the nation's requirements as battleships or other fighting equipment. Consequently, he said, everything possible will be done to see that the transportation system is maintained in good condition. If priorities are ordered he indicated that the orders of the car builders will be given prime consideration.

Federal Judge John P. Barnes yesterday authorized Charles M. Thomson, trustee, to purchase for the Chicago and North Western railway 1,000 all-steel box cars to cost $3,100,000.

Grain Market Head Attacks Price Fixing

The most promising solution to the farm problem is not price fixing but the adoption of a certificate plan or processing tax, Philip R. O'Brien, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, said yesterday. He spoke at the annual meeting of the Illinois Grain Dealers' association in the La Salle hotel.

Philip R. O'Brien.

The farmer is an individualist, O'Brien said. He is the first to turn away from such futile policies as price fixing.

"Farmers do not want price fixing," he declared. "They are not asking for price fixing. They are not asking for special privilege. I know quite definitely that it is distasteful to the American farmer figuratively to stand before congress each session with his hat in his outstretched hand.

Hits Price Maladjustment.

O'Brien said that for a large part of the last decade there has not been a proper adjustment between the prices for which the farmer sells and the prices he must pay for his necessities.

"Clearly, agriculture simply cannot continue to pay the artificial or protected prices and wages of other groups unless given some method of raising its prices and keeping them moving up and down with the relative price oscillations in products of other industries," he said.

"Any one with eyes can see that the problem is not an easy one. But right here and now, I wish to say that of the current suggestions advanced, by far the most promising is one by which the consumer would pay the farmer his cost of production, or parity, for the domestic consumption, thru the adoption of a so-called certificate plan or processing tax.

Called Way to Avoid Surplus.

"A certificate plan, if adopted, would, in my opinion, accomplish and establish a permanent agricultural program which would mean parity income on that quantity of produce raised for domestic consumption. In normal times surpluses should be sold on the world markets. This would keep surplus stocks down to normal and do away with the danger to our whole economic structure. The law of supply and demand would be permitted to assert itself and the easy flow of trade would be assured."

Morgan Stanley & Co. Loses in Columbia Gas Loan Case

Washington, D. C., May 12 (AP).—The securities commission ruled today that Morgan Stanley & Co. cannot have preference over other bankers in handling the forthcoming $120,000,000 financing of the Columbia Gas and Electric corporation. The firm had asked the commission to give it exception from a new SEC rule which requires that the bankers for utility securities issues should be determined by competitive bidding.

SECOND 20 PER CENT SLASH IN 1942 AUTO OUTPUT CONSIDERED

Washington, D. C., May 12 (AP).—Federal armament officials said today that there was "a distinct possibility" of a second 20 per cent cut in 1942 model motor car production, but added that the proposal was "in the pure speculation stage."

Such a curtailment, if made necessary by military demands for material and plant facilities, would bring production down to slightly more than 3,100,000 units, compared with this year's output of 5,289,972 motor cars.

Automobile manufacturers have already agreed to a request by the Office of Production Management to cut production to 4,224,252 units for the model year beginning in August.

A. OF C. APPROVES 10 AMENDMENTS TO SLUMS BILL

The Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday announced its approval of ten of the amendments to the neighborhood redevelopment corporation bill pending in the state legislature, but termed seven others "contrary to the main purpose of the bill."

"We believe that amendments 1 to 10, which embody changes agreed upon by both the Chicago Plan commission and the Chicago Building congress, give added value to the bill and would go far in solving the blighted area problem," Leverett S. Lyon, chief executive officer of the association, said.

"On the other hand amendments 11 to 17 create limitations in the proposed law which threaten fatality to the success of any rebuilding project in a blighted area that might be undertaken as private enterprise."

FORECASTS ALL ALUMINUM WILL GO INTO ARMING

Washington, D. C., May 12 (AP).—An official of the Office of Production Management estimated today that by some time in 1942 the entire aluminum supply of the nation would be devoted to aircraft and direct military needs. William L. Batt, deputy director of the production division, made the forecast in testimony before the senate committee investigating the armament program.

Expressing the opinion that "we have been shooting at too small a target," Batt said that the annual supply of aluminum was expected to reach 1,400,000,000 pounds, most of which would go into the expanding aircraft industry.

Drop Injunction Banning R. J. Reynolds Dividends

New York, May 12 [Special].—Vice Chancellor Charles M. Egan of Jersey City today dismissed a temporary injunction which had restrained the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company and its officers from declaring dividends under a 1912 stock bonus plan. Both the defendants and the petitioners, two New York stockholders, agreed to await final adjudication of the complaint. No date was set.

MOVE TO BOOST PRICE PEGGING LOANS ON CROPS

Groups in Congress Agree on Plan.

Washington, D. C., May 12 (AP).—Legislation to require mandatory price pegging loans on major farm crops at 85 per cent of parity and to impose heavy penalties for marketing "abnormal production" was approved today by a senate-house committee.

The group, appointed to reconcile divergent house and senate views, estimated the program would assure farmers coöperating with this year's crop control measures a return of $1.15 a bushel for wheat, 87 cents a bushel for corn, and 16 cents a pound for cotton. [These figures are averages and include government benefit payments.]

The proposed loan rates would be: cotton, 13.49 cents; corn, 69.87 cents; wheat, 96.22 cents, flue-cured tobacco, wheat, 96.22 cents, flue cured tobacco, co, 8.41 cents, and burley, 15.53 cents.

Present Rates Increased.

Senator John H. Bankhead [D., Ala.] said that present loans on cotton were about 9 cents, or 56 per cent of parity; on corn, 60 cents, or more than 70 per cent of parity, and on wheat, 60 cents, or about 56 per cent. [Parity prices are designed to give farmers the same purchasing power, in terms of other commodities, they had from 1909 to 1914.]

The senate previously had proposed 85 per cent parity loans and acreage reductions and sought an indefinite time limit on the program. The house had approved 75 per cent loans and stiff increases in penalties, and proposed to limit the life of the bill to 1941 crops. The compromise retained the senate loan figure and the house penalty provisions and time limit.

The agriculture department had indicated favor for loans at 75 per cent of parity. Officials there said that boosting the rate to 85 per cent probably would result in a 10 to 20 per cent increase in retail prices of pork and dairy products because of higher feed costs.

GRAIN FUTURES TUMBLE

Wheat futures declined nearly 3 cents a bushel yesterday on Washington news that the department of agriculture would seek to prevent federal crop loans at 85 per cent of parity, and would move to curb speculative activities in commodities. The announcement of an agreement on 85 per cent loans, reached by senate and house committees, was not made until several hours after the market's close.

Wheat opened about 1 cent below Saturday's final levels, and closed with losses of 1½ to 2¾ cents a bushel. Corn was down ¾ to 1⅛ cents, oats ¼ to ⅝ cent, and rye 1½ cents. Soy beans rallied after a break of 3½ cents, but closed 1¾ to 2½ cents lower. Lard was 17½ to 20 cents lower per 100 pounds.

Pennsylvania Lubricating Oil Prices Are Increased

New York, May 12 (AP).—Advances of ½ to 1 cent a gallon in prices of Pennsylvania lubricating oils as a result of heavy demand were announced today.

Harvester President

Fowler McCormick, grandson of the founder, elected president of the International Harvester company.

New President for Harvester Founder's Kin

Following in the footsteps of his father and grandfather, Fowler McCormick, 42 years old, yesterday was elected president of the International Harvester company. Directors promoted him to the post once held by his father, Harold F. McCormick, now chairman of the board.

His grandfather, the late Cyrus Hall McCormick, who invented the reaper and founded the agricultural implement enterprise, served in that position for the McCormick Harvesting Machine company, a predecessor of the present company.

Vacancy Is Filled.

The appointment came as the result of a shift in executive positions in filling the vanacy caused by the recent death of Addis E. McKinstry, who had been chairman of the executive committee. Sydney G. McAllister, who has been president, was moved up to the chairmanship of that committee. The board continued Maurice F. Holahan as first vice president.

Fowler McCormick, who was elevated from the second vice presidency, joined the company in 1925 as a student employé in the factory at Milwaukee. He served in the accounting and engineering departments, and then became successively sales blockman at Omaha, branch manager at Grand Island, Neb., sales manager for the northwest district, and assistant domestic sales manager.

Grandson of Rockefeller.

McCormick, who also is a grandson son of the late John D. Rockefeller, became an officer of the company late in 1934, when he was elected vice president in charge of foreign sales. In 1935 he was made second vice president, retaining supervision over foreign sales. In 1938 his activities were transferred from foreign sales to manufacturing and recently he has had charge of all manufacturing operations. He was elected a director in 1936.

McAllister, who has been president since May 1, 1935, began his career with the company in 1897 with the predecessor McCormick Harvesting Machine company.

International Harvester is also a large scale motor truck manufacturer and holds large contracts in connection with the armament program.

50 MILLION LOAN FOR FIRESTONE PUT ON MARKET

Am. Viscose Files Vast Offering.

Public offering today of $50,000,000 of Firestone Tire & Rubber company debentures and registration of more than 1,750,000 shares of stock of the American Viscose corporation, were announced yesterday.

Harriman Ripley & Co., Inc., and Otis & Co., leaders of a group of 78 underwriters and of 600 selling group dealers, will offer the Firestone issue of 3 per cent debentures, due May 1, 1961, at 99 per cent and accrued interest.

Of the proceeds to be received by Firestone, $45,938,000 will be applied to the redemption at 103 about July 1 of all the $44,600,000 principal amount of the company's 10 year 3½ per cent debentures. The remainder will be added to the cash funds.

Firm Formerly British Owned.

The American Viscose corporation, large manufacturer of rayon purchased in March from the British government by 17 investment banking firms, filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange commission covering 228,480 shares of 5 per cent cumulative preferred stock and 1,568,000 shares of common stock.

The statement disclosed for the first time details as to the size, the new capital structure, and the scope of operations of the corporation, which for many years was an American subsidiary of Courtaulds Limited, a British company.

The corporation, which has been recapitalized since its purchase, has no funded debt. The purchase from the British treasury for 40 million dollars and other considerations involved 448,000 shares of capital stock which, upon the recapitalization, became 228,480 shares of preferred stock and 1,568,000 shares of common stock which are to be publicly offered. Courtaulds Limited, which retained about 5 per cent of the capital stock, now holds 12,446 shares of preferred and 85,417 shares of common.

Expect Sale May 27.

The offering prices will not be determined until after the registration statement becomes effective. The stock is expected to be marketed about May 27 or 28.

Net profit, including interest received and profits on securities sold, amounted to $7,884,676 for 1940, compared with $4,057,164 for 1939, $1,872,978 [loss] for 1938, $9,974,220 for 1937, and $8,943,977 for 1936.

The registration statement disclosed the total assets of Viscose corporation on March 31 were $121,537,953.

At a special meeting of the stockholders yesterday seven American directors were added to the board, including James M. Barker, Chicago, director of Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Nation Trims Egg Supplies to Feed Britain

Strong competition from federal agencies buying eggs for Great Britain last month left the United States with the smallest May 1 reserve egg supply since 1932, the department of agriculture disclosed yesterday. Storing by commercial interests during April, normally the period for heaviest dealer accumulation of eggs to use during the fall and winter months of lean production, was the lightest for the month on record.

Altho the department did not release its figures until after the markets were closed, Chicago wholesale prices of butter and eggs advanced. Both commodities are selling more than 30 per cent higher than a year ago with 92 score butter bringing 34¾ cents a pound and top grade eggs packed for storage 23¾ cents a dozen.

Highest in Several Years.

This is the highest May butter price since 1930 and the highest May egg price since 1935, dealers reported.

Other factors tending to limit building of large reserves at a time when consumption has been expanding were listed by dealers as:

1. Large demand from egg driers and canners of frozen eggs. [The department of agriculture has said the bulk of its purchases for Great Britain would be in concentrated products.]

2. With the government urging farmers to raise larger flocks of chickens, competition from hatcheries for eggs has reduced marketable supplies considerably.

3. A 15 per cent increase in farm flocks of chickens might result in a record breaking fall and winter production of eggs.

Record Butter Storage.

Storing of butter last month was reported at a record rate. Dealers attributed this to fear that the large buying program of the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation to provision England may mean a shortage of dairy products later.

Cheese reserves on May 1 also were the largest on record. Poultry stocks were larger than last year and the department said they were considerably above average.

AM. TELEPHONE, WESTERN UNION EARNINGS RISE

Anaconda Copper's Net Also Larger.

The American Telephone and Telegraph company, the Western Union Telegraph company, and the Anaconda Copper Mining company yesterday reported gains in net earnings for various periods of this year.

Laurens Hammond reports gain for Hammond Instrument company.

In March, net income of American Telephone and Telegraph amounted to $45,558,161, compared with $44,254,954 in the same month of last year. For the three months ended March 31, the company realized net income of $48,514,332, against $46,076,476 in the corresponding period of 1940.

Dividends Are Included.

The report noted that dividends received from subsidiaries and other companies which make up the major part of the company's income are not accrued in the monthly accounts, but are included usually in March, June, September, and December. The March profit thus represented the major part of first quarter earnings.

Western Union's net income for the March quarter rose to $1,288,552, equal to $1.23 a share, from $210,472, or 20 cents a share, reported in the first 1940 quarter. Revenues for the quarter totaled $25,450,203, representing a gain of $2,070,865, or 8.9 per cent, over the volume in the corresponding 1940 quarter.

For the 12 months ended March 31 the company had net income of $4,699,661, equal to $4.49 a share, against

ACCOUNTANTS' REPORT

The Committee of The Chicago Community Trust:

We have examined the statements as to assets of the several funds created, and held by Trustees, for The Chicago Community Trust as of December 31, 1940, and the statements of income for the year ended that date and, without making a detailed audit of the transactions, have examined or tested accounting records of the various funds and other supporting evidence by methods and to the extent we deemed appropriate.

The amounts of securities and cash at December 31, 1940, were evidenced by certifications of the various Trustees. Interest and dividend income of the various funds, as shown by records of the various Trustees, was tested with published statistics, and all disbursements for charitable purposes approved by the Trustees were found to be in agreement with the recorded proceedings of the Committee.

In accordance with the established practice of the Committee, no consideration has been given to the differences between book values and present market values of real estate and securities owned. The books are kept on a cash receipts and disbursements basis.

In our opinion, subject to the foregoing, the above statements fairly present, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year, the assets and principal of the Trust at December 31, 1940, and the results of its operations for the year ended that date.

CASHING PROFITS FORCES UNEVEN FALL IN STOCKS

Traders Fail to Follow Thru on Saturday's Rise.

New York, May 12 (AP).—Aside from a few oils, utilities and aircrafts, stocks generally declined today when it became evident that there was little inclination to follow thru on Saturday's rally.

Altho selling pressure was urgent, bidding also was timid and, at the close, the Associated Press average of 60 issues was off .2 of a point at 40, a concession of one-half of the week-end upturn. Transfers amounted to 435,320 shares, compared with 397,380 last Friday.

Intensification of the British and German air bombings aroused nervousness in the financial sector, brokers said, and inspired cashing in on last week's recovery.

Rails and Steels Decline.

Norfolk and Western tumbled 4 points to 194, a new year's low, on a small turnover. On the offside fractions to a point or more were United States Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Santa Fe, Great Northern, United States Rubber, Westinghouse, du Pont, Anaconda, American Smelting, and Western Union.

Consolidated Oil edged into new high ground for 1941. Oils were aided by rising prices for crude and gasoline.

Underwriters offered a 20,000 share block of Crucible Steel common over the counter after the close at 38⅛, the closing exchange quotation of the stock was off ⅜ of a point on the day.

CHICAGO LIST EDGES UP.

Advances retained a slight edge on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday in turnover of 15,000 shares. Of the 79 active issues, 33 moved up, 22 declined, and 24 were unchanged. Consolidated Oil was the volume leader with transfer of 2,100 shares, closing at 6¼, up ¼. No dually listed issue traded between 2 and 2:30 o'clock recorded a change from the New York close.

U. S. STEEL SETS PEAK SHIPMENTS IN ARMS UPSURGE

New York, May 12 (AP).—Shipments of finished steel products by subsidiaries of United States Steel corporation, regarded as something of an index of national armament production, are at the highest level ever attained, corporation figures indicated today.

Last month's output was 1,687,674 tons, compared with 1,720,366 tons in March [the largest single month on record] and 907,904 in April, 1940. The previous April peak was 1,617,302, established in 1929.

During the first four months 6,638,945 tons moved out from mills, compared with 3,994,657 in the corresponding 1940 period and 5,976,020 in the first four months of 1929, the previous top production.

Steel mills of the nation will be turning out metal this week at a rate of 99.2 per cent of capacity, a gain of 2.4 points over last week's rate, the American Iron and Steel institute estimated.

U. S. SHIPS TO GET PREFERENTIAL WAR RISK RATES

New York, May 12 (Special).—acting on the government's announcement that United States shipping will again enter the Red Sea area, marine underwriters here have established preferential war risk rates on shipments on United States flag vessels to or from Egypt by way of the Cape of Good Hope.

The new rate, effective today, is $4 per $100 of cargo value, against a rate of $7.50 per $100 for other flag vessels. Shipments to the remainder of the Red Sea area and Gulf of Aden ports by way of the Cape of Good Hope will have a rate of $2 per $100 on United States flag vessels, compared with $5 per $100 on other flag vessels.

GOVERNOR TAKES HAND IN DETROIT TRUCKING STRIKE

Hudson, General Motors Walkouts Near.

Detroit, Mich., May 12 (AP).—Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner intervened today in a building trade teamsters strike which threatens a city-wide tie-up of trucking operations.

The governor entered negotiations following police reports that at least 26 persons were injured in sporadic outbreaks of violence.

Arthur G. Quaesbarth, a striking building supply truck driver, died in a hospital of a fractured skull inflicted, police said, in a fight between non-union drivers and lumber workers.

The teamsters' union [AFL] struck last Wednesday against lumber and building supply dealers in demand for union recognition and wage increases. Nine affiliates of the union have threatened a sympathy strike.

Hudson Strike Due Today.

Meanwhile, mediators attempted to avert a walkout of approximately 5,000 Hudson Motor Car company employés scheduled for 11 a. m. tomorrow by the United Automobile Workers [CIO]. The union is asking a blanket wage increase of 15 cents an hour.

The UAW-CIO said a poll would be conducted tomorrow among its members on strike at three plants of the Ex-Cell-O corporation, holder of $16,000,000 in armament orders, to decide whether to return to work as requested by the nation defense mediation board. Ex-Cell-O workers are asking a 10 cent an hour wage boost.

To Resume G. M. Talks.

A strike in 60 General Motors corporation plants at 7 a. m. Thursday also impends. Negotiations are to be resumed tomorrow between the company and UAW-CIO with the defense board at Washington.

Chrysler corporation announced that 12,000 of the 21,000 workers in its Dodge division were being laid off because of a shortage of materials supplied by the New Haven Foundry company, whose employés are on strike at New Haven, Mich.

Cleveland Plant Struck.

Cleveland, O., May 12 (AP).—Defense armament production at the Cleveland Welding company was interrupted today as a wage dispute shut down the plant and made about 1,100 workers idle. A walkout of AFL machinists, metal polishers and painters followed a breakdown in negotiations for a 10 per cent general wage increase for machinists.

Rubber Tieup Threatened.

Akron, O., May 12 (AP).—Separate management-labor conferences will be held tomorrow at the Akron and Butler, N. J., plants of the American Hard Rubber company in an effort to avert a threatened CIO United Rubber Workers strike, Federal Conciliator Paul Fuller announced today.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 12 (AP).—Carload lots, per brl in 98 pound cotton sacks: Family patents, 10c lower, $6.60; standard patents, 10c lower, $5.10@5.30; shipments, 17,320 brls. Pure bran, $19.50@20.00 per ton. Standard middlings, $20.50@21.00.

GRAHAM-PAIGE.

Does Graham-Paige still manufacture automobiles? I was talking recently with an automobile dealer who said the company has not put out any new models since early last year. I have been offered some of the company's common stock in settlement of a debt and would like to know its present status.—T. K.

Answer: The Graham-Paige Motors corporation, Detroit, withdrew entirely from automobile manufacturing last July. Despite efforts to reduce overhead and effect other economies, the company was unable to compete profitably with the larger automobile makers.

In the last 15 years it has been able to earn a profit only in three years. Even in the boom year 1929 with its sales at a peak, it lost money.

Last month the stockholders approved a management proposal to expand the charter powers to include such activities as the manufacturing of aircraft and marine engine parts, ordnance equipment, and other products.

The management indicated that contracting and subcontracting work on arms orders would be more profitable than making automobiles. Unfilled orders for aircraft connecting rods and other equipment totaled $19,500,000 last March 21.

The shift in the company's operations did not accomplish any improvement in 1940 earnings. However, the first quarter income statement for 1941 showed a sharp reduction in net loss, which was cut to $88,867 from $320,842 in the first 1940 quarter.

A comparison of earnings results in the last five years follows:

	Sales.	Net loss.
1936	$15,634,716	$ 470,145
1937	13,060,226	2,253,485
1938	4,782,448	1,920,186
1939	3,327,040	1,406,628
1940	2,558,736	1,484,149

Preferred stockholders of the company have not received any dividends since 1932. Accumulated unpaid dividends on the stock amounted to $63 a share last April 1. Nothing has been paid on the common since 1926.

The company has outstanding $2,566,000 in funded debt, 4,444 shares of 7 per cent preferred stock of $100 par value, and 3,500,000 shares of $1 par common stock.

INCORPORATION.

I know it is customary for companies to incorporate in only one state. Is it possible for a concern to incorporate in more than one state at the same time?—K. E.

Answer: Yes. The New York Central Railroad company, for example, incorporated in 1914 in New York, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania, and Michigan.

OPM AID REPORTS BIG DEMAND FOR SUBCONTRACTORS

Asks Firms to Seek Share in Armament Work.

"Wanted: Subcontractors!"

That call was issued yesterday by T. S. McEwan, district manager of the defense contract service of the Office of Production Management. He asked manufacturers to investigate all possibilities of how they might share in armament work as subcontractors, as well as recipients of original orders, and listed concrete examples of the present demand for subcontractors.

"A large airplane manufacturer," McEwan said, "wants subcontractors having appropriate machine facilities for handling the following items:

"Fabrication of small parts for airplane wings, mostly milling, drilling, or boring of aluminum castings or forgings, materials to be furnished by prime contractor. We understand approximately 75 different parts will be made. Detail specifications and blue prints are available at this office."

Naval Base Needs Castings.

A naval air base, he said, wants the names of potential subcontractors to make brass, steel and aluminum castings and bushings; aircraft bolts, nuts, washers, screws and rivets. Subcontractors also are needed by a fire arms company in Connecticut, an Indiana manufacturer of 37 mm. gun carriages, and a Pennsylvania machine tools maker.

"There is also a general demand thruout the middle west area for potential subcontractors for automatic screw machine products," he said.

Meanwhile, the war department announced the award of these contracts to Chicago companies:

Edward Kitsinger company, 13,000 muffin pans, $4,452; Yoeman Brothers company, sewage sump pumps, $2,400; Service Tool, Die and Manufacturing company, gages, $1,884; Stewart-Warner corporation, parts for primer assembly, $4,314; Lincoln Manufacturing company, screws, $2,983; Illinois Tool Works, tools, $1,955; Hydraulic Controls, Inc., steering controls and clutch release, $2,343, and Crucible Steel company, tool bits, $4,675.

Other Illinois Orders.

New war department orders to companies in other Illinois cities follow:

International Shoe company, Quincy, 12,504 pairs, $43,013; Elgin National Watch company, Elgin, stop watches, $1,903; Highway Machinery and Supply Co., Inc., Aurora, grader, $6,968; Powers-Thompson Construction company, Joliet, reconstruction of upper approach wall, Marseilles lock, Illinois waterway, Marseilles, Ill., $88,996; Moline Furniture Works, Moline, spare parts chests, $1,943; Bear Manufacturing company, Rock Island, gages and rams, $4,582; Bliss and Laughlin, Inc., Harvey, carbon steel, $1,789.

ADDITIONAL BIG BUICK AIR PLANT CONTRACTS LET

Harlow H. Curtice, president of the Buick division of General Motors corporation, announced in Flint, Mich., yesterday that contracts for more than $1,850,000 have been let covering installation of electrical and plumbing equipment at the Buick aviation engine plant under construction in Melrose Park. This brings to approximately $6,000,000 the total of contracts let for the plant.

Fries-Walters company, Chicago, was awarded an electrical contract totaling more than $760,000, plus $638,800 in prior commitments for electrical equipment, and the M. J. Corboy company, Chicago, was given a $450,000 plumbing award.

Chicago Fence and Equipment company received a contract for installing a fence around the 125 acre tract on which the plant is being built at the northeast corner of North avenue and La Grange road.

STOTT ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF N. Y. EXCHANGE

New York, May 12 (AP).—The New York Stock exchange today elected Robert L. Stott, one time clerk, chairman of its board of governors.

Stott and his ticket of 12 new governors were unopposed. A total of 763 of the 1,375 members cast ballots, making the vote heavier than expected.

Allan H. Crary of Los Angeles, Charles C. Renshaw of Chicago, and James J. Minot Jr. of Boston were elected governors from outside the New York area.

Stott was one of a committee which recently selected Emil Schram, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, as president of the stock exchange to succeed William McChesney Martin.

SUPREME COURT REFUSES REVIEW OF CHICAGO TAX

Washington, D. C., May 12 (AP).—The Supreme court refused today to review a decision upholding Illinois legislation permitting Chicago to assess an annual tax of 37 million dollars for corporate purposes.

This legislation, along with three pension acts, was challenged by William Davies, Inc., on the ground that the state constitution required approval by Chicago voters and that this had not been done.

The corporation, appealing from the Illinois Supreme court, said the 37 millions required a rate of 1.78 per cent applied to the assessed valuation. The corporation objected to a rate in excess of 1.29 per cent.

Illinois Crude Oil Flow Reported Steady in April

Illinois oil wells during April continded to maintain the production rate of 325,000 barrels of crude petroleum daily, the state geological survey reported yesterday.

AM. TELEPHONE, WESTERN UNION EARNINGS RISE

Anaconda Copper Net Profit Larger.

$2,409,068, or $2.30 a share, in the preceding 12 months.

The Anaconda Copper Mining company, one of the world's major producers and fabricators of copper, realized net income of $11,631,722, equal to $1.34 a share, before provisions for depletion of metal mines in the March quarter, according to a preliminary report. The company, with executive offices in New York City and Butte, Mont., had profit on the same basis of $10,517,636, or $1.21 a share, in the corresponding 1940 quarter.

Packard Quarter Net Up.

From headquarters in Detroit, Mich., officials of the Packard Motor Car company announced that the company's net income increased to $274,272, equal to 2 cents a share, in the first three months of this year from $38,409, or less than 1 cent a share, in the corresponding period a year ago.

The report listed a backlog of orders for the manufacture of airplane engines totaling approximately $165,000 as of March 31.

Cherry-Burrell corporation, manufacturer of dairy machinery with main offices in Chicago, reported net income of $363,379, equal to 74 cents a share, for six months ended April 30, compared with $236,244, or 45 cents a share, in the corresponding period a year earlier. The report did not include provision for any federal excess profits tax.

Cost Rise Cuts Car Profit.

Delays in obtaining raw materials for construction of railroad cars, coupled with increased material costs and wage increases, lowered the net income of the Pressed Steel Car company to $138,473, equal to 16 cents a share, in the March quarter from $436,914, or 72 cents a share, in the corresponding 1940 period.

Because of its large backlog and anticipated orders, the company probably will operate at capacity thruout 1941 and 1942, officials at general offices in Pittsburgh, Pa., said. Completion of a third construction line at the McKees Rocks, Pa., plant about July 15 will increase the plant's capacity from 48 to 72 freight cars a day, they reported.

The company has been tooling up for tank production, and hopes to complete the first of these war machines at its Chicago plant some time next month.

The Hammond Instrument company, with headquarters in Chicago, had net income of $335,098 in the fiscal year ended March 31, compared with $208,186 in the preceding fiscal year, Laurens Hammond, president, informed stockholders in his annual report.

Clock Sales Increase.

"Improvement in operating results was due primarily to increased billings," Hammond stated. "The sale of the 'Hammond organ and the 'Novachord' have continued at about the same volume as last year. Clock volume was appreciably higher. In addition we have had the volume due to an additional product, the 'Solovox' [a musical instrument described as an accessory for the piano]."

He also reported that the company had been filling "sizable" government orders for large clocks and musical instruments.

Hess, Hitler Deputy, Lands in Scotland by Parachute from War Plane—"L" Car Dangles Over Street

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Rudolf Hess, deputy to Adolf Hitler and No. 3 Nazi, with wife shortly after winning speed flight test. Hess landed by parachute from German warplane near Glasgow, Scotland, after flying from Germany two days ago. (Story on page 1.)

• Front of Lake street elevated train dangling over intersection of Madison street and Wacker drive after mishap yesterday. The train ran thru bumper and over wooden platform when motorman was unable to stop it. There were no passengers.

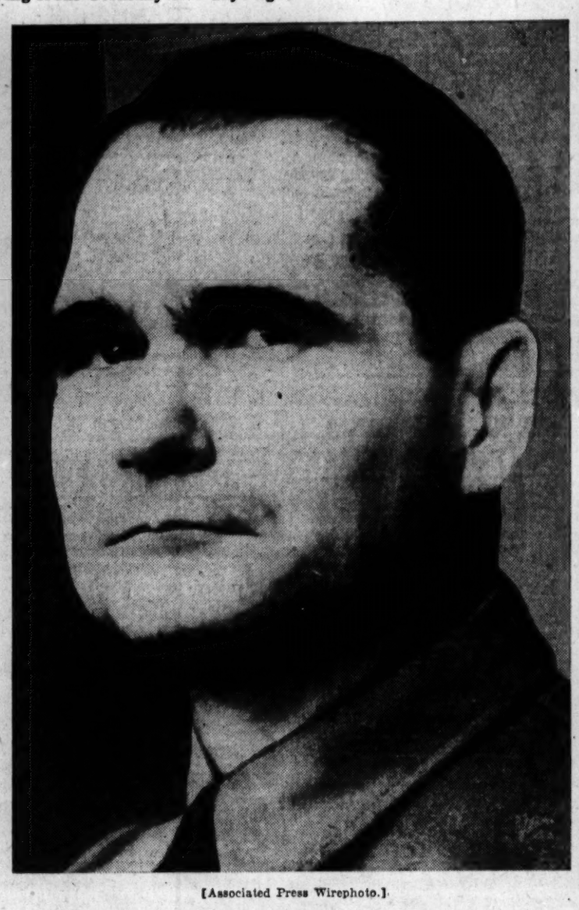
Nazi Leader Hess (right) as he appeared with Reichsfuehrer Hitler in 1939 at a party gathering.



[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Portrait of Rudolf Hess, whose disappearance from Germany was solved by announcement of arrival in Scotland.

At top: Former King Carol of Rumania and his companion, Mme. Elena Lupescu, after arrival in Bermuda. Facing them is Carol's chamberlain, Gen. Ernest Urdareanu. Below, camera studies of Mme. Lupescu, in one of which she is holding her 2 dogs.
